NO PEACE IN SIGHT SAYS LLOYD GEORGE

BRITISH PREMIER IS UNABLE TO SEE AN END OF GREAT WAR

Has Scanned Horizon Intently, Without Beholding Anything That Means
More Than Armed Truce.

WOULD MEAN ANOTHER AND WORSE WAR

London, Oct. 22.—"I have scanned the horizon intently," said Premier Lloyd George today, "and can see no terms in sight which will lead to enduring peace. The only terms now possible would mean an armed truce ending in an even more frightful struggle."

Mr. Lloyd George said Germany would make peace now only on terms which would enable her to benefit by the war. He asserted that would be encouragement to every buccaneering empire in the future to try the experiment.

More than twice as many German submarines were lost in the first ten months of this year as in all of last year, the premier asserted.

The British tonnage lost monthly now is not much more than one-third of the total destroyed last April.

NEW DRIVE IS MADE.

Paris, Oct. 22.—French troops adjoining the British this morning attacked on a front of one kilometer. The war office announces that all objectives were attained.

THE BRITISH REPORT.

London, Oct. 22.—Local attacks were made by the British this morning on both sides of the Ypres-Staden railway, the war office reports.

DESTROYER WAS ALONE IN FIGHT WITH CRUISERS

London, Oct. 22.—The British destroyer, Mary Rose, fought single handed against the German cruisers in the convoy action in the North sea, according to a story ascribed to a British officer rescued off Bergen and transmitted by the Christiania correspondent of the Times. The other destroyer, which should have been present, never appeared and it is thought likely that it was destroyed at the beginning of the action.

After fighting heroically for half an hour, during which she was subjected to the most terrific concentric fire, the Mary Rose sank.

Ten members of the crew were found clinging to buoys and rescued. The correspondent says that the reports of the butchery of the crews of their merchantmen passed description. Two women on one ship waved a piece of white cloth which was perfectly visible. They were silenced by a volley from the German cruiser.

PARADE IS NOT A CLUB WOMAN AFFAIR.

Mrs. H. O. Bruggeman, who is general chairman for arranging the Women's Liberty Bond parade for Tuesday evening, wants it understood that this is a parade for all the women of Fort Wayne. It is not a club woman's affair, but women and girls interested in displaying their loyalty and their interest and sanction of the liberty bond movement are not only requested but urged to gather at the Y. W. C. A. and its vicinity and march at 7:00 o'clock sharp, to Old Fort park, where the bonfire is to be lighted as near half past seven as possible, probably on the minute, as similar bonfires are to be started at that time all over the country. In some way the impression has gotten out that this movement is a women's club movement, but that is a mistake. It is an universal movement and every loyal hearted woman in the city should be on hand.

DEALERS SAY SAVE SUGAR

Otherwise Many Homes in the City May Be Without Any.

PRESENT SUPPLY SAID TO BE SMALL

Some Relief Expected When Beet Sugar is Put on the Market.

Save your sugar or you may be without any.

This is the advice to housewives by Fort Wayne jobbers, who, if they have no already done so, may be compelled to limit the retailers' orders.

The only relief in sight, the jobbers say, is to come when beet sugar is in the market, which will be in two or three weeks. When this product is in the market sugar will be cheaper, for the federal food administrator has fixed the price so that it will cost the jobber $1.10 a hundredweight, less than the present cane sugar, as only kind now in the market.

None of the big jobbers would predict that the present supply would last longer than the middle of next week. The New York sugar market quotes sugar at $3.35 per barrel, at which quotation the market has been firm for some time. This is the price at which all Fort Wayne cane sugar has been bought for some time. Fort Wayne jobbers, buying at this price, pay $3.60 for the product, including the freight, delivered in Indianapolis. This shows that the local jobbers get a profit of from 14 to 25 cents.

By Food Administration. The prices, as fixed by the food administration, to be applicable when the beet sugar is in the market are $7.25 f. o. b. New York, which delivered in Indianapolis means a cost of $7.50 to jobbers. The retailer then, according to the present range, should buy at $7.65 to $7.75. The price can be exceeded the $7.75 mark, because the jobbers' profit is limited to 25 cents, which jobbers say is their usual margin.

The sugar situation, as it affects Fort Wayne is expected by local jobbers not to be unlike that prevailing in all cities east of the Mississippi river. Jobbers are forbidden by the food administration to have more than

INDIANA MINERS RETURN TO WORK SAYS PRESIDENT

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 22.—President Edward Stewart, of mine district No. 11, which includes all of the Terre Haute field, said this morning that all reports he had received indicated that all of the miners who were included in the wage walkout, were back at work. A local condition of interest prevailed today, which was responsible for 1,400 men in the coal field west of Terre Haute being idle. The miners' train was late Saturday and in retaliation, the miners declared that there would be no work Monday. There wasn't 1,400 men in four of the big mines west of this city that did not appear to go out on the trains.

The general walk out, however, seems entirely healed.

It is the rule with the miners that if they are delayed for a period of fifteen minutes or over by belated train service, there is no work next day.

WAR'S FIRST ROLL OF HONOR; DEAD OF TORPEDOED ANTILLES

Washington, Oct. 22.—Sixty-seven lives were lost when the army transport Antilles went down last Wednesday by the torpedo of a German submarine. The official list of casualties, called today by Gen. Pershing, shows sixty-seven lost, totaling survivors, 170, and one unaccounted for. The dead:

MEN IN ARMS 38,000,000

MIGHTY FORCES ENGAGED IN WAR

Central Powers Have About Ten Millions of the Armed Forces.

Washington, Oct. 22.—At least 38,000,000 men are bearing arms in the war—27,600,000 on the side of the world allies and 10,600,000 on the side of the central powers—according to latest war department compilations from published reports in various countries.

These figures do not include naval personnel strength, which would raise the total several million. Against Germany's 7,000,000, Austria's 3,000,000, Turkey's 3,000,000 and Bulgaria's 300,000 are arrayed the following armed forces: Russia, 9,000,000; France, 5,000,000; Great Britain, 5,000,000; Italy, 3,000,000; Japan, 1,400,000; United States, more than 1,000,000; China, 541,000; Rumania, 320,000; Serbia, 200,000; Belgium, 200,000; Greece, 200,000; Portugal, 200,000; Montenegro, 40,000; Siam, 30,000; Cuba, 11,000; and Liberia, 400. JAP STEAMSHIP DOUBTLESS HIT MINE AND SUNK

Tokio, Oct. 22.—The Japanese steamship Hitachi Maru, due at Des Moines bay, Portuguese East Africa, October 1, is missing and is believed to have struck a mine with the loss of all on board. The number of passengers on board is not known but Mr. Onal, London manager of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, owners of the vessel, was among them. The Hitachi Maru is a vessel of 5,556 tons gross, sailed from Yokohama for Liverpool on August 29. She touched at Colombo, Ceylon, on September 24, but since then nothing has been heard from her.

CITY FACES MILK FAMINE

Situation May Reach Serious Proportions, It is Pointed Out.

DAIRYMEN GIVE A PLAUSIBLE REASON

They Say That the Producers Are Selling Off Their Cattle.

Fort Wayne is experiencing a milk famine, which promises to reach serious proportions. Consumers are therefore asked to conserve on milk, as well as coal and sugar.

Consumers who have been in the habit of buying their milk from stores were hit the hardest and Saturday and Sunday when they attempted to buy their milk there was but little to be had. And to add to the seriousness of the situation local dairies are taking on no new customers and those customers they now have are being limited.

The dairymen have a very plausible excuse for the situation. The producers, they claim, are selling off their cattle. They are reducing their cattle

NEW YORK HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS WILL WALK OUT

New York, Oct. 22.—Unless they receive assurances that the lengthened school day will be abolished, ten thousand school students in three New York high schools threaten to strike. A committee of boys and girls from each of the schools arranged for a conference with board of education officials this afternoon on the subject.

Following the students' conference the committee on high schools will listen to the grievances of the teachers who also want the lengthened day abolished.

The students insist that the longer day interferes seriously with their ability to obtain positions or leaves them little time for play and study outside of school hours.

GREAT ARMY OF TWO MILLIONS IN MIGHTY CHARGE

To Reach Five Billion Subscription
Mark Aimed at Three Billions
Remain to Be Secured.

LEGION OF BOY SCOUTS IN THE WORK

Washington, Oct. 22.—Two million men, women and children were working today throughout the nation, the treasury department announced, in a great endeavor to bring the Liberty Loan to a close next Saturday night with $5,000,000,000 in subscriptions.

Probably slightly little more than $2,000,000,000 now has been subscribed, says the treasury department's daily statement.

The men's sales forces alone, it is estimated, totals 600,000 men. The Boy Scouts engaged in a vigorous five-day campaign number 300,000.

At least 100,000 others are women workers. The second million is composed of speakers, clergymen, writers and school children. It is an army of all ages and nationalities. If the activities of each bond soldier result in the sale of two $10 bonds every day of the six remaining days of the campaign, the subscriptions can be run above $4,000,000,000 or $1,000,000,000 higher than the minimum named at the outset of the sale and $1,000,000,000 lower than the maximum quota desired.

TO TAKE COAL CENSUS AT COLUMBIA CITY

Action Taken as the Result of Present Coal Shortage.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Columbia City, Ind., Oct. 22.—Fearing the present coal shortage will soon find this city without ample coal the citizens have formed a plan to take care of the situation as well as possible. The committee in charge of the movement is composed of Arthur S. Nowels, W. W. Williamson and W. F. Rossman. These men will head the work of taking a coal census of the city, finding out the minimum amount of coal each consumer will need, and the amount now on hand. To further the plan the city has been divided into forty-three districts.

A meeting will be held at the Commercial club Tuesday evening to formulate further plans for the taking of the coal census. The committee will commence this work Wednesday morning.

TWO MEETINGS FOR TO-NIGHT

Maurice C. Niezer Will Speak at Lakeside and Rudi-sill Schools.

OTHER SPEAKERS AT BOTH PLACES

Busy Week is Planned by Both the Democrats and Republicans.

Maurice C. Niezer, democratic candidate for mayor, will speak at two meetings scheduled for Monday evening at the Lakeside school, corner of Rivermet avenue and Dearborn street, and at the Rudisill school on Spy Run avenue.

In addition to the mayoralty candidate Judge Carl Yapple, of the superior court, and Harry H. Hilgeman will speak at the Lakeside school and Guy Colerick and Herbert L. Somers at the Rudisill school.

A busy week is planned by both the democrats and republicans. The democrats have arranged for the following

What Has America Done to Prepare For War?

Uncle Harry Tells of the Great Progress Made in

KAISER BURBLES JOY AT SUCCESS OF SEVENTH LOAN

Amsterdam, Oct. 22.—Emperor William has sent to Count von Roeder, the German finance minister, a telegram of congratulations on the seventh war loan. It says:

"I am pleased to hear of the success of the world the whole German people stands in the fourth year of the war at the side of its heroic men in the field and behind the imperial government and the army command ready for sacrifice and blood and tears."

AMERICAN TRANSPORT SUNK WITH LOSS OF SEVENTY LIVES.

Uncle Harry Reviews Our Country's War Preparations

Uncle Harry and the other members of the club were sitting before the fire in the living room gazing at the burning logs and watching the sparks chase each other merrily up the chimney. Helen was the first to break the silence. "Uncle Harry," she said, thoughtfully, "we've been at war with Germany a little more than six months, haven't we? And in that time you've certainly given us some fine talks on the many wonderful things that the government has done in preparation just all that is taking place. But I think I can give you a very fair idea of just what our government has done in the past six months toward preparing the country for hard fighting. "I want to hear this, too," said the boy's father, who had just entered the room and who now joined the little circle. "Well, to begin with," said Uncle Harry, "when we talk about war we naturally think first of the armies and the navy."

for the real fighting. But, do you know, sometimes when I get to thinking about food control, shipping boards, cantonnements, Liberty Loans and the great number of other things, I get them all jumbled in my mind and wonder whether it's possible for anyone to realize all that has been done."

Uncle Harry smiled and leaned forward in his chair. "I don't wonder that you feel bewildered sometimes, Helen; most of us grown-ups find it mighty hard to keep up with the news, there's so many things being done. And they're being done in such a big way and so rapidly that it's pretty hard to appreciate, sometimes,

Growth of Our Army and Navy. "On April 6, the day President Wilson signed the declaration of war, the American army was small and the navy was short of men. Today, as the result of the working out of the Conscription law and of the thousands of enlistments, more than a million men are under arms. Sixteen cantonment camps—cities, each capable of housing 40,000 men—have been built at a cost of $150,000,000. Following the establishment of sixteen officers' training camps, about 27,000 young officers received training and commissions. At the beginning of the war we had about 20,000 officers; there are now around 80,000. There have also been maintained sixteen training camps for the National Guard. A large expeditionary force under General Pershing has been sent to France.

"The surgeon general has increased the enlisted strength of the medical department to more than ten times its original size, there now being more than 69,000 men in it. In connection with this, a large hospital will be constructed at each one of the thirty-two cantonnements and other large hospitals at various points in the country. Moreover, billions of dollars have been spent to completely equip both the army and the navy and make them up-to-date and modern in every respect.

"For fighting in the air, more than 20,000 aeroplanes are being sent and thousands of American aviators are being trained both in schools throughout the country and behind the battle lines in France."

"And how much bigger is our navy now, Uncle Harry?" asked Joe.

"The navy has now in service more than three times as many men and nearly three times as many vessels as when war was declared," replied Uncle Harry, "and hundreds of ships are being built—from super-dreadnaughts to submarine chasers. Since early in May United States destroyers have been operating with the navies of the Allies against the submarines. Hundreds of millions of dollars have been spent to build plants for supplying guns and projectiles for the navy. And the shipping board has contracted for the speedy building of hundreds of ships that will make up a great American merchant fleet."

Paying for the War. "How much money have we loaned to our allies, Uncle Harry?" asked Jimmy.

"Great Britain, France, Russia, Italy and Serbia have received loans totaling to $2,518,400,000," replied Uncle Harry. "The United States is spending about $2,000,000,000 an hour in all war expenditures. "And now comes the question of how the money is being raised to meet these staggering totals," he continued. "Congress has authorized by tax and bond measures the raising of twenty billions of dollars."

"Twenty billions!" exclaimed Jimmy. "Yes," said Uncle Harry. "It almost takes your breath away to think of such a vast sum. The two Liberty Loans were floated to raise five billions of this amount. And at various times since the declaration of war, congress has made appropriations and passed bond and revenue bills providing billions of dollars more."

"In August President Wilson signed the food control bill and named Herbert C. Hoover as food administrator. There followed a long series of bills, among them, the soldiers' and sailors' insurance bill. Prices have been fixed on wheat, coal, steel and copper. And the American embargo has reduced to a very small amount the shipment of supplies to neutral nations that might in turn sell them to Germany."

"That's a very brief outline, but it will give you some idea of what has been done in the way of preparing the country for a part in the greatest war the world has ever known."

"And how tremendous it really is," said the boy's father, "may be seen when you compare it with other wars that have been fought in the past."

"Take our Spanish-American war for instance. War was declared in April, 1898, and before the summer was over the Spanish army and navy had been defeated and Spain asking for peace. All in little more than three months."

"And in our Civil war many important battles were fought within the six months following the outbreak of war."

"Yes," said Uncle Harry, "and in the present war the Battle of the Marne, which was regarded as the real turning point of the war, was fought and won by the French within little more than a month after Germany invaded Belgium."

"But as the present war continued, it was soon plain that the victory would be finally won by the nations that could bring to bear for the longest period the greatest resources in men, money and supplies. So when our country entered the war it was immediately realized that months of preparation would have to be gone through in order that America's greatest power might be brought to bear on the side of the allies. That's why our country's war preparations have been so rapid and so thorough."

tically all our time 'getting ready' to fight."

Editor's Note.—Uncle Harry will be glad to answer inquiries, either in this column or by mail, provided letters are signed with the full name and address of the persons writing. The correspondent's names will not appear in the articles.

MRS. PARRISH DEAD.

Decatur, Ind., Oct. 22.—Deborah Russell Parrish, 78 years old, wife of Joshua Parrish, a life-long resident of Washington township, and long a resident of this city, passed away last evening at 8:30 o'clock at the family home on Jefferson street. Mrs. Parrish's death marks the close of a long period of three or four years' illness from cancer, much of which time was fraught with intense suffering. For the past year she has been confined to her bed practically all of the time, and at this time a year ago she was so near death, that it was expected at any time, although she subsequently recovered.

DIES IN CALIFORNIA.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 22.—John Coover has received word announcing the death, Thursday, of his brother, Del Coover, at Lordsburg, California, at a hospital where he had gone for a surgical operation. Mr. Coover lived in Pennville until about ten years ago when he removed with his family to California. He leaves a wife and two children. The remains will be brought to Dunkirk for burial. Mr. Coover went to Dunkirk this afternoon to await the arrival of the body.

PNEUMONIA FATAL.

Kendallville, Ind., Oct. 22.—Albert Taylor, age 60, of North Bend, Ore., is dead at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Roy Young, North Main street. Death was due to pneumonia, with which he was taken ill a week ago. Mr. Taylor came to this city three weeks ago, to make his future home accompanying his daughter, Mrs. Young, who has been visiting at his home in North Bend.

WARSAW WOMAN DEAD.

Warsaw, Ind., Oct. 22.—Mrs. Sarah Wainwright is dead at the home of her son, John Wainwright. She had been ill for over a year with cancer. She was seventy-nine years old and had been a resident of Warsaw for twenty-five years. Her husband, William H. Wainwright and John Wainwright, both of Warsaw, and a brother, John M. Ring, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

DEATH AT ROME CITY.

Rome City, Ind., Oct. 22.—Mrs. Thomas Marshall, sixty-seven years old, is dead at her home here following an illness of three years. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Jacob Holsinger, Montpelier, Ohio, and Mrs. Waido, of this city. Funeral services Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the house and interment at the Osborn cemetery.

FREAK STORM.

Warsaw, Ind., Oct. 22.—Much damage was done to the farm of Edward Berkeville, in Marshall county, during a freak storm. Berkeville and members of his family knew nothing of the storm until the following morning when he found that the storm had razed their barn, had crushed two horses and three cows to death and had devastated the orchard.

DESERTER ARRESTED.

Warsaw, Ind., Oct. 22.—William McKinley Primley was arrested at Burket late Saturday night charged with desertion. He was a member of Company H and was with his company at Fort Benjamin Harrison when he deserted about a month ago. He is now a prisoner in the Kosciusko county jail. Primley is about twenty-two years old.

GOVERNOR GOODRICH TAKEN TO HIS HOME

Indianapolis, Oct. 22.—Governor Goodrich was taken from the Methodist Episcopal hospital to his home in Winchester yesterday. The trip was made in a private coach attached to an early morning train on the Big Four. The governor was accompanied by his doctors in charge, Charles R. Sowder, of Indianapolis, and Bader S. Hunt, the Goodrich family physician of Winchester, and by Miss Ethel Bright, a nurse who has been attending the patient. The party left the hospital in the morning about 5 o'clock and the governor was carried in an adjustable cot, not, as Dr. Sowder explained, because the governor was unable to sit up, but because the physicians did not wish to tire him unnecessarily. He has been able to sit up for some time, according to Dr. Sowder, and he is gaining strength rapidly. He expects to be able to return here to vote.

WHY MOURN CZAR ALEXANDER? WAS A DESPOT LIKE HIS LINE

There Are No "Liberal Monarchs" and "Good Kings," Says Charles Edward Russell, After Visiting the Chamber in Which Alexander Died.

By CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL.

The more a thinking person sees of democracy, the more he wants to take off his hat to it. It doesn't seem, as you look at it carefully, to be so much a kind of creed that men have knocked together, as an eternal law of progress that goes on and goes on always, no matter what men may think of it. Sometimes when it seems to be defeated it is winning a victory. Unless in this war it is to be stamped out forever under the Prussian boot, you can feel pretty sure it will continue to move on until it gets the whole world.

There is in the Winter Palace at Petrograd a certain room intimately connected with one chapter of the long struggle and supposed on other grounds to be the most interesting room in the palace, although it isn't.

They show you the great gorgeous ballrooms and the marble staircases and the thrones and the royal suites and the riot of extravagance, and then they show you the rooms that figure most in the story of Czar Alexander II, his council chamber and the room in which he died.

The council chamber has still the long table around which his ministers used to sit, the chair for each, the portfolio with the name of each stamped upon it, the great chair at the head for the czar.

These you are expected to view with awe. I don't know why.

They then exhibit the bedroom, the plain camp bed that he always preferred to any other, the stub of the last cigarette he smoked, the keys and pocket watch taken from his person, and other relics, supposed greatly to move the visitor.

Perhaps they do, but if he is a philosopher they certainly don't move him in the way that was expected in the old days.

Alexander II is called by his admirers, and particularly by English writers, a "liberal monarch."

The name is an error. There are no "liberal monarchs" and never were any. There are no good kings and cannot possibly be.

Some, of course, are worse than others. But if a king exercises any authority he is taking something that doesn't belong to him. And if he doesn't exercise any authority he is not on the level; he is taking the taxpayers' money on a false pretense. How, therefore, can he be good?

As for Russia, a czar always went ahead with the hideous old machine for sending men and women into the living death of Siberia. He always supported the monstrous system of tyranny and espionage. He always knew that under his rule men and women were being beaten with knouts, sacrificed, burned and mutilated because they believed in human liberty. If he were good or "liberal" he wouldn't sit for a moment on a throne drenched by force and fraud.

Men said Alexander II was a "liberal" monarch, principally because he signed the ukase that abolished serfdom in Russia. This, of course, was a vast improvement, and the fact that freedom was strangling Russia's development takes nothing away from the glory of the emancipation. But the same czar enforced a system far worse than slavery in his brutal and ruthless suppression of free speech, a free press and every other right that freedom holds dear.

relatives. About 2 o'clock he was on his way back, when two bombs were thrown at him. The second exploded by the side of the sleigh and the czar was fatally injured.

They brought him to this room in the Winter Palace and he died in his plain army cot bed.

His son, Alexander III, succeeded him, tore up the plan for a national council, and put the kibosh on reform, and the clamps more heavily than ever upon the people. He was an extreme reactionary, and his son, Nicholas, last of the Romanoffs, was like him.

The destruction of Alexander II's reform plans, if he had any, was long pointed out as an evidence of the uselessness of the revolutionary movement in Russia. Its only effect had been to prove that a constitutional form of government and make the Russian autocracy stronger than ever. About all the world agreed to this and denounced the revolutionists.

But behold, now, if any scheme of constitutional monarchy had gone through, then we should not have had the imperial sleigh and drove to a palace on the other side of the city, where he made a call upon one of his vice to head off democracy. It is an alluring side show that keeps the minds of the people occupied and prevents them from taking full charge of the government that belongs to them. If the quarter-way reforms supposed to be in the mind of Alexander II had materialized, the Russian republic might still be 50 years away.

It is difficult, of course, for us that live in freedom to understand the situation of people that dwell under tyranny. It is infinitely harder for us to excuse violence. But there are two things about this chapter of history we might well remember, because they will help us to understand the Russia that we must understand if we are going on with her.

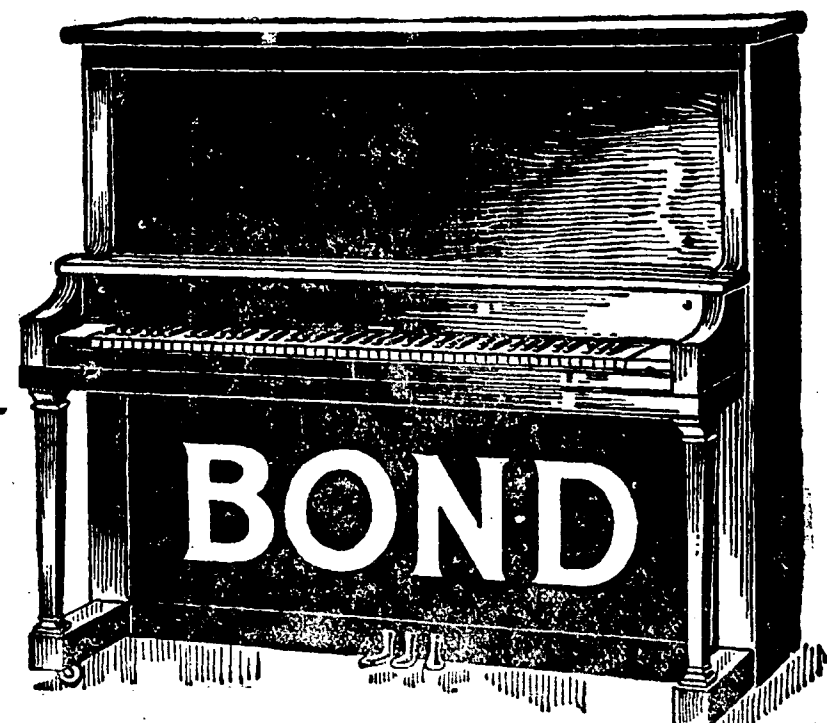

First, while violence in any country that has universal suffrage is utterly in defensible at all times, in countries ruled by the iron fist, there is no other way to agitate for freedom.

Second, there is that deadly fact that Alexander II supported and carried out the terrible system of tyranny and sent hundreds of thousands to the unspeakable tortures of Siberia. Anyway, no one need regret now that the constitutional monarchy fiasco was not put over in 1881. Because we have the republic.

Healthy Skin Depends on Kidneys

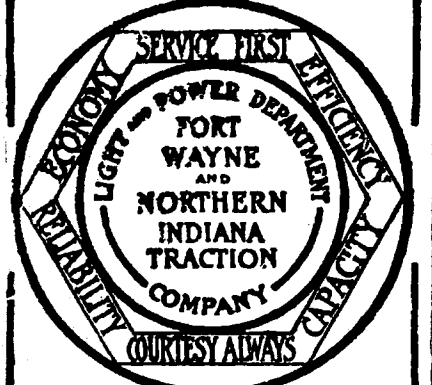

The skin and the intestines, which work together with the kidneys to throw out the poisons of the body, do a part of the work, but a clean body and a healthy one depends on the kidneys. If the kidneys are clogged with toxic poisons you suffer from stiffness in the knees in the morning on arising, your joints seem "rusty," you may have rheumatic pains, pain in the back, stiff neck, headaches, sometimes swollen feet, or neuralgic pains—all due to the uric acid or toxic poisons in the blood. This is the time to go to the nearest drug store and simply obtain a 50c. package of Anuric (double strength), the discovery of Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y. Then drink a cup of hot water before meals, with an Anuric Tablet, and notice the gratifying results. You will find that Anuric dissolves uric acid almost as water does sugar.

OPERATION AVOIDED.

Lafayette, Ind.—"Three years ago I was taken to the hospital—all arrangements made for an operation, but when the doctors were uncertain as to whether it was to be for appendicitis or woman's trouble I insisted upon being taken home until they were of one opinion as to my ailment. Then a friend told me what wonderful remedies Dr. Pierce's were selling right from the drug shelves, and thought they might give me relief. I bought a bottle each of 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery' and a box of 'Lotion Tablets.' These relieved me of a catarrhal condition, all abdominal pain, etc. But I took the medicines for almost a year to make sure of a complete recovery. 'Today I am in absolutely good health.'—Mas. U. S. Vol. LXXXV.....No. 20

MONDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1917.

FRIEND OR FOE—WHICH?

The Indiana public service commission and the law that it administers constitute the obstacle between the people of Fort Wayne and a lower rate for electric current. The Fort Wayne municipal lighting department has been prepared for more than a year to reduce the maximum lighting rate from 7 cents to 6 cents. That reduction would long ago have been made but for the obstruction mentioned and influences here in Fort Wayne that so far have been able to invoke its interference.

In the last session of the legislature there was a bill that had for its purpose to give relief to the people of Fort Wayne and other cities maintaining municipal lighting enterprises from the public utilities law in so far as that act supervised to deprive the people of lower lighting rates. The bill found friends in the assembly and it was the prospect that it would be passed. Just at a time when the promise was brightest the bill was strangled.

It may be of interest to the ten thousand patrons of the city lighting current and even to the patrons of the competitor's current to know that the relief bill was throttled in response to urgent importunities from Fort Wayne that it be killed. But for that the bill doubtless would have become a law and the municipal government of Fort Wayne would have been able to reduce the cost of electric current to the people to 6 cents, a step the lighting department then was and now is prepared to take whenever that can be done without meeting obstructions that the bill was designed to remove.

The person and interest that besought the strangling of the Fort Wayne bill are among the most strenuous and implacable of the antagonists of Maurice C. Niezer, democratic candidate for mayor, and among the most diligent, aggressive and noisy of all the endorsers and partisans of W. S. Cutshall, the republican candidate for mayor.

The people of Fort Wayne who believe that this million-dollar light and power property of the city, that has proved so signally a success and so tremendously a benefit to themselves, ought to be preserved and guarded and expanded and made more greatly a success and more signally a public benefit must choose between the man whose friends and partisans are like himself thoroughly committed and wholly devoted to the city lighting interests and the man whose friends and partisans are those who have sought to cripple the enterprise and did actually prevent a lowering of the cost of electricity to all consumers in Fort Wayne.

One of those two men will be elected mayor. It rests with the people to make choice. Mr. Niezer is the known friend of the lighting plant and the great body of his supporters are friends of the lighting plant. Mr. Niezer is speaking clearly and courageously of his policies in respect of the municipal utilities. Mr. Cutshall is vague, uncertain and unaggressive. A great body of his supporters are hostile to the city lighting enterprise.

Which candidate offers the surer vouchsafement that the municipal lighting enterprise will be safe in his hands? Which gives the truer promise that rates will come down?

WAS A GREAT EDUCATOR.

Prof. Chester T. Lane, whose death has just taken place, achieved national recognition as a high school man. As principal of the Fort Wayne high school for near two score years he brought the local institution into the front rank of the leading public schools of the country and it has deserved thoroughly the good fame his work had given it.

Prof. Lane was a solid and progressive educator. He required work and in the Fort Wayne high school the foundations of learning institutions of the country graduates from the Fort Wayne school were welcomed as coming well prepared for the greater work of college and university. It was the design of Mr. Lane's work that when a pupil left his school he should be equipped to take up a life's pursuit, if the high school had to be the last of scholastic training, or to go on if that good fortune were vouchsafed.

To Prof. Lane in great measure was due the advancement of the high school in new channels of training. He had great administrative faculties and strong executive abilities for the profession of teaching and he got results that were notable. Under his direction instruction was sound and thorough and hundreds of his pupils who may once have thought him severe today gladly testify to the good he wrought for them while they were under his scholastic guidance.

It is striking that the death of Prof. Lane should so soon have followed upon the death of Dr. J. N. Study, for more than twenty years the superintendent of the Fort Wayne public schools. Working together for a long period, those two men had done great things for public education in Fort Wayne.

STILL WONDERING—NO ANSWER.

The people of Fort Wayne are still wondering and they get no answer.

They wonder why it was that if the report of Anselm Fuelber's Harmer school speech slandered him and wronged Candidate Cutshall there should have been a lapse of three days before entering a denial and bringing up the reserves to sustain the defense.

It was outrageous—but it took three entire days for the discovery of the outrage.

It was false and "maliciously vicious" and all that—but it took three whole days to realize and appreciate it.

It was a thing that at first Mr. Fuelber thought on the advice of "a democratic attorney" it were wise to pay no attention to—and it never dawned on him for half a week that he had been wronged and put in bad—to the discomfiture of himself and the detriment of his candidate for mayor.

So it is—and not without much reason—the people of Fort Wayne are wondering.

The striking coal miners are getting back to work, the striking shipbuilders are getting back to work and it is to be hoped the striking citizens who won't buy Liberty Loan bonds will join the patriotic procession before the end of the week. The country needs its workers, but it also needs the country's cash.

The patriotic demonstration Saturday in behalf of the Liberty Loan doesn't strictly speaking, put Fort Wayne and Allen county on the map, but it makes their spot on the map larger and a great deal brighter. Now let us all join to vindicate the demonstration and make it good.

One coal mine operated under federal authority with labor put to work and kept there by industrial conscription would put an end to the attempt to force the wage issue upon Uncle Sam. The miners are beginning to understand that.

DUTY OF ALL TO HELP WIN WAR

(By the Publicity Committee.)

Let us have no strikes while the country is in peril. If American industrial workers can refuse to perform their labor whenever they see fit, regardless of the situation faced by the nation, why not soldiers and sailors, too?

Organized labor, through its regularly elected officers and in convention assembled by formal resolution, has pledged itself to the service of the country, yet strikes of men, whose work is vital to the nation from a military viewpoint, are not only constantly threatened but are continually called. Such a situation at such a time is intolerable.

Every one—the laborer as well as the man of wealth—must do his part. The men of "easy means" are called upon by the government to do many things given little consideration by his employees. Before the declaration of war by the United States millions of dollars were contributed by them to various funds for the relief of those nations who are now our allies; they are called upon by the government to pay heavy taxes both on their private incomes and on the profits of their business. More men of this class volunteered as soldiers than came from the ranks of labor. This is especially true in the middle west.

Let every rich man contribute to the fullest extent of his means—and even beyond his means; but the working man must do the same, and it is wrong for him to clog the wheels of the nation by petty squabbles in this time of stress.

Good citizens will do this voluntarily; slackers should be forced to do it.

Civilization looks to the United States to crush militarism, the cause of this world war. Millions of men have been killed and wounded in this terrible holocaust of blood; millions of helpless, innocent women and children suffered untold anguish, multitudes have died in massacres, of famine, of disease.

The sooner the war is over the better it will be for the world, but it takes money to create and maintain an army to crush the enemy. Liberty bonds are the way opened by the government to provide these funds, and every one who subscribes is doing his small part, which taken in the aggregate is a tremendous volume, toward bringing peace to mankind.

Let every one throw his heart and soul into this work, let every one realize his duty to support the government by subscription to these bonds, to the

Of woodbird on the swaying limb
Revives the moving, mild, marsh melody.

The while, all-sullenly, slow in the east,
A light creeps up toward night's noon,
Threading the pitch of cloud-wave time,
Which cloaks a million eyes of fire.
And then, lulled voices on the slumberous, breast
Of a soft, south wind hush, and soon,
Ere yet the solemn dark is gone
A tongueless vigil waits upon
The rising moon.

The allies have driven so many wedges into the German front that Uncle Sam's useful mail is going to come in handy very soon.

We understand that lately the western land barons have been very particular about getting water on their baron lands.

They say that "from the Hun the Prussian sprung"—but in our opinion the spring was a short one, and the Hun always held one end of the chain. The more you monkey with the coal operators the more strikes they pull off in their mines—how would it be to use a little gunpowder argument with them?

The more we read of mine troubles the less we worry about yours. Isocrates put it like this: "A man ought to be the same to his friend as he would be to himself, because a friend is the same as himself in another person."

As usual it was our friend Socrates who remarked, "This world is but a passage into the other; therefore he that prepareth him things necessary for the passage is free from all perils." But, as far as I can see, he gave us very few detailed instructions as to the preparing of those things "necessary for the passage." Not a single word about coal.

Our Dollars Fight for Us

(Member of the Federal Farm Loan Board.)

The Liberty Loan is a continuation of the financing by which Robert Morris furnished the money with which Washington carried on the revolutionary war; the same financing by which Jay Cooke got the money for Lincoln.

Money devoted to such causes has sometimes saved the world to civilization. Themistocles, after the battle of Marathon caused the Athenian people to take the revenue from their silver mines and with it build a navy instead of declaring dividends. With that navy was fought the battle of Salamis which saved Europe from the dominance of the Persian, and preserved to us the opportunity to develop the civilization we now enjoy.

The Liberty Loan is as sacred to the cause of civilization as the silver with which Athens built her navy.

We too are at a turning point in history, as certainly as was the world when the Persians were turned back at Marathon and Salamis, or when Alexander won at Arbela, or when Charlemagne was defeated at the Metaurus river, or Attila the heathen Hun by the Romans and Christians, or the Turks held back from sweeping over Europe, or when France was preserved by Joan of Arc, or the Saracens defeated by Charles the Hammer as they swept up from Spain to make Europe Mohammedan.

Treasures spent to win these victories blessed the world. The Liberty Loan will save France, redeem Belgium, preserve Britain, safeguard ourselves. For we must carry the war to the Germans, or they will bring it to us. If we cannot win with the most powerful allies in the world, we shall be forced to fight it out alone with Germany and such allies as she may bring against us. It is not an incident of this war only that Germany sought to combine Mexico and Japan against us. It is a part of her policy. It is connected with the German uprisings in Brazil and the traitorous German propaganda in this country.

If this war is not won, we shall face a German combination of all central Europe, of a subjugated Russia, of 200,000,000 Mohammedans, or re-informed Mexico, of God knows what array of power marshalled under the banner declaring that "War is Christ-like," and the guns of this hellish European-Asiatic alliance will thunder on both our shores, and its armies threaten all our frontiers.

The Liberty Loan. We send our money to keep in the field the men who will make it possible for our men to successfully bear the flag in Europe. For that flag to take its place among the banners displayed in the tortured line from the Swiss frontier to Antwerp a terrible and wonderful thing. The flag itself is risked on the cast of this die.

In the Liberty Loan the wealth of America salutes the flag. It speeds on before our soldiers, and tells our friends fighting and dying for our cause that the flag will soon be with them, and to be of good cheer. It tells the dazed people of Russia that the greatest of the republics is in the field for her newborn rival in greatness. It tells Russia to look for the flag and collect her wandering thoughts and arouse her restless might. Without the Liberty Loan Columbia can never take her place in that mighty company without disgrace.

produce the pure white loaf, diminishing in size and increasing in price, until by authority of government they are compelled to change their formulas. The question is not that of inferior bread in order to reach a cheaper price. It is whether for our own sakes and those of our allies we are to make our wheat go as far as possible, have bread just as nutritious and even more healthful and at a fair price standardized throughout the country.

It is a reproach to our whole scheme of food regulation that white bread is now selling in various parts of the United States at from 6 to 20 cents for 18-ounce loaves. We already have war wheat. If the people are not to be gouged, and quite as important, if we are to husband our supplies and prevent senseless waste, we must have war flour and war bread.

CAN AFFORD CRANBERRIES, TOO

(Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin.)

The inside information to the effect that turkeys will be higher this year need not interfere with Thanksgiving cheer. The country on the whole has been blessed with exceptionally bountiful crops, and there will be plenty of nutritious and palatable food at reasonable quotations, to be sure, but not out of reach. The world is in a bad way just now, but any average American comparing the state of affairs here with what exists in other lands will find ample reason for Thanksgiving, even though turkeys, partly due to the coolness of the summer and the number of rainy days, have not thriven and will be scarce and high.

FROM THE SENTINEL PAGES 25 YEARS AGO

A bank to be known as the Citizens State bank has been started at Monroeville with a capital of $10,000. J. R. Niezer, ex-auditor, is president, and C. B. Mitchell, cashier.

The F. A. S. V. club elected the following officers yesterday: August Nierman, president; J. Heidenreich, vice president; O. Miller, secretary; P. Kelly, treasurer; William Light, doorkeeper.

Frank Horstman, who has carried the mail route in South Wayne for several years, took a route in Nebraska today. He exchanged places with Carrier George Ashley, of Nebraska, who takes the South Wayne route.

Jacob Henry, the South Calhoun street picture dealer, while walking near his place of business Saturday evening, tripped on a piece of loose lumber and fell, breaking two ribs. Dr. Miller, who attended the unfortunate man, reports his condition much improved today.

The fire department responded to a call from box 27 at 1 o'clock this morning. The barn of Gregory Lauer, the carpenter, who lives at 101 Maumee avenue, was in flames and too far gone to be saved by the department. Frank Winter's barn, next door, was also badly damaged. Lauer's loss is $600. The horse and buggy were saved. Scheunemann & Kiehn, the undertakers, met with a misfortune yesterday. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon they entrusted their undertaking wagon and horse to a young man to deliver a rough box to Lindenwood cemetery. The young man was unaccustomed to driving, and although the horse was a very gentle one it became frightened and ran. Near the Schurtz packinghouse the horse ran into the Grand Rapids railway trestle, where the wagon was smashed to splinters. The horse then ran to the Lindenwood cemetery and created a panic among the people who were gathered there. The horse was finally shot by a police officer.

WAR FLOUR AND BREAD.

(New York World.)

It must soon occur to the food administration that suggestion and entreaty alone are not going to solve the bread problem in the United States. With a deficient wheat crop, but the greatest corn yield on record, the attempt by voluntary means to conserve the one and make more general use of the other seems destined to failure. The situation arises not so much from lack of interest as from reluctance to change habits, methods and habits and a complete absence of co-operation in what is undoubtedly a necessary measure of war and of economy.

THE SUGAR SHORTAGE

HARRY B. HUNT.

Why is the United States today short of sugar? What can the American people do to meet the present shortage? And what must they do to meet not only our own demands, but the necessary requirements of our allies for sugar during the next year?

The United States is short of sugar because in the past two years, we have exported sugar at a rate thirty-four times greater than our normal exports, and have not curbed our own consumption to meet this drain on our sugar reserves.

In 1914 we exported 72,323,615 pounds of sugar. In 1916 our sugar exports jumped to 1,665,895,839 pounds, and in the first nine months this year, up to the time the embargo was laid, our exports were 1,254,551,280 pounds.

Britain alone, which in 1914 imported only 4,974,075 pounds of sugar from the United States, last year imported from us 938,091,045 pounds. Before the war Britain secured her sugar chiefly from Germany and Austria, importing on 1.14 per cent from us.

France, nominally producing her own sugar, got but 1,000 pounds from us in 1914. Last year she imported from the United States 257,322,292 pounds, and so far this year 47,857,887 pounds.

These figures will give some idea, then, why our sugar supply is short. But with all the increase of our exports to Britain and France, we have not begun to furnish them their normal supply of sugar. We will not be able to do so.

France has cut her sugar ration to one pound per person per month, or twelve pounds per year, from a pre-war consumption of forty-four pounds. Britain has reduced her per capita consumption of sugar from thirty-two pounds per year to one pound per person per month.

To You,-- Mr. Farmer

The Boys in France Send Their Message Back to The Old Homestead

You farmers of America can be said to face two questions. Either you must lend your money to America and win the war or lose the war and pay your money to Germany.

There is no middle road about this, one of these two issues must be faced.

You farmers of America know well what Germany has done to the farmers of Belgium of Northern, France of Poland, of Serbia and of Roumania. You know the cruel wantonness, the murder, the desolated farms, the villages laid in ruins, the little babies and young children left to starve by the roadside, the men and women carried away to slavery, to work under the guard of guns and bayonets in Germany's munition works and mines.

In the First Liberty Loan the man in the city subscribed $66.74 per capita. You subscribed $11.24 per capita. Yet 42% of the nation's income is yours.

Misses Georgiana Hudson, Virginia Thiene, Margaret Ann Keegan and Mary Williams acted as ushers to the audience. The children all did beautiful work and were applauded and encouraged until they felt well repaid for their efforts. The young girls who were in the program were Margaret Fry, Lillian Blackstone, Louise Metzger, Ellen Hudson, Violet Reinwald, Elizabeth Urbahn, Mary Beuret, Mildred Freuchte, Charlotte Maunier, Florence Gruber, while Miss Virginia Randall and Paul Bachler furnished a quartet of little girls who came in for lots of applause were Ethel Robinson, Emma and Elizabeth Averill and Lavern Lechleina.

Rose-Colling. Miss Helen Colling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Colling, of 1924 Harrison street, and Mr. George Rosemer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rosemer, were united in marriage on Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride by Rev. Fred Wambagans. Mrs. R. G. Mettert, played the wedding music as the bride and groom entered the living room where the ceremony was performed, attended by Miss Rorette Gooley and Mr. William Rencke. The bride made a beautiful appearance in a gown of white crepe de chine. The bridesmaid wore a pale green tulle gown and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The wedding dinner was served at 6 o'clock and the tables were pretty with their decorations of smilax, roses and a handsomely frosted wedding cake. The groom is a plumber and will be at home with his bride after Nov. 1 at 314 Douglas avenue.

Malott-Quick. Miss Pauline Quick and Mr. Charles Malott were united in marriage on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the parsonage of Plymouth church by Rev. A. J. Polson. Miss Quick and Mrs. Malott were present at the marriage of their daughter and son. Mr. Glenn Ferguson was the other witness. The bride's costume was a Copenhagen blue crepe de meteor and a taupe coat. Hat, gloves and shoes were corresponding in tone to the cloak. The bride's bouquet was a corsage of bride's lace. The bride and groom will be at home after the first of November at 1310 Buchanan street. Mr. Malott comes from Ridgeville and he is bookkeeper at the Bowser plant. The bride is attractive in appearance and accomplished in many ways.

Washington School P-T Club. There will be an evening meeting of the Parent-Teacher club of the Washington school on Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. E. W. Cole, of Huntington, will give a talk on philanthropic work. Pupils of the seventh grade will sing, Miss Margaret Noff will play a violin solo, children of the primary grade will give a little play and a reception will follow the program at which refreshments will be served.

Needlework Guild Notes. Members of the Needlework Guild, as well as all other women, are asked to participate in the Liberty bond parade for women tomorrow. The guild is having a "boom" in Fort Wayne and everyone wants to join.

John C. Freund's Dece. Chagped. Because the date of John C. Freund's lecture and the University club entertainment conflicted, Mr. Freund's appearance in this city, under the auspices of the Morning Musical society, has been postponed indefinitely.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mrs. Vernon Castle In Latest Fashions

MRS. VERNON CASTLE.

(Staff Special.) Mrs. Vernon Castle has set the fashion for girls ever since she first danced her way into publicity. Therefore The Sentinel has secured some pictures of what she will wear this winter especially for its woman's page readers.

There's a camouflage dress for the season—she will wear in "Miss 1937" which opens at the end of the month. This dress is pictured for the first time in this paper. And there's a lovely silk afternoon dress any girl might like to copy. And a smart white costume which expresses Mrs. Castle herself in its original short white angora wool frock.

Girls, watch for this art.

The South Wayne Parent-Teacher club on Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Be sure to see Liberty Gardens before you buy.

AT THE PALACE

HERBERT CLIFTON.

Amusing Female Impersonations Top Palace Bill. Herbert Clifton is easy to laugh with. He's topping the bill at the New Palace for the first of the week in a series of female impersonations in which he wears some novelty gowns and exploits a remarkable falsetto voice as well as an ability as a comedian. His Theda Bara wriggle stirs 'em all.

George Bobbe and Eddie Nelson's skit, "His Wife," is a rapid-fire skit that gives plenty of opportunity for these two funny vocalists to display their ability to sing and extract laughs. "On the Beach at Walkirk" is fifteen minutes of Hawaiian song, instrumental numbers and hula hula done by a clever company of unburned entertainers. Alfred Latell, assisted by Elsie Vokes, is doing a dog character study that is a bit of real art. James Lichter, a clever pianist and kisser, and the Brads, Fred and Nita, a pair of rollicking acrobats, complete this nifty bill.

POTAGE MONGOLE VERY GOOD; REQUESTS RECIPE

This soup is so extraordinarily good that on request the recipe was given by the chef at the Chateau, Lake Louise, Alberta, to a Kansas City tourist. The portions are rather in excess of those needed by a small family, but it is easily reduced. Three pounds fresh tomatoes (canned tomatoes are a good substitute), five pounds turnips, one pound carrots, one pound onions, one pound leeks, one pound rice, one-fourth of an ounce of sweet herbs. The above ingredients are boiled to a puree in chicken stock, then passed through a fine sieve, seasoned to taste with pepper and salt and pinch of nutmeg. Add one-half pound of butter and one gill of sweet cream. Serve with bread croutons.

A chicken need not be bought purposely for this soup. The carcass of a baked chicken, covered with cold water and simmered gently for three hours will give a satisfactory substitute.—Kansas City Star.

PRETTY AND ECONOMICAL TALLY CARDS FOR BENEFIT

In making plans for a large card party for the benefit of the Red Cross, when it was necessary to save expense in little things in order to make a showing in the net proceeds, a society in a southern city used this novel scheme for tallies:

For 20 cents they bought half a roll of wall paper, in a floral design (baskets of violets in this case), though various designs suitable for children's rooms would supply pleasing effects in the figures. They cut out the baskets in the evening. The children helped with the cutting, leaving the handles and finishing tracks to be done by the grown-ups. Each contributed from her store of baby ribbon for tying bows on the handles. Soon there were ready tallies for forty tables as dainty and pretty as could be imagined.

PEACE TERMS OF RUSSIA HAVE BEEN FORMULATED

Among Other Things Panama Canal Should Be Made Neutral, is Tenet.

Petrograd, Oct. 22.—The Russian peace program, as drawn up by the central executive committee of the Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' Delegates in the form of instruction to M. Skobelev, ex-minister of labor, its delegates to the Paris conference, consists of twelve articles, covering the whole ground from Panama to Persia. Article XI demands the "neutralization of the Panama canal and Article IX calls for the restitution of all colonies to Germany. The program of the central executive committee follows:

1. Evacuation by the Germans of Russia and autonomy of Poland, Lithuania and the Lithuanian provinces.
2. Autonomy of Turkish Armenia.
3. Solution of the Alsace-Lorraine question by a plebiscite, the voting being arranged by local civil authorities after the removal of all the troops of both belligerents to Belgium of her ancient frontiers and compensation for her losses from an international fund.
4. Restoration of Serbia and Montenegro with similar compensation. Serbia to have access to the Adriatic, Bosnia and Herzegovina to be autonomous.
5. Disputed Balkan districts to receive provisional autonomy followed by a plebiscite.
6. Roumania to be restored her old frontiers on condition that she grant Dobruja autonomy and grant equal rights to Jews.
7. Re-establishment of Greece and Persia.
8. Re-establishment of Greece and Persia.
9. Re-establishment of Greece and Persia.
10. Re-establishment of Greece and Persia.
11. Neutralization of all straits leading to inner seas and also the Suez and Panama canals. Freedom of navigation for merchant ships. Abolition of the right to torpedo merchant ships in wartime.
12. All belligerents to renounce war contributions or indemnities in any form, but the money spent on the maintenance of prisoners and all contributions levied during the war to be returned.

WANTS PEACE BY RIGHT.

Petrograd, Saturday, Oct. 20.—Premier Kerensky, on opening the Russian preliminary parliament in the Marinsky palace, made a ringing speech, in which he said:

"Russia wants peace by right, but we never will bow our heads to force." This declaration was warmly applauded by the members of all political factions. The premier, who has just recovered from his recent illness and was slightly pale, stood on a raised dais in the great audience hall. His address was largely confined to an explanation of the military situation and a declaration as to the necessity of saving the country. He said: "We must fight only to save the country."

The Bolshevik Left only occasionally applauded. Many members, including some of the leading constitutional democrats were absent. Boxes for the American and other entente allied ambassadors were reserved at the left.

Premier Kerensky in the course of his speech paid an enthusiastic tribute to the valor of the Russian sailors, but said he could not say as much for Russia's troops on land. After his address the premier offered the presidential chair to Mrs. Catherine Brashkova, the "grandmother of the revolution," as she is the senior member of the preliminary parliament. She received a great ovation as temporary chairman and, after a speech, invited the assembly to elect its president. M. Aveskient, chairman of the executive committee of the Council of Peasants' Delegates, was elected president by a majority of 238.

NOW GETTING READY FOR NEXT WEDNESDAY

Suburban Day Will Draw Larger Crowds Than Ever This Week.

Keep your eye on the advertising columns of The Sentinel this week, if you would know the real, true ring of Suburban day.

This is addressed not only to the out-of-town people, but to the citizens of Fort Wayne. The merchants of Fort Wayne are going to outdo all their former efforts this week and prove in many ways their greater determination to make this mid-week trade day an event well worth remembering.

The loyal supporters of the Suburban day plan declare their entire satisfaction with the growth of the idea. These men entered into it with the sole thought of making such sacrifices as were needed to establish a Wednesday of each week as a banner trade day for the mutual benefit of the people from other cities and the Fort Wayne merchants. For it must be understood that many who are supporting the Suburban day plan are not seeking financial betterment, except as it comes through the prosperity of all. As one of the members said recently: "There is no opportunity for me to sell anything at all to these out-of-town people, but I want to do all I can to make a success of Suburban day, because I know that the increased trade at the stores will mean increased business in all lines."

DECATUR NEWS.

Decatur, Ind., Oct. 22.—Rev. W. Paul Marsh, of the Christian church, officiated at the wedding of Vilas Huser, son of Jacob Huser, of Berne, and Miss Ethel Smelser, of Monroe township. The wedding was performed at the parsonage in this city.

Miss Marie Connell is at Lafayette, where this morning she attended the wedding of Miss Gladys Farrell and John Gross.

Mrs. O. B. Wenhoff has returned from a visit in Indianapolis with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weber. Leonard Baumgartner, son of William Baumgartner of Berne, and Miss Maud M. Liddy, a telephone operator of that town, were granted a license to marry.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley Chrisman and two children visited in Fort Wayne over Sunday with the John Johnson family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Rupert went to Fort Wayne on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Hoffman, of Preble, are the parents of their second child, a girl born Friday. Mr. Hoffman is the assistant fireman at the oil station there.

proving and there is hope of her recovery again.

Mrs. Fred Kitson came from Fort Wayne to visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Wagner.

The funeral of Miss Sue Peoples was held this morning from the Methodist church in this city. The body was brought from Dargo, N. D.

Miss Rose Fleming and niece, Mildred Yobst, came from Fort Wayne to attend the funeral of their cousin, Miss Sue Peoples. They were guests of their sister, Mrs. E. S. S. Magley, over night.

Charles Burrell, residing near this city, who has been ill of heart trouble, suffered another severe attack.

IN THE CHURCHES WILL HOLD WEEK'S MISSION SERVICE

Rev. William Gelsdorf, Missionary, to Officiate at Sheldon Church.

Opening Thursday evening, October 25, and continuing through All Saints, Thursday, November 1, Rev. William Gelsdorf, a prominent missionary of Cornell, Wis., will officiate at a series of mission services at the St. Alysius church, Sheldon. Sunday, November 4, Father Gelsdorf will open a similar service at Bluffton, a mission parish of Sheldon. Between appointments he will make his home at St. Vincent's orphan asylum of this city.

Fall Festival. The St. Louis Catholic church, of Besancon, Ind., will hold a fall festival in the school hall, October 25, 26, 27, 28. The program opens Thursday evening and many from Fort Wayne, New Haven, Monroeville and other neighboring places, are expected to be in attendance. One of the main features of the program will be the chicken suppers served by the ladies on Thursday, Saturday and Sunday evenings.

Many stands will be operated by the ladies of the church at which every thing may be purchased. The St. Louis school is located ten miles east of Fort Wayne, on the Lincoln Highway, and may also be reached on the Lima interurban, all local cars stopping at the school.

Dedications Logansport Church. Rt. Rev. Bishop Hermann Joseph Alerding completed his October appointments by dedicating St. Bridge's church, Logansport, Sunday. The solemn high mass at 10 o'clock was officiated by Rev. George Horstman, pastor of St. Andrew's church of this city. The Logansport pastor and Father Horstman were classmates in the seminary.

English Meeting at Y. W. C. A. At 7:30 Monday evening the first English class will be opened at the Y. M. C. A., with Miss Helen May, of the high school, as teacher. On account of the parade Tuesday evening the French class will also meet Monday evening.

Rev. Porter Here. Rev. J. H. Porter, new pastor of the Wayne Street Methodist Episcopal church, succeeding the Rev. C. Claud Travis, who has been called to Englewood, occupied the pulpit at both the morning and evening services Sunday. He was greeted by large audiences at both services. Dr. Porter expects to have his family here by the middle of the week.

To Have Complexion That Men Admire

"A man may admit, with great sophistication, that powder and rouge are necessary aids to beauty," says a well-known writer, "yet deep in his heart he dreams of the woman who is beautiful without artificial touching up. Women who appreciate this, who give consideration to the masculine viewpoint, avoid using anything that might indicate their beauty is not all their own."

Such women in increasing numbers are acquiring the mercurized wax habit. By applying the wax at night as they would cold cream, washing it off in the morning they secure, and maintain, entirely natural complexions. Their faces exhibit no evidence of having been "beautified." Nothing is added to the old complexion—the latter, instead, is discarded—Mercurized wax, procurable at any drug store (an ounce is sufficient) absorbs the devaluated outer skin, gradually, almost imperceptibly. The fresh, clear, satiny under skin which appears, bears a healthy, youthful bloom not comparable with the fixed, artificial color.—Advertisement.

A Million Dollars' Worth of Music For $785.00!

Nothing unreasonable about this—at least not impossible; in fact, it is years for the asking.

It would cost you more than a million dollars to employ twelve of the best pianists in the world to play for you the rest of your life—to be at your call in your own home day and night.

Yet for seven hundred and eighty-five dollars, you can purchase an ARTAPOLLO that renders an exact re-creation of hand playing of these masters, whenever you desire.

The re-creation of the playing of masters is so perfect that ARTAPOLLO music is indistinguishable from the manual interpretations of the pianists themselves.

And—the twitch of the switch is the only effort required. The instrument does the rest, of itself and by itself.

On the other hand—the ARTAPOLLO will take the place of a regular piano for manual playing—it can be operated by electricity and your own interpretations put upon the compositions—in fact, it has no musical limitations—it is truly a marvelous instrument.

Furnished in both Grand and Upright styles at a wide range of prices.

OUR Suburban Day Bargains are open to Fort Wayne customers as freely as to our out-of-town friends.

If We Can Not Save You 25 Per Cent on Any Furniture or Carpets You Have to Buy We Will Not Ask You to Purchase of Us

WE give more space, more capital and more attention to the Rug, Carpet and Linoleum business than any store in Fort Wayne. Carpets are a mere side issue in dry goods stores. We make a specialty of them.

We Have Led the Trade in These Lines of Goods in Fort Wayne for Half a Century

Furnish Your Living Room $59.75 With This Fine Three-Piece Suite

With this suite in your home you will be fortified against the unexpected guest. The big, Duofold Davenport will hold a 35-pound mattress and can be instantly converted into a comfortable bed. The Davenport, Arm Chair and Rocker are quite luxurious, with deep spring seats and backs upholstered in serviceable Imperial leatherette. Have heavy frames in solid oak finish.

Headquarters For Baby Carriages

We make a specialty of Baby Carriages and Go-Carts. We have the Fort Wayne agency for the two best known manufacturers of the entire country. We carry a very large line. Fresh air is better than medicine. Keep your baby in it as much as possible.

See our handsome Reed Baby Carriage, well worth $20.00, for $13.90

White, Brown or Gray.

Colonial Period Suite $110.00 Dresser, Chiffonier and Bed

This Colonial Suite has a Napoleon Bed, so called because it is of the design on which the Great Napoleon slept. Only royalty could afford such a handsome suite as this in his day. The Big "Half Century Store" puts the price within the reach of quite a moderate purse. We offer it as you see as a Suburban Day Bargain at $110. It is a finely flaked quarter-sawn golden oak. Such furniture as this never goes out of fashion, increases in fact in value as the years roll on, and can be handed down to succeeding generations. We have the Dressing Table to match, if desired.

For Suburban Day Only!

We are making this unusual offer of six Oak Dining Chairs, worth $20, for just for next Wednesday, the 24th. They are covered in high grade Leatherette, are of box frame construction. They cost you but little more than a set of the ordinary spindle frame chairs. Don't overlook this one-day opportunity.

The man who can see no further ahead than the present is mentally blind.

The man who can plan for a year is a general.

The man who can plan for a lifetime is a genius.

The man who can plan for generations yet to come is a seer, a prophet.

Well, this last is what the "Half Century Store" is doing—planning for generations yet to come.

8-Piece William and Mary $110 Period Dining Room Set

The eight pieces consist of the Table, Buffet, and Six Chairs, one of which being a high-arm Host's Chair. If the China Closet is included that would be extra.

The Chairs are upholstered in Genuine Leather, and the entire suite is built to last a lifetime and then to be willed to succeeding generations. The William and Mary Period Design is the favorite of all Period styles, and if you wish to give your dining room a really distinguished atmosphere secure this beautiful outfit. The Table is very large, being 54 inches in diameter, and seats, when extended, 12 persons.

Do you know that some of the highest grade carpet and rug manufacturers give to us the exclusive sale of their goods in Fort Wayne? As the leading rug and carpet house of the state of Indiana we have our pick of the manufacturers. Do you realize what that means to our customers? It means better goods, a larger assortment, prettier designs and more reasonable prices. We have a line of one thousand Rugs from which to select any you may want.

Sometimes people tell the Foster Furniture Company that they can buy Rugs as cheaply elsewhere, only they don't like the styles as well. That's just the point. At Foster's they do not handle old styles, out of date or unsuccessful patterns in Rugs or Carpets in order to get them a little cheaper and so be able to make a bigger profit upon them. The prettiest and the best are none too good for the customers of the "Big Store."

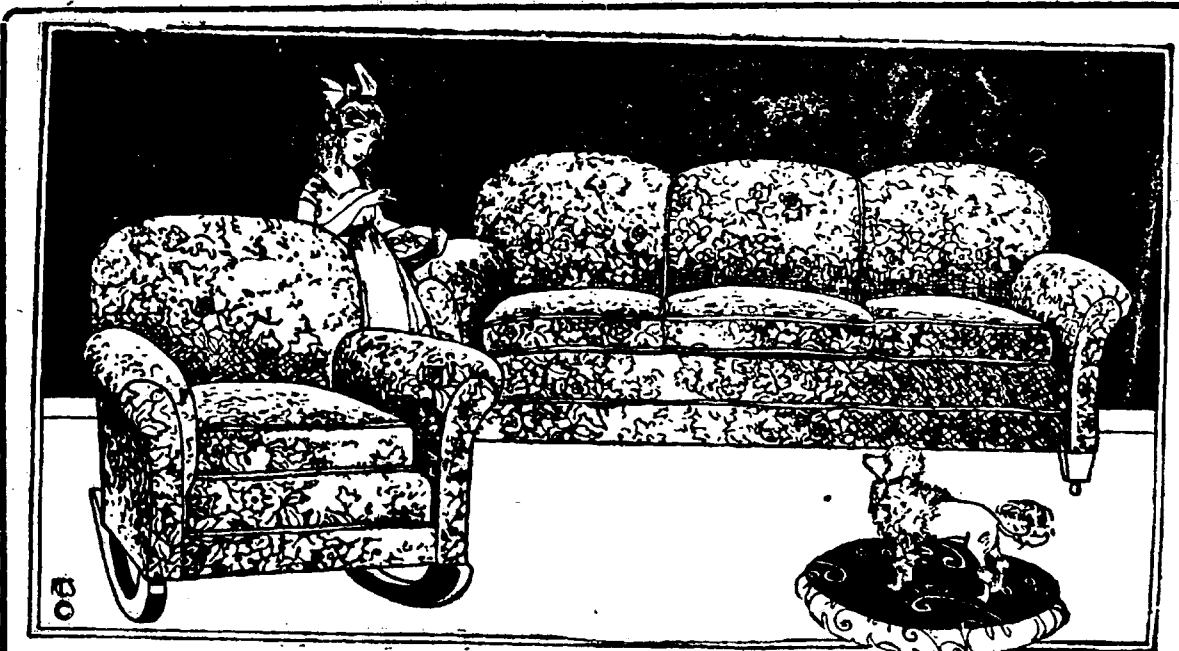

No Spring Bonnet

A Housekeeping Outfit is not a Spring bonnet, to be discarded at the end of the season. It ought to be selected with care, for you have got to live with it. If well made and artistic in design, it will last you a lifetime and be "a joy forever." If made only for show, or if defective in design, it will soon go to pieces, or so offend your taste that you will get rid of it at any price and have to buy all over again. We have had young people say to us: "The furniture we bought when we were first married was worn out by the time we got it paid for. We made a sad mistake in not coming to you in the first place."

SELLERS' Kitchen Cabinets Absolutely the Best

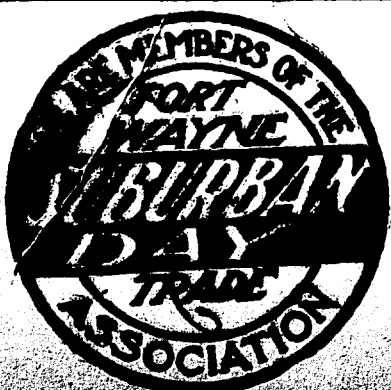

You Can Buy It Only at Foster's

No other make is in it with the Seller's. Its Automatic Lowering Flour-Bin is a feature no other Cabinet has and it is a most important one. In addition it has the guaranteed porcelain work table, automatic base shelf extender, ant-proof casters and many other exclusive patented features.

Luxurious Tapestry $110 Davenport and Chair

Some stores will ask you $125 for the Davenport alone. It is 7 feet long, covered in high grade tapestry, has loose cushions and is as fine a job of upholstering as you have ever seen. We offer it as a "Suburban Day Bargain." Fort Wayne people can have it, if they beat the out-of-town people to it.

Patriot's Primer

Liberty Bonds

What They Are-- and How to Buy Them

Q. What is the Second Liberty Loan of 1917?
A. It is a loan of money by the people of the United States to their Government.

Q. Why does the United States Government borrow money?
A. Because we are forced to defend ourselves against the attacks on American honor and American rights by the German Government, and therefore must have money to equip and maintain our Army and Navy. We need money also in order to lend to those nations with whom we are making common cause in this war.

Q. Are not the ordinary receipts of our Government from taxes, etc., sufficient to do this?

A. No; the ordinary receipts of the Government are about one and a quarter billion dollars a year, while our expenses of the war for the fiscal year ending July 1, 1918, will be over $10,000,000,000, not including the money which we will lend to our allies.

Q. How is the Government going to raise this large amount of money?

A. By borrowing from the people and by increasing taxes.

What Is a United States Government Bond?

Q. When I lend my money to the United States Government, what do I get in return?

A. You get a promissory note given by the United States Government and bearing interest. This note is called a "bond."

Q. What, then, is a United States Government bond?

A. It is the direct and unconditional promise of the United States of America to pay upon a certain date a specified sum of money in gold, together with interest at a specific rate, payable at specific dates until the bond matures, or is called for redemption.

Q. In what form is this promise?

A. It is engraved upon a sheet of distinctive paper used only for the money and securities of the United States, and is executed by the Secretary of the Treasury and by the Registrar of the Treasury and sealed with the Treasury Department seal.

Q. When are bonds of the Second Liberty Loan dated?

A. November 15, 1917, is the date they will bear, because that is the date on which they will be issued by the Government and the date on which interest begins.

Q. When will these bonds be paid by the Government; that is, when will they become due?

A. November 15, 1942; but the Government has the right to pay them any time after 10 years from date of the bond.

Q. Do I have to hold my bond until the date it is due before I get my money back?

A. No; you can sell your bond any time you desire. There is always a ready market for United States Government Bonds.

Q. How can such a sale be made?

A. Any bank, trust company, reliable bond dealer, or broker will be glad to sell your bond for you at any time. Tradesmen will accept them as cash on purchases.

Q. If necessary, could I borrow money on these bonds?

A. Yes; United States Government bonds are the best security which can be offered in borrowing money. They will obtain for you the best terms possible. Ask any bank if you desire to borrow money on your liberty bonds.

Q. Do I get any interest on my money while it is loaned to my Government?

A. Yes; the Government will pay you interest at the rate of 4 per cent a year.

Q. How do I collect the interest?

A. Attached to each bond is an engraved sheet of interest coupons, one for each six months' period. When the interest date arrives, you cut off the interest coupon of that date and take it to any bank, where it may be cashed or deposited.

Q. How often do I get this interest?

A. Every six months. This interest will be paid to you every May 15 and every November 15 during the life of the bond.

Q. Is there any way I can collect my interest without having to cut the coupons?

A. Yes; you can get the Government to give you a "registered" bond; that is, a bond without any coupon attached and with your name written on the bond; and each six months, as the interest falls due, the Treasury Department will send you a check in payment of the interest.

What Is the Security?

Q. A United States Government bond is frequently spoken of as "best security in the world." Why is this true?

A. Because the promise to pay a Government bond is backed by the faith and honor of the United States of America and by the taxing power of this whole country, which is the richest Nation in the world.

Q. Has the United States issued bonds before; and, if so, has it ever failed to pay all of its bonds when they became due?

A. This Government has issued bonds before, and has never failed to pay every bond when it became due with all the interest on same. Even after the Civil War, when the country was suffering from a heavy debt and was not nearly so rich as it is today, all of the Government bonds were paid when they became due.

How Far Are These Bonds Exempt From Taxes?

Q. Are Liberty Bonds exempt from taxation?

A. The bonds are exempt both as to principal and interest from all taxes imposed by the United States, any State, or any of the possessions of the United States, or by any local taxing authority, except:

(a) Estate or inheritance taxes.

(b) Graduated additional income taxes, commonly known as surtaxes and excess profits or war-profits taxes now or hereafter imposed by the United States upon the income or profits of corporations, individuals, partnerships, or associations.

The interest on an amount of bonds and certificates, not in excess of $5,000 in one ownership, is exempt from the taxes provided for in Clause (b) above.

Q. Does this mean that the bonds are free from all local taxation?

A. Yes; the local assessor or tax collector cannot assess these bonds as personal property.

The First Liberty Loan.

Q. Has our country sold any Liberty Bonds before?

A. Yes; $2,000,000,000, bearing 3½ per cent interest, were sold in June, 1917.

Q. Did the people generally subscribe for these bonds?

A. Yes; more than 4,000,000 persons bought all of these bonds and offered to buy a billion more than were offered.

Q. Suppose the Government offers bonds in the future which will pay a higher rate of interest than 4 per cent?

A. If so, the holder of a Liberty Bond will have the right to exchange this bond for one bearing the higher rate of interest.

Amount of Present Loan.

Q. What is the amount of the Second Liberty Loan?

A. The Secretary of the Treasury is inviting subscriptions for $3,000,000,000 and reserves the right to allot additional bonds up to one-half the amount of any oversubscription.

Q. How was this bond issue created?

A. It was authorized by an act of Congress and approved by the President of the United States.

How to Buy.

Q. How much do bonds of the Second Liberty Loan cost?

A. From $50 to $100,000, whatever their face value calls for. The law states that these bonds must be sold at not less than "par;" that is, their face value—100 cents on the dollar.

Q. How can I buy the bonds of the Second Liberty Loan?

A. By filling out an application blank and handing it to any bank or trust company, or any solicitor of Allen County's Flying Squadron.

Q. When can this application for bonds be made?

A. At any time from the 1st day of October to the close of business on the 27th day of October, 1917.

Q. In what form must applications to buy a Liberty Bond be made?

A. All applications must be in the form prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, obtainable at any bank or from a Liberty Loan Committee.

Q. Must the full price of bonds be paid on application?

A. No; only 2 per cent of the amount you want to buy is required when application is made.

Q. When must the remainder be paid?

A. Four plans are offered—one as low as $1.00 per week.

Q. When will the subscribers know how many bonds they will receive on their subscriptions?

A. The Secretary of the Treasury will announce this about the 6th of November, 1917. This is known as making the "allotment."

Q. Must all subscribers to liberty bonds wait until the allotment is made to know whether or not they will receive their bonds?

A. No; a subscriber for bonds up to $1,000 is certain to receive his bond.

Q. If I desire to pay for the bonds at the time I make my subscription, may I do so?

A. Yes; you can pay in full for any bonds you buy up to and including $1,000; but subscribers for more than this amount must wait until the allotment is made.

What You Get.

Q. If I pay in full for a $50, $100, $500, or $1,000 bond, do I receive the bond?

A. Yes; you will receive a bond dated November 15, 1917, and bearing interest from that date. You will receive it, within a short time after your payment has been made.

Q. What provision is made for the interest accruing on the bonds from November 15, 1917, to May 15, 1918, a six months' period, when final payment on the bonds is not made until January 15, 1918?

A. Interest from November 15, 1917, to date of final or full payment must be made added to the last payment. Credit will be given the subscriber for interest at the same rate upon all the payments. Tables showing the amount of accrued interest payable on January 15, 1918, and on various interest days after payment has been made, will be distributed through the banks by the Treasury Department.

Q. As a practical matter, will I have any difficulty in attending to these details?

A. None at all. Any bank, trust company, bond house, or broker will gladly give you full instructions at any time without charge.

How Women May Aid.

Q. How may women aid the Liberty Loan?

A. First: By the purchase of Liberty Bonds. Second: By helping to sell Liberty Bonds to others.

Q. Can a woman own a Liberty Bond as her personal property?

A. A Liberty Bond is the personal property of the purchaser or of the person to whom the purchaser may sell or assign it. If it is a registered bond, the record of its ownership is a matter of governmental record. A Liberty Bond is therefore the property of the woman who buys it until she disposes of it.

Q. Why should women buy Liberty Bonds?

A. Because Liberty Bonds are the method adopted by the Government of the United States to take care of the soldiers, sailors, and marines who are fighting America's war. The success of our men in this war will benefit women no less than men. Women may not fight; but women may aid men in providing the sinews of war for the fighters. To women, even more poignantly than to men, come the words of the Secretary of the Treasury, "Shall we be more tender with our dollars than with the lives of our sons?"

Q. What may women's organizations do to promote the Liberty Loan?

A. Every organization of women has a fund of some sort which may be used to aid the Liberty Loan. The money of this fund may be invested in Liberty Bonds. There is no better investment for the funds of an institution, a community, or of an organization. Every woman's organization in the country should be represented by investment in the Liberty Bonds.

Q. How does the purchase of Liberty Bonds express the patriotism of the American people?

A. Every citizen of the United States who buys a Liberty Bond registers his approval of our defending ourselves against Germany. Every citizen who buys a Liberty Bond testifies to his love of country. Every citizen who buys a Liberty Bond contributes toward victory.

TWO MORE DIVORCE CASES AT AUBURN

Garrett Railroader Charges Desertion and Auburn Woman Cruelty.

(Special to The Sentinel.) Auburn, Ind., Oct. 22.—Two more divorce cases have been filed. Olney O. Hudson, a Garrett railroader, has asked the court for a divorce from Roselle May Hudson, charging abandonment. He states that his wife left him in April, 1917, and has since refused to live with him. Louis Muzillo, of Auburn, wishes a divorce from his wife, May Muzillo. This couple were married in February, 1916, and lived together about a year. The plaintiff charges cruel and inhuman treatment. Claims that owing to the reputation of his wife he was unable to conduct his business and was compelled to leave Auburn. The plaintiff later returned to this city and is now engaged in the fruit business on West Seventh street.

Auburn Short Items.
The case of Bert Maxwell, a Baltimore & Ohio conductor, of Garrett, brought by Miss Myra Morden, of Garrett, for the support of her illegitimate child is set for hearing in the DeKalb circuit court Wednesday, October 31. The first number of the Auburn lecture course will be given next Wednesday, October 24. The course is under the auspices of the Auburn high school this year. All of the numbers will be given in the Court theater. Judge Dan M. Link and L. G. Whitten of this city, will go to Newville Sunday evening, where they will address a Red Cross meeting to be held at the United Brethren church. Newville has just organized their Red Cross and it will be a branch of the DeKalb county organization. The officers are: Chairman, Mrs. Estella McNabb; secretary, Mrs. Jessie Fusselman; treasurer, Mrs. Jocelyn, with Mesdames Gengnagel and Traxler as inspectors of the work.

Some of the coal ordered by Mayor J. Y. W. McClellan to be disposed of in the city has arrived and delivery will begin today. Two more cars are expected. Mayor McClellan is to be congratulated on his efficient work in solving this fuel problem for our city. Word has been received in this city that Emmett Tenland, of Fort Wayne, a former resident of this city, and son of Mrs. F. A. Squires, of South Wayne street, has enlisted in the United States army and has gone to Fort Thomas, Kentucky. He is a printer by trade and has been employed in Fort Wayne for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Osburn of Butler, are moving to Auburn this week, the former being employed at the Auburn foundry.

H. E. Barnard, state federal food inspector, has appointed Dr. L. N. Geisinger, county health officer, and Dr. W. W. Swartz, city health officer, as local federal food administrators. The health officers have been appointed on this board through the county. The newly appointed officials for this territory got busy at once and their first day's work was notifying the hotels, restaurants and various clubs of the city, their duty in helping to conserve the food supply for the nation.

Why Colds Are Dangerous.
It is not only the serious diseases that so often start with a cold that make a cold the most dangerous of the minor ailments, but the fact that when a child has a cold he is much more likely to contract germ diseases such as scarlet fever and diphtheria. For this reason every cold should be gotten rid of as quickly as possible. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has gained a wide reputation for its quick cures of bad colds. You will find a long time before you find a better preparation for that disease. Advertisement.

ALL ROADS LEAD TO FORT WAYNE!

Many Are Coming This Week, Wed.

When Wednesday morning comes this week hundreds of people in the cities and towns of north-eastern Indiana and northwestern Ohio will take the trains and interurban cars or their automobiles for the weekly trading trip to Fort Wayne.

For every Wednesday is Suburban Trade day in Fort Wayne—a special day for out-of-town people to find splendid trade inducements—plenty of money-saving "specials" to pay them for coming—plenty to entertain them after they get here. For the stores make special plans to meet the needs of all buyers, and the theaters are giving especial attention to securing the best attractions.

Are YOU coming this week Wednesday?

Why not plan for it now? You can get away if you want to. Take "a day off." There's surely something you need for fall or winter which the home merchant cannot supply. Fort Wayne is the logical place to buy it. Look over the advertising columns of the papers tomorrow. Decide upon what you need. You'll doubtless find it listed at a special Suburban Day price. Then come to Fort Wayne Wednesday—make your purchases—stay for the theater and round out a day of profit and pleasure.

SEEMS EVERYONE HEARD ABOUT IT

All Want to Try New Drug That Dries Up Corns so They Lift Out.

Good news spreads rapidly and druggists here are kept busy dispensing freezone, the recent discovery of a Cincinnati man, which is said to loosen any corn so it lifts out with the fingers.

A quarter of an ounce costs very little at any pharmacy, but is said to be sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You apply just a few drops on the tender, aching corn and instantly the soreness is relieved, and soon the corn is so shriveled that it lifts out without pain. It is a sticky substance which dries when applied and never inflames or even irritates the adjoining tissue. This discovery will prevent thousands of deaths annually from lock-jaw and infection heretofore resulting from the suicidal habit of cutting corns.—Advertisement.

BONFIRES TO LIGHT NATION

Thousands of Women Will Gather About Local Blaze.

GRAND PARADE WILL HAVE MANY SECTIONS

Women of City Have Already Subscribed $30,000 to Loan.

Freedom from her mountain height will ask a response from American womenhood, Tuesday evening.

In a thousand bonfires, kindled in the heart of every city of the United States, will come a prompt response. In the tread of thousands of women marchers will come with added force the spirit of Fort Wayne's answer. In a shower of Liberty Bond dollars will later follow the last tribute of Allen county women to the cause for which Freedom waves her banner.

The flare of two dozen red-tipped torches will light the way of the women marchers through the principal streets of Fort Wayne, Tuesday night at 7 o'clock. There will be five large divisions of female marchers. The early forecast estimates 8,000 women of the city will be in line.

The line of march will be east on Wayne street, from the Y. W. C. A. to Calhoun street; north of Calhoun street to Main street and east on Main street to Old Port Place.

When the parade reaches Old Port Place there will be a grand assembly about a heap of sticks. Mrs. J. J. Evans Cawley will light the Liberty fire. She will explain the significance of the act. All the women will then join in singing "America."

To the blaze, the light of which is to be a beacon of assurance to America's allies, a pile of sticks will add a piece of bark from the ancient Constitution of Corydon.

Names Sections. Mrs. J. B. Crankshaw, in charge of the women's effort in the campaign, has arranged for the following sections to take up the Tuesday night parade.

The first section will form in front of the Y. W. C. A. It will be led by Mrs. H. O. Bruggeman, grand marshal of the march. She will be followed by Mrs. Walter Seavey and Mrs. Guy Mahurin.

One of the military bands will follow these marchers. Next in order will be Mrs. Fred McCulloch and Mrs. J. B. Crankshaw. Then will follow the two teams which are to make the canvass of women of the city for the Liberty Loan.

Mrs. C. J. Shoo will lead one of these bands, known as the Clara Barton workers and Mrs. S. A. Bowser will lead at the head of the Betsy Ross band of Liberty Loan campaigners.

The Clara Barton followers are: Mesdames Harry Hogan, David Mulligan, A. J. McCabe, Benjamin Levy, Forrest Beyer, Ferd Urbahn, Howard Townsend, Benjamin Hogan, William McKinnie, Walter Barrett, Frank Cutshall and Miss Edith Moynihan.

The Betsy Ross band is made up of Mesdames Martin Luecke, Jules Simon, H. C. Heister, Arnold Curran, Austin Stults, J. J. Ritter, William Barsch, Ted Eriks and Misses Ethel Douf and Louise Friley.

The remainder of the first division will be composed of mothers and wives of men who are new in service. These women will carry service flags.

The second division line-up will be: Mrs. Josiah Evans Cawley, Mrs. A. E. Fauve, visiting federation women and club league workers. This section will form on Ewing street, north of Wayne street.

Women clerks will make up the major part of the third section of the march. There will be representatives from the Wolf & Dessauer store, Steele-Meyers, Eurodes, Franks, Tappan, Ready-to-Wear store and other downtown stores. This group will form on Ewing street, south of Wayne street.

A second military band will lead the fourth section. Make-up of this department of the parade will be: Camp Fire girls, Holman Street Lamp works girls, Industrial school girls and high school girls. These paraders will meet near on Webster street, just off of Wayne.

The fifth section will be made up by members of the women's lodges of the city, women from the various churches, Navy league knitters, Red Cross workers, College club members.

This group will assemble south on Webster street, off of Wayne street.

Marshals Named. Following are the names of the parade marshals: Mrs. Fred Hunting, Mrs. W. E. Jones, Mrs. Carl Getz, Miss Phyllis Randall, Miss May, Mrs. W. A. Kent, Mrs. Norton Fisher, Mrs. Florence Dinnen, Miss Elizabeth Porter, Miss Helen Lane, Miss Julia Emanuel, Miss Clara Williams, Miss May Jewel Smith, Miss Anna Cole, Miss Maud Evans, Miss Minetta Baum, Miss Luella Vale, Miss Olive Gaunt, Miss Marjory Royan, Mrs. Richard Bloss, Mrs. W. H. Warrington, Miss Winifred Callahan and Mrs. Chester Hall.

Subscribed $30,000. Women of Fort Wayne have already subscribed $30,000 to the Liberty Loan cause, a canvass of the downtown booths of the women's organization on Monday noon showed.

Verdin Buys Bonds. At a Sunday afternoon meeting members of the Brueckner Unterstuetzung Verein voted unanimously to purchase $1,000 in bonds of second Rippe, secretary of the German organization.

Arrange for Banquets. Members of the central committee of the Liberty Loan campaign will meet on Monday evening at the Liberty Loan headquarters to arrange for the series of noonday luncheons to be held by the officers in the big drive, which opens on Tuesday.

Cedar Creek Workers. At a meeting of the Cedar Creek boosters the men agreed to form the following teams:

Team 1—Herbert Schwartz, Harry Bender, Gerry Bates, Allen Warner.

Team 2—John C. Kryder, A. S. Abbott, Frank Kryder, Louis Michels.

Team 3—William Tonkel, G. W. McComb, A. W. Egly, Arley Frederick.

Team 4—Henry Hostler, Noah Wilks, George Kumpfel, Henry Witmer.

Team 5—Herman Schlatter, H. S. Miller, Frank Klopferstein, E. Croy Martz.

Team 6—John C. Lantz, Christ Shank, Kent Stevick, George Tonkel.

Team 7—William Warner, Albert Klopferstein, Elmer Garman, Benjamin Disler.

Team 8—William Goldsmith, Al P. Smith, Charles Stevick, C. E. Kryder.

For the Farmers. The quota for each township of Allen county is placed at $200,000. Never have the farmers of the county been in better shape than now to do their duty. It is brought home strongly that if any one fails to do his duty in loaning to Uncle Sam the required $200,000,000 at this time, he strengthens the possibility that the German emperor will demand that the people of the United States pay his war debt of $30,000,000,000 without any return except of slavery of the vilest form.

W. C. Schwieler, director of the township campaign, issues the following appeal:

"To All Allen County Liberty Loan Workers:

"Greeting: "1. Be prepared and stay on the job for the four days of the campaign, October 23, 24, 25 and 26.

"2. You are the messenger of the United States government. Collect the 2 per cent of each subscription and keep it safe for the bond purchaser. Be sure and indicate the bank he wants his subscription on.

"3. Be sure to discharge your duty in all particulars. Study your subscription blanks and confine your work to the territory assigned to you.

"4. Call on every person in your district.

"5. The quota for your township should show at the very least the sum of $200,000.00.

"6. Be courteous to those you call on, and be sure to sell him the utmost of his financial ability.

"7. Do not sell a $50.00 bond to a person who can afford to purchase a $5,000.00 bond.

"8. In each instance try your best to get the 2 per cent down payment on the subscription. However, if there are cases in which the party solicited cannot at the moment pay the 2 per cent, do not turn down the subscription; have him indicate the time, which must be, of course, within a day or two, that he will make the 2 per cent down payment. This 2 per cent payment can be made at the bank where the party does his business.

"9. You must realize that there is a keen responsibility resting upon you in this campaign. This is the government's business and it must be done even if your own personal interests must be sacrificed a little. The time is short for the campaign and every worker expected to devote all his time to this success.

"10. When you finish the work in your district, sign your name to the envelope and return to your trustee. The trustee will please make his return not later than Saturday, October 28, to me at Liberty Loan headquarters, 11 E. Erie street, Fort Wayne, Indiana."

Yesterday in the Churches. Ringing appeals for an outpouring of patriotic dollars were heard from many of the city's pulpits yesterday, but in others there was silence on the subject of the Liberty Loan for the reason that the ministers state that the rulings of the church are such as to forbid the presentation of state matters from the pulpit. At the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception yesterday morning, Rev. John R. Quinn read a letter from Herbert George Daugherty, of Washington, D. C., and followed this with a powerful sermon appealing to his parishioners on behalf of the Liberty Loan. He declared it to be the duty of every loyal citizen to support the best government on earth. "The righteousness of the war will be brought home to us when we hear that among the victims or future sinkings or losses on the battlefield are the boys we know and love from the Fort Wayne homes," he said. "We can get behind Uncle Sam and serve our country in the Liberty Bond campaign. I sincerely appeal to you to be generous in this matter. Let each and every one of you who possibly can do so, respond to this call."

In all of the other Catholic pulpits similar messages were given. At Trinity church, a patriotic service was held in which the Stars and Stripes formed a feature of the procession. In his sermon of the morning, the rector, Rev. E. W. Averill, reviewed America's participation in the war and inspired the people to the most complete support of the government in this time of national peril.

At Plymouth Congregational church, Rev. A. J. Folsom, who has delivered a number of patriotic addresses during the war period, outdid his former efforts yesterday morning in his appeal for the support of the Liberty Bond campaign. He drove home the fact that to fail to come to the support of the government now, by loaning the required amount, will doubtless mean that the people of America will not only become the servants of a tyrannical ruler but will be compelled to pay outright with no thought of return, the Kaiser's entire war debt of thirty billion dollars.

Among the other ministers who spoke in the interest of the campaign are: Rev. Henry B. Master, of the First Presbyterian church; Rev. O. E. Tomes, of the West Jefferson Street Church of Christ.

At the General Electric Works. Beginning with an address by C. H. Worden, general chairman of the campaign, the program of the big work at the General Electric plant will open tomorrow. Francis J. Michel, 1639 Wells street, died Monday morning from complications of diseases. He was born on April 6, 1838, at Lengfurt, Bavaria, Germany. He immigrated to this country in June, 1873, and came directly to Fort Wayne. He followed the coverage trade for fifteen years, and then took employment with the Indiana Road Machine company as night watchman. He fulfilled these duties faithfully for twenty-five years, retiring from active service three years ago.

He is survived by the widow, Margaret Michel, and the following children: Charles J. Michel, the Wells street grocer; Joseph Michel, residing at Buffalo; John J. Michel, machinist at the Pennsylvania shops; and Mary L. Michel, milliner at the Gaskill millinery store. Eight grandchildren also survive.

Mr. Michel was well known and had always been an active church member, being a charter member of the Precious Blood Catholic church and a member of the school society, the Sacred Heart league, and the Holy Name society.

The remains will be taken to the home of Charles J. Michel, 1743 Wells street, where funeral services will be conducted Thursday morning at 8:30 o'clock and at 9 o'clock from the Precious Blood church. Interment in Catholic cemetery. Friends kindly inform friends.

street and approaching the intersection at a rapid rate.

Mrs. Clara Jordan, 501 West Fourth street, was thrown from the seat of her husband's automobile when the machine collided with a street car at the corner of Sherman and Huffman streets Sunday morning.

Mrs. Jordan was cut about the arms and her body was badly bruised. She was taken into the home of Dr. J. W. Bowers for temporary treatment and later removed to her home. She will recover.

Mrs. Jordan drove the automobile against the street car, it is reported to the police.

Henry Tipton, a teamster, reported to the police that an automobile, the number of which he could not secure, struck his wagon at the corner of Eliza and McCulloch streets Sunday evening. Tipton was thrown to the street and his back hurt.

Theodore W. Walda, manager of the Independent Printing company, reported to the police Saturday evening that a car driven by a woman struck one of his wagons, damaging it and injuring the horse. She did not stop, however, and her identity could not be learned.

The machine belonging to Dr. A. H. Macbeth was run into at the corner of Douglas avenue and Calhoun street by an automobile driven by Alfred Bachman. The splintering windshield slightly injured Hans Quas, a 5-year-old boy who was present at the corner.

James Brown, of the Rolling Mill district, sustained painful injuries when he tried to avoid an automobile. He turned into the curb and was thrown off his wheel in front of a heavily laden wagon. Although his injury is not serious the leg is badly bruised and swollen.

Indanapolis, Oct. 22.—Gilbert H. Hendren, state examiner of the state board of accounts, was stricken at his desk in the state house shortly before noon today in a serious condition. A diagnosis of Mr. Hendren's illness had not been announced.

CAN IMPORT BOOZE. Washington, D. C., Oct. 22.—The solicitor of the treasury today decided that distilled spirits may be imported into the United States notwithstanding the prohibition against such importation contained in the food bill.

A section of the revenue law passed nearly two months after the food bill, the solicitor held, repealed the prohibition of spirits in the food bill.

BARRETT SAYS IT IS HONOR TO COME HERE

Director of Pan-American Union Principal Speaker at Big Demonstration.</

Welcome the Flying Squadron

Greet Them As Friends For They Bring You Opportunity

These are days making glorious history for Fort Wayne and Allen County. Hundreds of our business men are carrying the Liberty Bond message throughout the city. They are the Government's volunteer representatives.

Welcome them when they come to you. Be ready, for they bring the greatest opportunity the greatest country in the world ever offered its great people.

They bring you the chance to say to all the world, not alone in words, but in ACTION, that your country has the backing of its great, earnest, determined people, to the last heart throb, to the last breath of life, to the last dollar.

They bring the chance to put safely the power of every dollar YOU have back of the armies of your country, back of its navy, back of that overwhelming tempest of right that shall make this world safe for you and for your children hereafter.

When these Flying Squadron men come to you and say—
"Buy

U. S. GOVERNMENT LIBERTY 4% BONDS"

you should fairly shout "I will"—for that really means the chance to buy an interest in your Government!

Liberty Bonds are the Government's promise to pay in gold the entire face value, the principal, of these bonds in a stipulated time, and to pay you 4 per cent. interest on the money you invest in this way in the righteous battle for Democracy. They are as "good as gold"—and better, for they draw interest.

But those who invest in Liberty Bonds will get another return, an even greater return than the money return!

The greatest return of all will be the pride you will have in knowing that you—
you yourself—are a real, active, vital force in this colossal enterprise which, like an avalanche that nothing can stop, is rolling on and on to overwhelm an enemy that calls might right;

—that takes any inhuman means whatever to gain its ends;
—that would throttle the world in a choking grip of military power;
—and if not defeated would make this, our country, pay the price of this world war.

Buy Liberty Bonds now, today—buy them for all you are worth. Don't take a $50 bond if you can take a $100—don't take a $100 bond if you can take a $500 bond—don't take a $500 bond if you can take a $1,000 bond.

Buy Liberty Bonds with every dollar you have, or every dollar you can borrow from your banker. Buy them on the installment plan, $1.00 down and $1.00 a week for every $50 bond you buy—$2.00 down and $2.00 a week for every $100 bond you buy.

Every dollar you invest will be in the safest place you could possibly put it—and every dollar will get 4 per cent. interest.

Get A Badge of Honor What Liberty Bonds Are

They are the Government's promise to pay the face value of the Liberty Bonds.

They bear 4% interest payable in United States gold coin November fifteen and May fifteen each year for the life of the Bonds.

They can be purchased for as little as $50, $100, $500, and up.

Information will be given and subscriptions taken at any bank, trust company, department store, bond house, the Liberty Bond Subscription Station, 116 East Berry St., or by Flying Squadron men.

You can buy Liberty Bonds on easy payments.

Surely no man or woman anywhere in this great United States of America can hold back and not some time feel ashamed.

Go to the Liberty Bonds Subscription Station or to your banker—sign the coupon and take it with you today.

Special Sale of Oriental Rugs and Carpets

The reductions in price apply to all rugs in our collection. Our regular prices are necessarily marked too moderately to be subject to general reductions and yet all the rugs in this sale are taken from our regular stock and reductions in prices are genuine and substantial. We have tried to make the arrangements of qualities, sizes and prices of the rugs included in this sale as broad as possible. We give a guarantee of complete satisfaction with every purchase. Each Rug has been personally selected by our Oriental Rug Buyer, K. B. YOHANNAN.

Since the selection is necessarily limited, we advise an early call. You will save money by buying your rug in this sale.

"LANKY BOB" COUNTED OUT

Greatest Glove Fighter of Them All is Put Out for Good.

FITZSIMMONS IS PNEUMONIA VICTIM Remarkable Ring Career is Brought to Close by a Brief Illness.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 22.—Robert Fitzsimmons, former heavyweight pugilist of the world, died at a hospital here early today after an illness of five days of pneumonia.

The former champion was taken ill last Tuesday while appearing in a vaudeville theater and his illness was at first diagnosed as pneumonia poisoning. Later, it was discovered that he was suffering from double lobar pneumonia and physicians declared he could not live. His remarkable vitality sustained him until Saturday when he lapsed into unconsciousness from which he did not rally except at rare intervals.

During the five days of his illness, Fitzsimmons was the recipient of many messages from men whom he had formerly met in the ring, including James J. Corbett, from whom he won the championship, and James J. Jeffries, who took the title from him. Other pugilists and followers of the sport sent telegrams to the fighter and his wife, expressing hope of a speedy recovery.

Nerve Kept Him Alive. Fitzsimmons, until he sank into his final stupor, fought for his life as he had fought for victory in the ring. Physicians declared life was prolonged several days by the grim determination of the man. Mrs. Fitzsimmons, who was with her husband during his illness, suffered a nervous breakdown last Thursday and for a time it was believed her condition was dangerous, but she soon recovered and resumed her vigil at his bedside.

"Bob was a great fighter and a good husband," said Mrs. Fitzsimmons. "He worked hard on the theatrical circuit and I believe the exposure between the acts and the drafts which blew through the wings caused his illness."

Robert, Jr., son of the dead pugilist, is expected to arrive here from New York today.

Funeral services for the dead fighter will be held at the Moody tabernacle Wednesday. Burial will be at Graceland cemetery.

Came to the Last. "Fighting Bob" lived up to his reputation to the end. He refused to admit defeat even after physicians had given up hope.

Fitzsimmons always was referred to as an Australian because it was there that he started his ring career, but he was born in Helston, Cornwall, England, June 4, 1862. His parents, however, moved to New Zealand.

Fitzsimmons started work in his father's blacksmith shop and at the age of 18 gained fame for his dexterity in swinging a heavy hammer and fashioning horseshoes. It was said he could shape two while others made one. Naturally athletic, Fitzsimmons engaged in all kinds of sports. Before taking up boxing he was a hammer thrower and long distance runner. His speed and endurance were so marvelous that he was given to hunting kangaroos afoot.

Career of Great Battles. In 1880 a lanky, ungainly youth of 18 strode into Timara, New Zealand, and asked his way to the arena where Jim Mace, the old English champion, was holding his boxing tournament.

The youth was homely and freckled. His arms were long and hung almost to his knees. His hands showed signs of hard toil. His clothes were old and not of the latest mode. His questioners laughed in derision when he said he was going to enter the tournament against the best boxers on the island.

But the laugh was on them a few hours later when the youth had measured four of them on the mat.

It was the first public ring appearance of Bob Fitzsimmons, greatest of them all, who has just been counted out by the Great Referee in his bout with death, the knockout king.

For the next few years Fitz stayed in the Antipodes winning battle after battle and in 1890 came to America, where his first two decisive victories secured him a match with Jack Dempsey, "The Nonpareil," undefeated middleweight champion of the world. Fitz knocked out Dempsey in thirteen rounds in New Orleans, Jan. 14, 1891, and his fame was secure.

For the next few years Fitz met and defeated all of the great middleweights, and light heavyweights of his time, including Black Pearl, the great Peter Maher, Joe Choynski, Joe Godfrey and Dan Creedon.

From 1894 to 1897 he followed Jim Corbett around the country imploring for a match until Corbett was forced into the fight which resulted in his defeat in fourteen rounds at Carson City, Nev., March 17, 1897.

It was more than two years before Fitz again entered the ring. In the meantime he filled many vaudeville engagements, showing horses and stage, punching the bag and boxing with his sparring partners, illustrating the solar plexus punch which had sent Corbett down to defeat.

For his first battle he picked Jim Jeffries, who by many was considered a set-up for him. For nine rounds he battered the crowd, but after having the better of the California giant on points Fitzsimmons went down to defeat in the eighth round. Old-timers of the ring say that the last knock at the hands of Jeffries started Fitzsimmons on the downward path.

In 1902 Jeffries again knocked out Fitz, who in the meantime had defeated Gus Ruhlin, Tom Sharkey and others.

In fighting Jeffries he hoped to regain the crown, but after having the better of the California giant on points Fitzsimmons went down to defeat in the eighth round. Old-timers of the ring say that the last knock at the hands of Jeffries started Fitzsimmons on the downward path.

In later years he was stopped by Jack O'Brien, Jack Johnson and Bill Lang. Fitzsimmons fought his great fights against heavyweights as a middleweight. He seldom weighed much over 160 pounds even when he met the giant Jeffries and Dunkhorst.

Fitzsimmons was married four times. His present wife acted as his theatrical manager and was with him when he was stricken with the malady which ended his life.

He has one child, a son, whom he prepared for the ring a few years ago. The younger Fritz never proved a sensation, and has practically given up boxing.

Fitzsimmons made a fortune in the ring, but his earnings soon vanished.

FITZ'S CONQUEROR GRIEVES. Burbank, Cal., Oct. 22.—James J. Jeffries, who won the heavyweight championship from Bob Fitzsimmons at Coney Island, June 9, 1897, with a knockout in the eleventh round, expressed deep sorrow today at the news of the latter's death.

"He was a great old general," he said. "He was one of my best friends and I am sorry he has gone."

Fitzsimmons visited Jeffries on the latter's ranch near here about two months ago when, Jeffries said, they "talked over old times."

STATE W. C. T. U. MEET ENDS WITH BIG RALLY

Largest Convention Except One Ever Held by the Union in Indiana.

Anderson, Ind., Oct. 22.—The convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union will end this afternoon in a suffrage rally that will be addressed by Mrs. Deborah Knox Livingston, of Bangor, Me., superintendent of the franchise department of the National Woman's Christian Union.

The attendance at the Anderson convention has been the largest, with one exception, in the history of the state. There has been less of temperance talk heard in the meetings, but other activities in women's work have had unusual attention especially along war, suffrage and anti-narcotic lines. E. S. Shumaker, of Indianapolis, who is an honorary member of the W. C. T. U., made the prediction in addressing the convention that it will not be a year until the United States will have wartime prohibition and within three years national prohibition.

In the election of officers Mrs. Culla J. Vayhinger, of Upland, was elected state president; Mrs. Elizabeth Stanley, of Liberty, vice president; Miss Rose Pearce, of Bicknell, recording secretary; Miss Clara Sears, of Indianapolis, treasurer.

Sunday was a big day with the white ribbon guests who are here in the Antipodes winning battle after battle and in 1890 came to America, where his first two decisive victories secured him a match with Jack Dempsey, "The Nonpareil," undefeated middleweight champion of the world. Fitz knocked out Dempsey in thirteen rounds in New Orleans, Jan. 14, 1891, and his fame was secure.

For the next few years Fitz met and defeated all of the great middleweights, and light heavyweights of his time, including Black Pearl, the great Peter Maher, Joe Choynski, Joe Godfrey and Dan Creedon.

From 1894 to 1897 he followed Jim Corbett around the country imploring for a match until Corbett was forced into the fight which resulted in his defeat in fourteen rounds at Carson City, Nev., March 17, 1897.

It was more than two years before Fitz again entered the ring. In the meantime he filled many vaudeville engagements, showing horses and stage, punching the bag and boxing with his sparring partners, illustrating the solar plexus punch which had sent Corbett down to defeat.

For his first battle he picked Jim Jeffries, who by many was considered a set-up for him. For nine rounds he battered the crowd, but after having the better of the California giant on points Fitzsimmons went down to defeat in the eighth round. Old-timers of the ring say that the last knock at the hands of Jeffries started Fitzsimmons on the downward path.

In 1902 Jeffries again knocked out Fitz, who in the meantime had defeated Gus Ruhlin, Tom Sharkey and others.

In fighting Jeffries he hoped to regain the crown, but after having the better of the California giant on points Fitzsimmons went down to defeat in the eighth round. Old-timers of the ring say that the last knock at the hands of Jeffries started Fitzsimmons on the downward path.

In later years he was stopped by Jack O'Brien, Jack Johnson and Bill Lang. Fitzsimmons fought his great fights against heavyweights as a middleweight. He seldom weighed much over 160 pounds even when he met the giant Jeffries and Dunkhorst.

Fitzsimmons was married four times. His present wife acted as his theatrical manager and was with him when he was stricken with the malady which ended his life.

He has one child, a son, whom he prepared for the ring a few years ago. The younger Fritz never proved a sensation, and has practically given up boxing.

Fitzsimmons made a fortune in the ring, but his earnings soon vanished.

FITZ'S CONQUEROR GRIEVES. Burbank, Cal., Oct. 22.—James J. Jeffries, who won the heavyweight championship from Bob Fitzsimmons at Coney Island, June 9, 1897, with a knockout in the eleventh round, expressed deep sorrow today at the news of the latter's death.

"He was a great old general," he said. "He was one of my best friends and I am sorry he has gone."

Fitzsimmons visited Jeffries on the latter's ranch near here about two months ago when, Jeffries said, they "talked over old times."

DEATH CLAIMS PROF. LANE

Well Known Educator Expires Suddenly in an Automobile.

HAD BEEN IN POOR HEALTH SOME TIME

Deceased Had Been Principal of High School Thirty-Six Years.

Professor Chester T. Lane, 65 years old and for thirty-six years principal of the Fort Wayne high school, died suddenly Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock while riding in the family automobile. An attack of heart trouble came upon him unexpectedly while riding a half mile south of Hoagland.

Professor Lane had been in poor health for some time and two years ago was compelled to retire from the principalship of the high school as a result of heart disease.

Mrs. Lane was driving when her husband was fatally stricken. He expired almost immediately. She drove as rapidly as she could to the office of a physician in Hoagland. The physician pronounced him dead. His body was later brought to the home in this city at 2533 Maple place.

Born in Michigan.

Prof. Lane was born in Jackson county, Mich., October 31, 1851, the son of David and Minerva J. (Crawford) Lane, both of whom were natives of New York. He remained upon the farm of his parents until he was fifteen years old, and then entered the public schools of Jackson, Mich., to which city his parents had moved. He was graduated from the high school in 1869, and in the fall of 1870 entered the university of Michigan, where he was graduated in June, 1874, after completing a full classical course.

Taught at Ypsilanti.

Prof. Lane accepted the principalship of the high school at Ypsilanti, Mich., the next fall, and occupied the position five years, coming to Fort Wayne in the fall of 1879, to accept the principalship of the Fort Wayne high school. His educational work during the decade he had passed in Fort Wayne, had been of the highest order in his department of instruction, and he had become widely known as a successful teacher.

Socially as well as professionally, he occupied a high rank. In politics he was independent of party and very much interested in the progress of reform of the civil service.

The deceased is survived by the widow and the following children: Elmer B. Lane, London, manager of a typewriter company branch in England; Ralph C. Lane, Indianapolis, automobile dealer; Winthrop D. Lane, New York city, survey magazine; Robert F. Lane, Philadelphia, of the Curtis Publishing company, and Mrs. Herman Breidenstein, of this city. There also are eight grandchildren.

TREAT FOR ELKS AT SOCIAL SESSION

Many Noted Speakers Are on Programs Which Open Thursday.

The first of a series of social sessions arranged for this winter will be held Thursday night at the Elks' temple, on West Berry street. George E. Colby, cartoonist, will feature the program, which will be followed by a chicken pie dinner at which Byron H. Hayes will act as toastmaster. The Elks will hold a Halloween dance, which promises to be one of the best dances of the season, Wednesday, October 31.

Other programs to be held later show many interesting features. November 22, Donald E. McGibney, of the French ambulance service, will give a talk on the present war. December 2, Fred VanNuy, state senator, of Anderson, will deliver the memorial address. January 24, Ralph Bingham will be here, and on March 28, Strickland Gilliam will appear. Both of these men are noted humorists. Many other programs have been arranged which will be announced later.

DESTROY THE RATHOLES AND STARVE THE RATS

Italian Expert Says Fleet
of Bombing Planes Can
Choke U-Boats.

By BASIL M. MANLY.
Washington, D. C., Oct. 22.—Big, bomb-dropping airplanes, organized in large squadrons for the daily bombardment of submarine bases and repair stations, are the best U-boat exterminators, Captain Lamberto Vannutelli, naval attaché of the Italian embassy, said today in an exclusive interview for the Daily Sentinel.

"Destroy the rat-holes, and starve the rats," is a graphic summary of Captain Vannutelli's proposal.

Captain Vannutelli spent two years in command of the Italian navy anti-submarine forces, and knows the problem from A to Z.

"If we would bombard each submarine base every day with only 20 planes of the size and explosive-carrying capacity of the Caproni machines, which recently made flights over Washington," said Captain Vannutelli, "we would soon wreck all the docks, repair shops and submarine factories. Without supplies, without repairs, the submarines would be rendered helpless in a few weeks."

"Conceive for yourself the damage that would be done if 20 planes, each carrying at least a ton of high explosive, should drop this day after day on the factories and docks of a single submarine station. And aside from all physical destruction, think of the effect on the workers."

"Could not the submarine bases be protected by anti-aircraft guns?" You ask. To some extent. But the large airplanes, the greater its immunity from shell-fire. Our giant Capronis have repeatedly returned safely after being riddled with shrapnel. They have three motors; you may shoot away one, or even two, and she will still be able to fly home. Their wings span more than a hundred feet, and whole sections may be shot away before they are forced to descend.

"How many planes would be necessary? I can speak only of the Italian problem. On the Austro-Hungarian coast are five submarine bases—Trieste, Pola, Sebenico, Fiume, and Cattaro—all within easy flying distance from Italy. With a squadron of 20 for each, there would be 100 planes in each attack. But for daily attacks, essential to success, there must be at least four times the number to provide for repairs and recuperation of pilots. An aerial navy of 400 giant planes for Italy would soon render the submarine bases on the Adriatic practically worthless."

From another source I learn that the German submarines in the Atlantic are operating from not more than half a dozen bases, which at the same rate of consumption would require an aerial navy of only 500 great bombing planes. Suppose we triple this number to allow for the admittedly greater extent and difficulty of such bases as Wilhelmshaven and Kiel, we still find that only 2,000 planes would be required to pull the teeth of the submarines.

The development of an allied aerial fleet of 2,000 great airplanes during the next few months would require, in the opinion of experts, nothing more than co-operation and careful planning.

Suffered Terribly From a Burning Sensation in His Stomach.
"Last summer I had a bad spell of indigestion that lasted about ten days. There was a terrible burning sensation and a good deal of gas in my stomach. I suffered terribly at times, being unable to get relief until I took a friend's advice and began using Chamberlain's Tablets. The relief from the first was very apparent, and by taking only half a bottle of them I was cured."—Advertisement.

Medicines That Aid Nature Most Effectual.
As a general rule the medicines that aid Nature are most effectual. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy acts on this plan. It loosens the cough, relaxes the lungs, opens the secretions and aids Nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. When you have need of such a medicine give it a trial. You will never regret it.—Advertisement.

Military experts do not regard these figures as entirely accurate, but believe they represent in round numbers the comparative strength of the contending armies as published recently. made by President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor.

"The world is engaged in a life and death struggle to determine whether imperialism and autocracy or freedom and democracy shall prevail," said Mr. Gompers. "The United States and her allies are contending for the latter. The man power and the wealth of our country are pledged to make that contention good."

"Many of our men are in France. Others are being prepared to go over there, offering the supreme sacrifice, if necessary, in defense of the great principles for which the democracies of the old world are fighting."

All must render aid.

"It behooves every man and every woman to furnish the means by which all the needs of our fighting forces shall be supplied and the only way these needs can be met is by money."

The government of the United States has issued a new liberty loan bond. It is by all means the safest investment which can be made. The wealth and the honor of the government of the United States are behind it. In addition there is four per cent. interest on the investment. To buy a bond is not sacrificing or giving anything to the government. It is simply loaning the money.

"I appeal to all my countrymen, particularly to the men of labor of America, to do all in their power to buy a liberty bond and suggest that the purchase of the bond be made on Wednesday, Oct. 24."

Applaud in Large Sections. The closing week of the campaign is being hampered by apathy on the part of certain rural communities in the middle west and south and by reports of deliberate efforts on the part of the treasury department to make the return appear less than the figures actually show. The department has called attention to these reports and issued an emphatic denial, adding that only the actual figures had been given out.

NEW YORK KEKED UP.

New York, Oct. 22.—With financial machinery geared into high speed the New York stock market yesterday set out to sell $550,000,000 worth of Liberty Bonds before subscriptions close on Saturday in order to complete the district's quota of $1,500,000,000. Despite the discouraging progress of the first three weeks of the drive, which reduced only $650,000,000, predictions were made today that New York would meet the test. In the last few banking hours of the campaign Guy Fawkes, director of publicity, says he expects subscriptions to pour in at the rate of one million dollars a minute. Features of the drive here today are a Liberty Loan rally on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange with Mayor President W. H. Taft as the principal speaker.

a ten days' supply, this order being intended to prevent hoarding and speculation, the last factor being practically eliminated by the fixed price.

action reads in part: "Despite the difficult conditions and the enemy's measures to prevent our sorties from Moon sound we succeeded without loss and in perfect order in evacuating not only the bulk of our military forces, but also the whole of the naval installation in Moon sound, notably the transports and smaller craft."

"We left the whole of the abandoned base and the adjoining region in a condition rendering it entirely unserviceable for military purposes. Our naval forces are protected by the north entrance of Moon sound against fresh attacks."

SUMMARY OF THE DAY'S WAR NEWS

Along a somewhat wider front, extending towards Poelcapelle and possibly taking in the area of that town, which has been the scene of some desperate fighting within the last few weeks. The German reactions were extremely persistent.

Both groups of attacking troops scored early successes. Paris announced that all their objectives were attained by the French troops, while Field Marshal Haig reported satisfactory progress for the British.

The operation apparently is aimed at bringing the left flank of the allied advance somewhat further forward as a support to the center where the wedge has been driven farthest into the German front.

British naval airmen who raided German bases in Belgium and Holland scored successes at 1:30 Wednesday afternoon at the home and at 2 o'clock in the church; interment in the Coldwater road cemetery. Friends kindly omit flowers.

Russian naval units in the northern part of the Gulf of Riga have outwitted the superior German forces and have escaped from Moon sound, where they apparently had been bottled up after the engagement in and about the sound last week.

The Russian warships made their escape without losses and are now in position protecting the northern entrance to Moon sound.

The new position of the Russian squadron probably will compel the Germans to give battle if they wish to enter the Gulf of Finland by going through the sound between Dago Island and the coast of Esthonia. The military forces in the Moon sound region were met successfully by the Russians, who also rescued their transports and smaller craft. Before their retirement they destroyed all positions of military value to the enemy.

In addition to the warships and transports already reported sunk by the Russian navy, a German submarine was sunk by a Russian submarine. Two torpedoes were fired by the same submarine at a German dreadnought of the Markgraf type, vessels of 25,000 tons displacement. Being attacked, the submarine was disabled.

One torpedo detonated and the submarine on rising again saw clouds of smoke.

Berlin officially admits the loss of four Zeppelins of the squadron which raided England Friday night. The official statement, however, fails to announce the loss of the home of the other members of the contingent. Berlin claims that several English cities and ports were attacked with special success, including London, Manchester, Birmingham and Hull.

In Flanders the artillery activity continues to be violent, while British airmen have been busy raiding German airbases and other military points behind the German lines. Hundreds of bombs have been dropped on the airbases and railway stations at Roulers, Courtrai, Ingelmars and Gontrode and on German billets.

On Sunday British aviators made a raid into Germany and bombed with excellent results a foundry and railway junction ten miles north of Saarbrücken, northwest of Metz. Nine German machines were downed by the British aviators and four others were driven down out of control.

Emperor William returns to Berlin today and among his engagements are political conferences with Prince von Dassel and Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the former imperial chancellors.

Prince von Dassel has been named as the probable successor of Dr. Michaelis, whose position as chancellor reports from Germany have indicated is most insecure.

The Japanese steamer Hitachi Maru from Yokohama for Liverpool is three weeks overdue at Delagoa Bay, Port Natal, East Africa and is believed to have struck a mine with the loss of all on board.

LOUISE RODENBECK IS CALLED BY DEATH

Well Known Allen County Pioneer Passes Away at Age of 89.

Louise Rodenbeck, aged 89 years, widow of Conrad Rodenbeck, died at her home, 526 Madison street, Monday morning from senile pneumonia. She was born in Germany and came to Allen county in 1851. She obtained her first view of this section of the country from the deck of a flatboat. After her husband's death she continued to reside on the farm with her son, Fred C. Rodenbeck, until three years ago. Her residence on the same farm covered a period of sixty-three years.

As one of the oldest residents of this section she was well known. She had always been active in church circles, and was a charter member of the St. Paul's Lutheran church. She is survived by eight children—Fred C. Rodenbeck, Rev. C. W. Rodenbeck, Mrs. Charles May, Mrs. Fred Busse, of Preble; Mrs. M. Connors, Mrs. Wm. Bartels, Mrs. H. Gieseking and Mrs. William Muhlenbruck. Two sisters in Germany, twenty-one grandchildren and ten great-grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services at 1:30 Wednesday afternoon at the home and at 2 o'clock in the church; interment in the Coldwater road cemetery. Friends kindly omit flowers.

ROGGE. Mrs. Wilhelmine Rogge, aged 71 years, died Sunday evening at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Henry Daele, 1338 East Lewis street. She was born in Germany, but came to this country at an early age. She settled in Fort Wayne in 1872. She was a member of the St. John's Reformed church and of the Ladies' Aid society of that congregation. Surviving relatives in clude one son, William Rogge, of Los Angeles, Cal., and three daughters, Wilhelmine Rogge, of Chicago; Mrs. Wm. G. Leininger, and Mrs. H. Daele, two brothers, Ernest and Frederick Schlickman, of Decatur and Magley, Ind., and one sister, Mrs. Frederick Hackmann. Five grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the residence, 1338 East Lewis street, and at 2 o'clock in the Lindenwood cemetery. Auto funeral.

BONDELL. Charles Bonde, aged 35 years, died at the Lutheran hospital from complications of diseases. Little is known concerning the dead man save that he has been confined to the hospital since Sept. 6, and that he was a veteran of the Spanish war. Klungvoan & Ryan will hold the remains until relatives are located.

JOHNSON. Evelyn Johnson, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Johnson, died at 6 o'clock Sunday morning at the home, 1230 Horace street. Funeral services Tuesday at 2 o'clock at the residence. Interment at Lindenwood.

SAPPENFIELD. Emma Sappenfield, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Sappenfield, 2028 Broadway, died Sunday evening at the home from exhaustion. Funeral services Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at the residence.

PAYTON. Mrs. Olive Payton, wife of Fred P. Payton, foreman at the Gas company, died at the St. Joseph hospital, where she had been confined since Thursday. The deceased was 43 years old, and resided at 1119 Cass street.

FUNERAL ANNOUNCEMENTS. Kiel.—Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Kiel at the residence, 81 Spring avenue, at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and at the St. Paul's Lutheran church at 2:30 o'clock. Interment in Concordia cemetery.

THANKS CITIZENS FOR GENEROSITY

David J. Davis Collects Goodly Sum to Buy Tobacco for Soldiers.

The Sentinel is in receipt of the following letter from David J. Davis, which is self-explanatory:

"Permit me, through the medium of your valuable paper, to thank the citizens of Fort Wayne for their generous contributions to our fund for sending smoking material to the boys of the 10th field artillery (Rainbow division). The total amount collected in Fort Wayne last week, in the theaters, where we took up free will offerings, was $353.51, which is one-fourth of the entire total necessary to purchase the amount of 'smoking comforters' which we intend to send to every man of the 1,800 members of the regiment. Fort Wayne, therefore, did nobly.

"I desire also, on behalf of Mrs. Davis and myself, to extend our sincere thanks to the management of the Palace orchestra, Lyric and Colonial theater, where we took up our collections, and also to the committee of Fort Wayne young ladies, headed by Miss Charlotte Alter, who so ably assisted us in taking up our collections. Thanks are also due to the members of the 'Merry-Go-Round' company for their assistance while playing at the Palace theater.

"For the courtesies shown us by the newspapers of Fort Wayne I cannot find sufficient words to express my thanks. I can only say that they showed the spirit of hospitality that Fort Wayne always shows to the 'stranger within its gates,' which is unsurpassed by any city in our great Hoosier state.

"If there should ever occur a time when either Mrs. Davis or myself can give expression by doing anything for Fort Wayne or its noble citizens, we are yours to command."

FROM DR. ARMANTROUT. Fort Wayne Doctor Is Now a United States Officer.

The following interesting letter is from Lieutenant W. M. Armantrout, a local dentist, formerly located at 1129 Maumee avenue:

"Mr. J. C. Link, Manager of Fort Wayne Dental Depot, Fort Wayne, Ind.: "Dear Mr. Link—Your letter, received and I am sure glad to know I still have a friend at home to keep me informed on local affairs, etc. We have a great camp here and I like it fine, for the weather is always warm and pleasant. We have now about 25,000 men here and will have 32,000 men filled up. There are over 800 buildings and tents. The roads are good, water is excellent and sanitary conditions right; good food and no beer. So far I am the only dentist in the service from Fort Wayne, but I am hoping that if there are more called they will be sent to this camp. As I understand it, however, no other dentists will be called until we are sent abroad, as the dental corps are now filled up and the next call for dentists will be made when the next new conscript army is made up. There are now over 1,000 reserve dentists, 250 national guard dentists and 171 regular army dentists in the service. I am only a short distance from the signal corps in Fort Wayne and see those boys quite often. They are looking well and happy."

Ten young men volunteered their services to the government Saturday and Monday morning and most of them have been sent to the main office at Indianapolis. The field artillery of the national guard is still open. The coast artillery is filling rapidly again, and a number of local colored boys have been inquiring about the opening in the service branches of the engineer units.

NO PEACE IN SIGHT SAYS LLOYD GEORGE

BRITISH PREMIER IS UNABLE TO SEE AN END OF GREAT WAR

Has Scanned Horizon Intently, Without Beholding Anything That Means More Than Armed Truce.

WOULD MEAN ANOTHER AND WORSE WAR

London, Oct. 22.—“I have scanned the horizon intently,” said Premier Lloyd George today, “and can see no terms in sight which will lead to enduring peace. The only terms now possible would mean an armed truce ending in an even more frightful struggle.”

Mr. Lloyd George said Germany would make peace now only on terms which would enable her to benefit by the war. He asserted that would be encouragement to every buccaneering empire in the future to try the experiment.

More than twice as many German submarines were lost in the first ten months of this year as in all of last year, the premier asserted.

The British tonnage lost monthly now is not much more than one-third of the total destroyed last April.

NEW DRIVE IS MADE.

Paris, Oct. 22.—French troops adjoining the British in Belgium this morning attacked on a front of one kilometer. The war office announces that all objectives were attained.

THE BRITISH REPORT.

London, Oct. 22.—Local attacks were made by the British this morning on both sides of the Ypres-Staden railway, the war office reports.

SIX GERMAN PLANES DOWNED.

London, Oct. 22.—Six German airplanes were brought down by the British naval forces.

DESTROYER WAS ALONE IN FIGHT WITH CRUISERS

London, Oct. 22.—The British destroyer, Mary Rose, fought single handed against the German cruisers in the convoy action in the North sea, according to a story ascribed to a British officer rescued off Bergen and transmitted by the Christiania correspondent of the Times. The other destroyer, which should have been present, never appeared and it is thought likely that it was destroyed at the beginning of the action.

After fighting heroically for half an hour, during which she was subjected to the most terrific concentration of fire, the Mary Rose sank.

Ten members of the crew were found clinging to pinnacles and rescued. The correspondent says that the reports of the butchery of the crews of their merchantmen pass description. Two women on one ship waved a piece of white cloth which was perfectly visible. They were silenced by a volley from the German cruiser.

PARADE IS NOT A CLUB WOMAN AFFAIR.

Mrs. H. O. Bruggeman, who is general chairman for arranging the Women's Liberty Bond parade for Tuesday evening, wants it understood that this is a parade for all the women of Fort Wayne. It is not a club woman's affair, but women and girls interested in displaying their loyalty and their interest and sanction of the liberty bond movement are not only requested but urged to gather at the Y. W. O. A. and its vicinity and march at 7:00 o'clock sharp, to Old Fort park, where the bonfire is to be lighted as near half past seven as possible, probably on the minute, as similar bonfires are to be started at that time all over the country. In some way the impression has gotten out that this movement is a women's club movement, but that is a mistake. It is an universal movement and every loyal hearted woman in the city able to stand on two feet should be out to participate.

DEALERS SAY SAVE SUGAR

Otherwise Many Homes in the City May Be Without Any.

PRESENT SUPPLY SAID TO BE SMALL

Some Relief Expected When Beet Sugar is Put on the Market.

Save your sugar or you may be without any.

This is the advice to housewives by Fort Wayne jobbers, who, if they have not already done so, may be compelled to limit the retailers' orders.

The only relief in sight, the jobbers say, is to come when beet sugar is in the market, which will be two or three weeks. When this product is in the market sugar will be cheaper, for the federal food administrator has fixed the price so that it will cost the jobber $1.10 a hundredweight, less than the present cane sugar, which only kind now in the market.

None of the big jobbers would predict that the present supply would last longer than the middle of next week.

The New York sugar market quotes sugar at $8.35 per barrel, at which quotation the market has been firm for some time. This is the price at which all Fort Wayne cane sugar has been bought for some time. Fort Wayne jobbers, buying at this price, pay $8.60 for the product, including the freight, delivered in Indianapolis. This shows that the local jobbers get a profit of from 14 to 25 cents.

By Food Administration.

The prices, as fixed by the food administration, to be applicable when the beet sugar is in the market, are $7.25 c. a h. New York, which delivered in Indianapolis means a cost of $7.50 to jobbers. The retailer then, according to the present range, should buy at $7.65 to $7.75. The price can not exceed the $7.75 mark, because the jobbers' profit is limited to 25 cents, which jobbers say is their usual margin.

The sugar situation, as it affects Fort Wayne is expected by local jobbers not to be unlike that prevailing in all cities east of the Mississippi river. Jobbers are forbidden by the food administration to have more than

INDIANA MINERS RETURN TO WORK SAYS PRESIDENT

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 22.—President Edward Stewart, of mine district No. 11, which includes all of the Terre Haute field, said this morning that all reports he had received indicated that all of the miners who were included in the wage walkout, were back at work. A local condition of interest prevailed today, which was responsible for 1,400 men in the coal field west of Terre Haute being idle. The miners' train was late Saturday and in retaliation, the miners declared that there would be no work Monday. There wasn't 1,400 men in four of the big mines west of this city that did not appear to go out on the trains.

The general walk out, however, seems entirely healed.

It is the rule with the miners that if they are delayed for a period of fifteen minutes or over by belated train service, there is no work next day.

Summary of the Day's War News

In co-operation with the French on his left Field Marshal Haig launched a new blow along a narrow front at the German lines northeast of Ypres this morning. The allied infantry moved forward in the neighborhood of the Ypres-Staden railway and on the outskirts of Houtholst wood, on the extreme northern edge of the active front in Flanders. The French advance was along a width of about three-fifths of a mile. The British attack was proba-

MEN IN ARMS 38,000,000

Almost Three-Fourths of Them Fight for Free Democracy.

MIGHTY FORCES ENGAGED IN WAR

Central Powers Have About Ten Millions of the Armed Forces.

Washington, Oct. 22.—At least 38,000,000 men are bearing arms in the war—27,500,000 on the side of the world allies and 10,600,000 on the side of the central powers—according to latest war department compilations from published reports in various countries.

These figures do not include naval personnel strength, which would raise the total several million. Against Germany's 7,000,000, Austria's 3,000,000, Turkey's 3,000,000 and Bulgaria's 300,000 are arrayed the following armed forces: Russia, 9,000,000; France, 6,000,000; Great Britain, 5,000,000; Italy, 3,000,000; Japan, 1,400,000; United States, more than 1,000,000; China, 641,000; Rumania, 320,000; Serbia, 300,000; Belgium, 300,000; Greece, 300,000; Portugal, 200,000; Montenegro, 40,000; Spain, 36,000; Cuba, 11,000, and Liberia, 400. JAP STEAMSHIP DOUBTLESS HIT MINE AND SUNK

Tokio, Oct. 22.—The Japanese steamship Hitachi Maru, due at Delagoa bay, Portuguese East Africa, October 1, is missing and is believed to have struck a mine with the loss of all on board. The number of passengers on board is not known but Mr. Onal, London manager of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, owners of the vessel, was among them. The Hitachi Maru, a vessel of 8,556 tons gross, sailed from Yokohama for Liverpool on August 29. She touched at Colombo, Ceylon, on September 24, but since then nothing has been heard from her.

NEW YORK HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS WILL WALK OUT

New York, Oct. 22.—Unless they receive assurances that the longed-for school day will be abolished, ten thousand school students in three New York high schools threaten to strike. A committee of boys and girls from each of the schools arranged for a conference with board of education officials this afternoon on the subject.

Following the students' conference the committee on high schools will listen to the grievances of the teachers who also want the lengthened day abolished.

The students insist that the longer day interferes seriously with their ability to obtain positions or leaves them little time for play and study outside of school hours.

CITY FACES MILK FAMINE

Situation May Reach Serious Proportions, It is Pointed Out.

DAIRMEN GIVE A PLAUSIBLE REASON

They Say That the Producers Are Selling Off Their Cattle.

Fort Wayne is experiencing a milk famine, which promises to reach serious proportions. Consumers are therefore asked to conserve on milk, as well as coal and sugar.

Consumers who have been in the habit of buying their milk from stores were hit the hardest Saturday and Sunday when they attempted to buy their milk there was but little to be had. And to add to the seriousness of the situation local dairies are taking on no new customers and those customers they now have are being limited.

The dairymen have a very plausible excuse for the situation. The producers, they claim, are selling off their cattle. They are reducing their cattle

TO TAKE COAL CENSUS AT COLUMBIA CITY

Action Taken as the Result of Present Coal Shortage.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Columbia City, Ind., Oct. 22.—Facing the present coal shortage will soon find this city without ample coal the citizens have formed a plan to take care of the situation as well as possible. The committee in charge of the movement is composed of Arthur S. Nowels, W. W. Williamson and W. F. Rossmann. These men will head the work of taking a coal census of the city, finding out the minimum amount of coal each consumer will need, and the amount now on hand. To further the plan the city has been divided into forty-three districts.

A meeting will be held at the Commercial club Tuesday evening to formulate further plans for the taking of the coal census. The committee will commence this work Wednesday morning.

KAISER BURBLES JOY AT SUCCESS OF SEVENTH LOAN

Amsterdam, Oct. 22.—Emperor William has sent to Count von Roeder, the German finance minister, a telegram of congratulations on the success of the seventh loan. It says:

"I am pleased highly at the splendid result of the subscriptions to the seventh war loan and I express to all concerned hearty thanks and congratulations for the successful work. Full of vigor and with a fixed aim before the eyes of the world the whole German people stands in the fourth year of the war at the side of its heroic sons in the field and behind the imperial government and the army command, ready for sacrifices of blood and treasure until the honor and freedom of the fatherland is assured against the assault of its enemies in superior force. May God bless all for their fidelity and self sacrifice by the happy advent of our peace."

GREAT ARMY OF TWO MILLIONS IN MIGHTY CHARGE

To Reach Five Billion Subscription Mark Aimed at Three Billions Remain to Be Secured.

LEGION OF BOY SCOUTS IN THE WORK

Washington, Oct. 22.—Two million men, women and children were working today throughout the nation, the treasury department announced, in a great endeavor to bring the Liberty Loan to a close next Saturday night with $5,000,000,000 in subscriptions.

Probably slightly little more than $2,000,000,000 now has been subscribed, says the treasury department's daily statement.

The men's sales forces alone, it is estimated, totals 600,000 men. The Boy Scouts engaged in a vigorous five-day campaign number 300,000.

At least 100,000 others are women workers. The second million is composed of speakers, clergymen, writers and school children. It is an army of all ages and nationalities. If the activities of each bond soldier result in the sale of two $50 bonds every day of the six remaining days of the campaign, the subscriptions can be run above $4,000,000,000 or $1,000,000,000 higher than the minimum named at the outset of the sale and $1,000,000,000 lower than the maximum quota desired.

SHOP AND RAILROAD NEWS

BOOMING THE BOND SALE AT LIGHTS

Novel Methods Adopted to Interest the Employees in the Campaign.

With the following list of five wires pushing the sale of the second Liberty Bonds at the General Electric plant, it is prophetic that the goal of a quarter million in subscriptions will be reached at the end of the campaign on Wednesday:

1. H. A. Hartman, general offices (Building 18 and Draughting Room in Building 16).
2. R. O. Off, Shipping and receiving department, including casting department, oil house, scrap department, wiring, insulating.
3. F. G. Fleming, Insulating department.
4. E. L. Haffner, Apparatus department (No. 17-1 and 2; Building 8; Building 2-2 and 3; pole stacking 2-1; Allot building 12), Thain 6-1.
5. J. Trautman, Small Motor department.
6. William Frisch, All Transformer department.
7. J. B. Mills, All Motor department (including motor work in Building 16).
8. William Wehrs, Induction Meter and Belled Alternators.
9. F. S. Schwartzkopf, Punch Press Building No. 15.
10. W. J. Hockett, Buildings 26-4 and 5.
11. F. J. Duryee, Maintenance and Operating departments (electrical and mechanical maintenance, power house, plumbers, blacksmith, tinmiths, carpenters labor, etc., switchboard department).
12. Howard Miller, Buildings 20, 22-23, Accounting Welding department, Thermostatic Metal department, Rock Drill Smith shop, Treating and Annealing departments.
13. William Garhan, General Team All Watchmen.

Each captain appointed his own lieutenant and workers and sent to O. R. Rinehart a list of these workers.

In order to show each one of the men and women just what he or she is buying, these Liberty Bonds of the highest denominations will be framed and mounted upon one of the industrial trucks, used about the works, and taken to the various departments for exhibition. Guards will accompany the truck, in order to prevent anyone from his eagerness to possess a second bond from appropriating one of these for personal use.

The truths of the wisdom of purchasing a second Liberty Bond will be brought home to the employees by the pickets who will guard the various exits tomorrow bearing standards, not of the Silly Sally variety, but such as will cause the truly red American blood to course more rapidly in the veins and prompt a quick subscription to the second bond issue.

The casual onlooker might have guessed a snow storm had struck the great plant today, but upon examining the white-covered things going about, it was found that they were simply wearing the little tags bearing the word "I Shall Buy a Second Liberty Bond," which were distributed at the time-clocks today.

Five-minute talks relative to the purchase of the bonds were given throughout the various departments today by a "flying squadron" consisting of Hon. Judge John Eggegan, Avery Groves, H. H. Hilgemann, W. H. Reed and A. E. Thomas. At 5 o'clock Mr. C. H. Worden, of the First and Hamilton National bank, addressed a meeting of both office and factory employees, being introduced by the General Electric manager, Mr. F. S. Huntington.

TO PITTSFIELD ON BUSINESS.

Oscar Bender, the efficiency man in the transformer department of the General Electric works, and Harry Garrett, of the cost department, will leave tomorrow for Pittsfield, Mass., on business for the company which will keep them east the balance of the week.

THEODORE TITUS CALLED TO COLORS

Receives Commission of First Lieutenant in Engineer Corps at Washington.

A change incidental to the war which is of great importance to a number of persons connected with the Pennsylvania and other railway interests in Fort Wayne, is the retirement on a furlough of Theodore Titus from the office of electrical engineer of the Northwest system of the Pennsylvania and the appointment of A. S. Courtney to that office. Mr. Titus Monday morning received a telegram from the war department at Washington that he had been commissioned first lieutenant in the engineer corps and that he should report for duty at Washington next week and be ready to leave soon for France. Mr. Titus will leave for Washington next Monday. He will spend a few days in Chicago looking after some business and has practically already retired from the railway position and Mr. Courtney is handling the affairs of the department. The furlough of Mr. Titus is automatic, in accordance with the rules of the company, and at the close of his service with the government, he can, if he wishes, resume his duties as electrical engineer. He is a young man of much ability and has been rapidly advanced in the ranks of the Pennsylvania. His service with the company commenced June 24, 1912, soon after completing his university course and he relinquished the office of the new engineer when E. B. DeWitt was transferred to Toledo last winter in a higher position. Mr. Courtney has been employed at the shops and offices of the Pennsylvania for a number of years, coming here from the east, where he graduated from a polytechnic school. For over a year he was connected with the valuation department, with headquarters in a coach in the shop yards fitted up for that purpose. He has served the company as a motive power inspector, a department foreman in the shops and at the round house and in several other capacities. He is familiar with the work he is now called upon to perform.

CO-OPERATION IS NECESSARY.

It Must Be Observed to Handle Christmas Packages to Soldiers in Camp.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 22.—A campaign for early shipment of Christmas packages was inaugurated at a joint meeting of the American Railway Association's car service committees of Chicago, Milwaukee and South Bend. Co-operation in this campaign was promised by representatives of the National Industrial Traffic League and the Chicago Association of Commerce.

Each railroad is to do everything possible to promote early shipments of Christmas packages, whether by mail or express, according to a resolution adopted by the car service committees.

The railway mail service of the government has expressed its appreciation of the plan of the railroads to handle promptly the unusually large amount of Christmas packages expected this year, but this cannot be done unless the public will ship such packages in advance of the usual time.

There will be approximately a million soldiers in the various cantonments and training camps who will receive Christmas packages of an average weight estimated at five pounds, or one-fourth of the maximum allowance for parcel post packages. To handle all these packages in a few days before Christmas will be physically impossible for the railways, express companies and the postal department. The postoffice department has fixed November 15 as the last day for mailing Christmas packages to our soldiers and sailors abroad.

"There is at the present time a shortage of baggage car equipment that affects the handling of mails," said P. J. Schardt, superintendent of railway mail service, "and this shortage will be felt more keenly with the approach of the holiday period, when the flow of mail increases far above normal."

"The selective army law has made serious inroads on our clerical force. Unless the public will take into consideration the shortage of equipment and labor that the railway mail service will be confronted with during the holiday period, serious congestion and consequent delays to Christmas mails will result, to say nothing of the disappointments to both senders and receivers of belated packages."

HARTMAN WINS SECOND TIME.

Captures the J. J. Wood Trophy at Shooting Match.

H. A. Hartman, who won the J. J. Wood cup offered to the best marksman in the Rifles club a year ago, was again the winner at the shoot on the outdoor range yesterday and has to win only once more to get permanent possession of the trophy. George Garvahn won the first match. The weather conditions were not favorable to good target work yesterday, but nevertheless the scores were good. There were five shots—300 S. 500 S. 500 S. 200 R. and 200 R. and the total of the scores were as follows:

F. N. POLLOCK DIES IN MILWAUKEE

Was Agent at Fort Wayne of Star Union Line Up to April, 1893.

Harry M. Quicksell, agent of the Star Union Line at Fort Wayne, has been informed of the death of F. N. Pollock, who was one of the first agents in Fort Wayne of the Union line, a Pennsylvania interest. Mr. Pollock was seventy-two years old and had been on the Pennsylvania retired list two years. He resided in Portland, Oregon, where he was the district agent of the line up to a retirement, but was taken ill and died while on a visit in Wisconsin, October 19. Mr. Pollock was in continuous service of the Star Union line thirty-four years, retiring under the pension rules, May 1, 1915. He was agent of the Union Line at Fort Wayne until April 1, 1893, when he was sent to Portland, Oregon, to open up an office, which was one of the first offices of its kind opened by the Pennsylvania in the west. Many of the old commission men, business men and shippers of Fort Wayne remember Mr. Pollock and will read with sorrow this notice of his death.

ELEX CLUB ENTERTAINMENT.

Annual Gathering to Be Held in Wall Street Building.

The large office building, No. 19, occupied by Mr. Moon, engineer of the induction motor department of the General Electric works, will be the scene of the annual party and entertainment of the Elex club Tuesday evening and the decorations are now being made. The Elex club is a social and educational feature for the benefit of the women employed at the big works and the early part of the meeting tomorrow evening will be devoted to a stage program which will include about an equal number of educational and amusement features, including some dances by Miss Ellen Hudson, a violin solo by Miss Marie Bowser, a trained elephant by the Duo club, monologues by Mrs. C. F. Mize, slight of hand by LaDelle and music by the Wayne Jazz band. The educational features will include an address by Prof. W. J. Hockett, of the apprentice school, who will explain the objects and aims of the Electro-Technic club, and an explanation of the Elex club classes for girls in gymnastics, ukulele chorus, basketry and social usages. After the program the club will serve refreshments prepared on electrical cooking apparatus at the hall, which in itself will be an interesting feature.

PAST THE $50,000 MARK.

Penny Shoppers Are Reaching the Sales of First Bond Issue.

The solicitors for the sale of liberty bonds among the employees of the Pennsylvania held a meeting at the committee room this morning and planned for the remaining days of the campaign. There were about fifty present, representing all departments, and in the absence of Supt. Otto Schroll, who was called out of the city on important business, Trainmaster C. L. Hamilton presided. All departments are rapidly liberally, but probably the greatest percentage of sales in proportion to the number of men employed is among the shopmen, though all are coming forward handsomely. Mr. Griest said this morning that 1,180 subscribers had bought $55,000 worth of liberty bonds and that the sales would reach and possibly pass the $75,000 mark before the campaign closes. In the former campaign the shopmen bought $50,000 worth of bonds.

H. A. MACBETH PROMOTED.

Called to Cleveland Office of Nickel Plate.

Bulletins issued by the Nickel Plate announce some important changes in the motive power department, effective November 1. On that date H. A. Macbeth, master mechanic at Conneaut, will go to the main motive power office in Cleveland as assistant motive power superintendent. T. W. Coe, formerly a New York Central man, will succeed Mr. Macbeth as master mechanic at Conneaut. Mr. Macbeth was superintendent of motive power of the Nickel Plate once, retiring about a year ago to the position at Conneaut. While superintendent of motive power he made frequent visits to Fort Wayne and became well acquainted with the men in the department who are stationed here.

TWO CROSSING ACCIDENTS.

Welden Mooney Killed and Two Slightly Hurt.

Welden Mooney, a farmer residing near Upper Sandusky, Ohio, was instantly killed on the Techanen crossing of the Pennsylvania, a mile east of the town, yesterday, when the closed buggy in which he was riding was struck by a Pennsylvania passenger train. The buggy was demolished, but the mule which pulled it, escaped injury. At Lima, at 4:15 Sunday morning Thomas O'Neal and his mother, Mrs. John O'Neal, were slightly injured when the buggy in which they were riding was struck by a Pennsylvania train. The accident happened on Metcalf street.

INTERESTING FEATURES OF THE LIBERTY BOND PARADE SATURDAY

The above pictures represent one of the most interesting features of the Liberty Bond parade Saturday afternoon. The upper picture represents one of the industrial trucks used at the General Electric works for handling material and machinery and bearing a five foot G. E. monogram, the truck being driven by H. Barnes, of the fire department. The lower picture is of one of the big street trucks, bearing automatic screw machine in operation making souvenir Springfield rifle cartridges, which were handed out by a lady in overalls to the spectators as the parade passed down the streets. Frank M. Thompson was the operator at the machine and Miss Florence Cartwright was the attendant.

GAVE REUTHER A WATCH.

The Full Fashioned Workers' union, branch No. 2, presented Arno Reuther, president of the union for two years, a handsome and valuable gold watch, suitably engraved. Friday evening, Mr. Reuther has been transferred and promoted to another department at the mills and the change necessitates his resignation as president of the Full Fashioned Workers' union. His resignation was a matter of regret to the members, with whom Mr. Reuther is very popular, and the gift of the watch was a token of their regards. Edward Stedie made the presentation speech. Bernard Stark, the vice president of the union, will serve the unexpired term as president and will probably be elected at the annual meeting in December.

BACK FROM INSPECTION TRIP.

W. H. Sherbondy, general foreman of the Pennsylvania power plant, has returned from an extensive inspection trip over the Central system of the Pennsylvania. Mr. Sherbondy was a member of the inspection party of whom the vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad, was at the head.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

William J. Bright, Jr., has accepted a position in the order department of the S. F. Bowser company. Roy Ralby, a dynamo assembler at the General Electric works, is sick and off duty. H. B. Eastman, who was taken sick a week ago, is still quite ill and is bed-fast. Machinist George Kayser, of the General Electric works, is sick and off duty. W. Long, brass moulder at the Pennsylvania shops, is unable to perform his duties, due to sickness. F. Roy, pipe fitter of the Pennsylvania, has returned to work after being on the sick list for the past week. Mrs. J. Buiga, of the Pennsylvania east car shops, has resumed her duties after being off sick. Jake Braun, who injured his finger while at work several days ago, has resumed his duties at the Pennsylvania planing mills. Ed Baade, cabinet maker at the Pennsylvania car shop, has resumed his duties after being off two weeks on account of sickness. George Ketchum, cab builder at the Pennsylvania old car shop, has returned to work after being on the sick list for the past ten days. A. J. Cassel, machine operator at at Detroit, has returned here to reside. He has taken employment at the Bowser works. Roy Wolford, watchman at the General Electric works, had the middle finger of his right hand crushed yesterday when it was caught between the gates as they closed. He was able to report for duty this morning. Miss Lulu Howard, formerly of the 5 and 10 cent store, took employment as a clerk with Foreman William Wehrs, in the induction motor department of the General Electric works, this morning. Charles H. Troutman, one of the conscripted men who is at a training camp, has received a change which is in line of promotion in the ranks. He has been transferred to the ordnance company barracks, Eighty-fourth division, U. S. A., at Camp Taylor, which is a most desirable change. Mrs. John J. Teeters, of 3115 South Wayne avenue, who was operated upon at the hospital last Thursday, is making satisfactory improvement and will soon be able to go to her home. Mr. Teeters is the traveling passenger agent for this territory of the Burlington. Two American flags, each 4x6 feet, were erected over the desks in the induction motor office at the General Electric works, the ceremony being under the supervision of W. H. Fell, the stockkeeper of the department. Mr. Fell is proud of the fact that these flags were the first erected in the department, which is one of the latest to be established at the works. It is located in building No. 19, on Wall street. Herman Breidenstein and Henry Woodworth, a couple erstwhile fishermen who are employed at the General Electric works, are pretty well disgusted with the piscatorial art as it affected them a few days ago. They went above the park, provided with plenty of good things to eat in case they failed to catch fish. They put the provisions on the ground, carefully covered them with a blanket, and went to get their lines and poles in the river. Then they returned to pitch their tent and prepare for a good time, but when they reached the site of the camp they found several hogs in the act of "cleaning up" on the provisions and all that remained was a can of beans.

ADDITIONAL CHURCHES

LARGELY ATTENDED.

Much Interest in Revival at Bowser Free Methodist Church.

Sunday was a notable day in the revival campaign in progress at the Bowser Free Methodist church. Large audiences greeted Evangelist Zahniser both morning and night. Several children professed conversion in the afternoon service. In the morning Rev. Zahniser preached upon "The Christ Life in Us," emphasizing the thought that Christ is made manifest in any community, as he lives in and shines out of his true followers. He said that any church or community which did not contain individuals in whom Christ dwelt was a Christless church or a Christless community. Persecution which may arise is directed not primarily at the individual, but at Christ. He gave several remarkable illustrations from his own observation.

In the evening the subject was "The Parable of the Talents." The evangelist spoke at length upon good looks, musical ability, social gifts, the power to make money, intellectual strength and argumentative powers, and showed how these talents are used unworthily by some, and how they should be used to the glory of God. The final reckoning with the master, with the attendant rewards and punishments, was graphically portrayed. Rev. Zahniser will continue to preach every evening at 7:30. Beginning with tomorrow he will preach afternoons at 2:30.

The St. John's Reformed church will hold a reception Monday evening in the church parlors in honor of the new pastor, Rev. William Beckman, and wife.

THERE WAS GASOLINE IN AUTOMOBILE TANK

Driver Who Investigated With Match Badly Hurt.

George Younghaus, 3118 Columbia street, was severely injured when he struck a match to see if there was gasoline in his automobile storage tank. The gasoline in the tank let go and Younghaus was badly burned about the face and arms.

The accident occurred on Maumee avenue after Younghaus had tried in vain to quiet his engine. When the machine continued "coughing" Younghaus tried to find out if there was plenty of gasoline. He lit a match at the opening of the container. There was a flash of fire.

Dr. Miles Porter, Jr., who was near at hand, was called upon to dress the wounds of the injured man. For a time it was feared that the sight of the patient might be impaired. He is resting better on Monday and is expected to make a rapid recovery.

DIES SIX MONTHS AFTER HIS MARRIAGE

Charles Brinkman, 28, of Garrett, is Victim of Bright's Disease.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Garrett, Ind., Oct. 22.—Charles Brinkman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brinkman, of North Randolph street, died this morning at 5 o'clock at the home of his parents, after a several months illness from Bright's disease. Mr. Brinkman was but 23 years old and leaves a young wife who became his bride but six months ago. Ten days ago they moved from their little home to the home of his parents, thinking possibly the change would be beneficial. However, he gradually grew worse and has been very low for two days. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

The entertainment to be given by the B. Y. P. U. of the First Baptist church, Tuesday, Oct. 23rd, has been postponed until further notice.

STILLMAN LOYAL.

He Makes Another Big Purchase of Liberty Loan Bonds.

There are few men in the country more loyal or patriotic than John Stillman, owner of the Grand Lander and a chain of stores throughout the central west. Saturday he subscribed for $30,000 worth of the Liberty Loan bonds from J. Wade Bailey, captain of one of the teams. Mr. Stillman purchased $20,000 worth the first issue, making in all $50,000.

ATTENDS MONUMENT MEETING.

Judge S. M. Hench, state G. A. R. commander, left Monday for Indianapolis, where he has a number of Grand Army affairs to transact. While there he will also attend a meeting of the committee in charge of the soldiers' and sailors' monument, of which he is chairman. The judge had decided to attend the meeting of the veterans of the Vicksburg campaign, which was held last week, but on account of a cold was unable to be present.

MACCABEES TO MARCH.

The Mad Anthony review, No. 27, Woman's Benevolent Association of Maccabees, will meet in their lodge room at 7 o'clock to prepare for the liberty parade Tuesday night. The lodge will hold a short session after the parade.

Uncle Harry Reviews Our Country's War Preparations

Uncle Harry and the other members of the club were sitting before the fire in the living room gazing at the burning logs and watching the sparks chase each other merrily up the chimney.

Helen was the first to break the silence. "Uncle Harry," she said, thoughtfully, "we've been at war with Germany a little more than six months haven't we? And in that time you've certainly given us some fine talks on the many wonderful things that the government has done in preparation just all that is taking place. But I think I can give you a very fair idea of just what our government has done in the past six months toward preparing the country for hard fighting."

"I want to hear this, too," said the boy's father, who had just entered the room and who now joined the little circle.

"Well, to begin with," said Uncle Harry, "when we talk about war we naturally think first of the armies and the navy.

It took about six months to light and win the Spanish-American War.

When six months getting ready to fight!

for the real fighting. But, do you know, sometimes when I get to thinking about food control, shipping boards, cantonnments, Liberty Loans and the great number of other things, I get them all jumbled in my mind and wonder whether it's possible for anyone to realize all that has been done."

Uncle Harry smiled and leaned forward in his chair. "I don't wonder that you feel bewildered sometimes, Helen; most of us grown-ups find it mighty hard to keep up with the news, there's so many things being done. And they're being done in such a big way and so rapidly that it's pretty hard to appreciate, sometimes.

Healthy Skin Depends on Kidneys

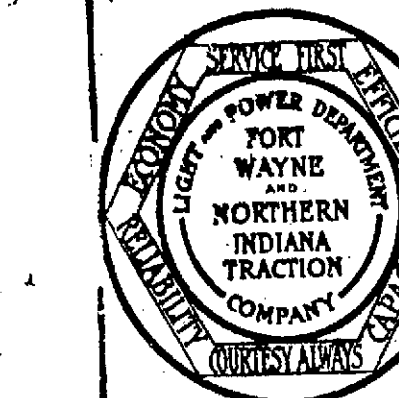

The skin and the intestines, which work together with the kidneys to throw out the poisons of the body, do a part of the work, but a clean body and a healthy one depends on the kidneys. If the kidneys are clogged with toxic poisons you suffer from stiffness in the knees in the morning on arising, your joints seem "rusty," you may have rheumatic pains, pain in the back, stiff neck, headaches, sometimes swollen feet, or neuralgic pains—all due to the uric acid or toxic poisons in the blood. This is the time to go to the nearest drug store and simply obtain a 50c. package of Auric (double strength), the discovery of Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y. Then drink a cup of hot water before meals, with an Auric Tablet, and notice the gratifying results. You will find that Auric dissolves uric acid almost as water does sugar.

OPERATION AVOIDED.

Lafayette, Ind.—"Three years ago I was taken to the hospital—all arrangements made for an operation, but when the doctors were certain as to whether it was to be for appendicitis or woman's trouble I insisted upon being taken home until they were of one opinion as to my ailment. Then a friend told me what wonderful remedies Dr. Pierce's were, selling right from the drug shelves, and thought they might give me relief. I bought a bottle each of 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery' and a box of 'Lotion Tablets.' These relieved me of a catarrhal condition, all abdominal pain, etc. But I took the medicines for almost a year to make sure of a complete recovery. Today I am in absolutely good health."—Mrs. U. S. MRS. PARRISH DEAD.

Decatur, Ind., Oct. 22.—Deborah Russell Parrish, 75 years old, wife of Joshua Parrish, a life-long resident of Washington township, and long a resident of this city, passed away last evening at 8:30 o'clock at the family home on Jefferson street. Mrs. Parrish's death marks the close of a long period of three or four years' illness from cancer, much of which time was fraught with intense suffering. For the past year she has been confined to her bed practically all of the time, and at this time a year ago she was so near death, that it was expected at any time, although she subsequently revived.

DIES IN CALIFORNIA.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 22.—John Coover has received word announcing the death, Thursday, of his brother, Del Coover, at Lodi, California, at a hospital where he had gone for a surgical operation. Mr. Coover lived in Pennville until about ten years ago when he removed with his family to California. He leaves a wife and two children. The remains will be brought to Dunkirk for burial. Mr. Coover went to Dunkirk this afternoon to await the arrival of the body.

PNEUMONIA FATAL.

Kendallville, Ind., Oct. 22.—Albert Taylor, age 60, of North Bend, Ore., is dead at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Roy Young, North Main street. Death was due to pneumonia, with which he was taken ill a week ago. Mr. Taylor came to this city three weeks ago, to make his future home, accompanying his daughter, Mrs. Young, who has been visiting at his home in North Bend.

WARSAW WOMAN DEAD.

Warsaw, Ind., Oct. 22.—Mrs. Sarah Walnwright is dead at the home of her son, John Walnwright. She had been ill for over a year with cancer. She was seventy-nine years old and had been a resident of Warsaw for twenty-five years. Two sons survive, William H. Walnwright and John Walnwright, both of Warsaw, and a brother, John M. Ring, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

DEATH AT ROME CITY.

Rome City, Ind., Oct. 22.—Mrs. Thomas Marshall, sixty-seven years old, is dead at her home here following an illness of three years. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Jacob Holsinger, Montpelier, Ohio, and Mrs. Waldo, of this place. Funeral services Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the house and interment at the Osborn cemetery.

FREAK STORM.

Warsaw, Ind., Oct. 22.—Much damage was done to the farm of Edward Berkeley, in Marshall county, during a freak storm. Berkeleyville and members of his family knew nothing of the storm until the following morning when he found that his barn, had razed their barn, had crushed two horses and three cows to death and had devastated the orchard.

DESERTER ARRESTED.

Warsaw, Ind., Oct. 22.—William McKinley Primley was arrested at Burket late Saturday night charged with desertion. He was a member of Company H and was with his company at Fort Benjamin Harrison when he deserted about a month ago. He is now a prisoner in the Kosciusko county jail. Primley is about twenty-two years old.

GOVERNOR GOODRICH TAKEN TO HIS HOME

Indianapolis, Oct. 22.—Governor Goodrich was taken from the Methodist Episcopal hospital to his home in Winchester yesterday. The trip was made in a private coach attached to an early morning train on the Big Four. The governor was accompanied by his doctors in charge, Charles R. Sowder, of Indianapolis, and Bader S. Hunt, the Goodrich family physician of Winchester, and by Miss Ethel Bright, a nurse who has been attending the patient. The party left the hospital in the morning about 5 o'clock and the governor was carried in an adjustable cot, not, as Dr. Sowder explained, because the governor was unable to sit up, but because the physicians did not wish to tire him unnecessarily. He has been able to sit up for some days. Governor Goodrich stood the trip well, according to Dr. Sowder, and he is gaining strength rapidly. He expects to be able to return here to vote.

WHY MOURN CZAR ALEXANDER? WAS A DESPOT LIKE HIS LINE

By CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL.

The more a thinking person sees of democracy, the more he wants to take off his hat to it.

It doesn't seem, as you look at it carefully, to be so much a kind of creed that men have knocked together, as an eternal law of progress that goes on and goes on always, no matter what men may think of it.

Sometimes when it seems to be defeated it is winning a victory. Unless in this war it is to be stamped out forever under the Prussian boot, you can feel pretty sure it will continue to move on until it gets the whole world.

There is in the Winter Palace at Petrograd a certain room intimately connected with an episode of the long struggle and one supposed on the grounds to be the most interesting room in the palace, although it isn't.

They show you the great gorgeous ballrooms and the marble staircase and the thrones and the royal suites and the riot of extravagance, and then they show you the rooms that figure most in the story of Czar Alexander II, his council chamber and the room in which he died.

The council chamber has still the long table around which his ministers used to sit, the chair for each, the portfolio with the name of each stamped upon it, the great chair at the head for the czar.

These you are expected to view with awe. I don't know why.

They then exhibit the bedroom, the plain camp bed that he always preferred to any other, the stuff of the last cigarette he smoked, the keys and penknife taken from his pockets, and other relics, supposed greatly to move the visitor.

Perhaps they do, but if he is a philosopher they certainly don't move him in the way that was expected in the old days.

Alexander II is called by his admirers, and particularly by English writers, a "liberal monarch."

The name is an error. There are no "liberal monarchs" and never were any. There are no good kings and cannot possibly be.

Some, of course, are worse than others. But if a king exercises any authority he is taking something that doesn't belong to him. And if he doesn't exercise any authority he is not on the level; he is taking the taxpayers' money on a false pretense. How, therefore, can he be good?

As for Russia, a czar always went ahead with the hideous old machine for sending men and women into the living death of Siberia. He always supported the monstrous system of tyranny and espionage. He always knew that under his rule men and women were being beaten with knouts, sacrificed, burned and mutilated because they believed in human liberty. If he were good or "liberal" he wouldn't sit for a moment on a throne drenched by force and fraud.

Men said Alexander II was a "liberal" monarch, principally because he signed the decree that abolished serfdom in Russia. This, of course, was a vast improvement, and the fact that freedom was strangling Russia's development takes nothing away from the glory of the emancipation. But the same czar enforced a system far worse than slavery in his brutal and ruthless suppression of free speech, a free press and every other right that freemen hold dear.

1861. Twenty years later Alexander II, greatly alarmed at the rapid increase of the secret revolutionary propaganda in his empire, consulted with his secretary of the interior as to the best means of stopping it.

The secretary told him that the best way was to grant specious reforms and give to Russia the form of a constitutional monarchy, with a parliament that should be more or less of a fake, but still could be called a parliament.

The czar thought well of this scheme, and told the secretary to go ahead and draw up a plan by which the sovereignty of the empire and some other bodies were to send delegates to a national convention to devise reforms.

At 12 o'clock on March 1, 1881, the czar finished the reading of this document, said it was good, and ordered it printed for the information of the council of ministers. Then he took the imperial sleigh and drove to a palace on the other side of the city, where he made a call upon one of his relatives.

About 2 o'clock he was on his way back, when two bombs were thrown at him. The second exploded by the side of the sleigh and the czar was fatally injured.

They brought him to this room in the Winter Palace and he died in his plain army cot bed.

His son, Alexander III, succeeded him, tore up the plan for a national council, and put the kibosh on reform, and the clamps more heavily than ever upon the people. He was an extreme reactionary, and his son, Nicholas, last of the Romanoffs, was like him.

The destruction of Alexander II's reform plans, if he had any, was long pointed out as an evidence of the uselessness of the revolutionary movement in Russia. Its only effect had been to prevent a constitutional form of government and make the Russian autocracy stronger than ever. About all the world agreed to this and denounced the revolutionists.

But behold, now, if any scheme of constitutional monarchy had gone through, then we should not have had the revolution.

Constitutional monarchy is a device to head off democracy. It is an alluring side show that keeps the minds of the people occupied and prevents them from taking full charge of the government that belongs to them. If the quarter-way reforms supposed to be in the mind of Alexander II had materialized, the Russian republic might still be 80 years away.

It is difficult, of course, for us that live in freedom to understand the situation of people that dwell under tyranny. It is infinitely harder for us to excuse violence. But there are two things about this chapter of history we might well remember, because they will help us to understand the Russia that we must understand if we are going on with her.

First, while violence in any country that has universal suffrage is utterly in defiance of all times, in countries ruled by the iron fist, there is no other way to agitate for freedom.

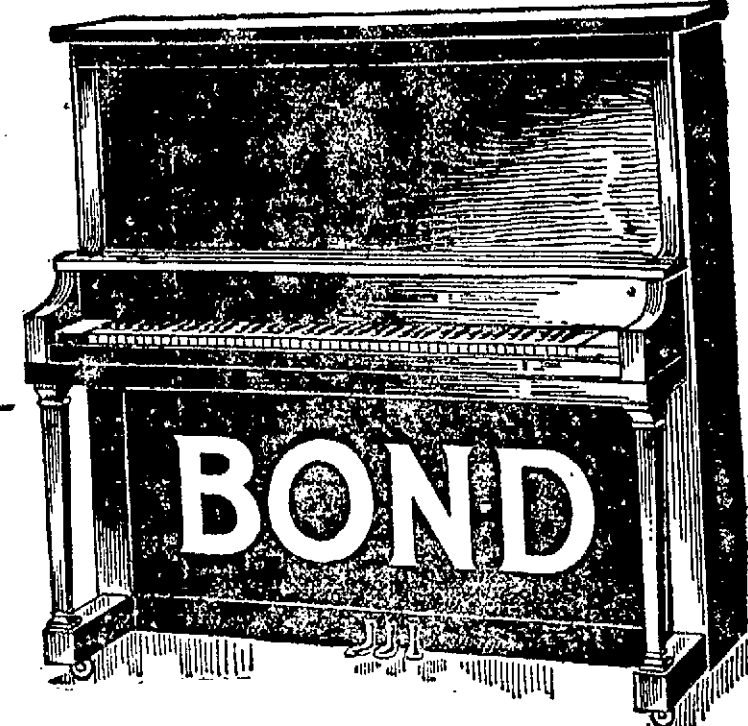

Second, there is that deadly fact that Alexander II supported and carried out the terrible system of tyranny and sent hundreds of thousands to the unspeakable tortures of Siberia.

Anyway, no one need regret now that the constitutional monarchy fake was not put over in 1881. Because we have the republic.

FRIEND OR FOE—WHICH?

The Indiana public service commission and the law that it administers constitute the obstacle between the people of Fort Wayne and a lower rate for electric current. The Fort Wayne municipal lighting department has been prepared for more than a year to reduce the maximum lighting rate from 7 cents to 6 cents. That reduction would long ago have been made but for the obstruction mentioned and influences here in Fort Wayne that so far have been able to invoke its interference.

In the last session of the legislature there was a bill that had for its purpose to give relief to the people of Fort Wayne and other cities maintaining municipal lighting enterprises from the public utilities law in so far as that act superintended to deprive the people of lower lighting rates. The bill found friends in the assembly and it was the prospect that it would be passed. Just at a time when the promise was brightest the bill was strangled.

It may be of interest to the ten thousand patrons of the city lighting current and even to the patrons of the competitor's current to know that the relief bill was throttled in response to urgent importunities from Fort Wayne that it be killed. But for that the bill doubtless would have become a law and the municipal government of Fort Wayne would have been able to reduce the cost of electric current to the people to 6 cents, a step the lighting department then was and now is prepared to take whenever that can be done without meeting obstructions that the bill was designed to remove.

The person and interest that besought the strangling of the Fort Wayne bill are among the most strenuous and implacable of the antagonists of Maurice C. Niezer, democratic candidate for mayor, and among the most diligent, aggressive and noisy of all the endorers and partisans of W. S. Cutshall, the republican candidate for mayor.

The people of Fort Wayne who believe that this million-dollar light and power property of the city, that has proved so signally a success and so tremendously a benefit to themselves, ought to be preserved and guarded and expanded and made more greatly a success and more signally a public benefit must choose between the man whose friends and partisans are like himself thoroughly committed and wholly devoted to the city lighting interests and the man whose friends and partisans are those who have sought to cripple the enterprise and did actually prevent a lowering of the cost of electricity to all consumers in Fort Wayne.

One of those two men will be elected mayor. It rests with the people to make choice. Mr. Niezer is the known friend of the lighting plant and the great body of his supporters are friends of the lighting plant. Mr. Niezer is speaking clearly and courageously of his policies in respect of the municipal utilities. Mr. Cutshall is vague, uncertain and unaggressive. A great body of his supporters are hostile to the city lighting enterprise.

Which candidate offers the surer vouchsafement that the municipal lighting enterprise will be safe in his hands? Which gives the truer promise that rates will come down?

WAS A GREAT EDUCATOR.

Prof. Chester T. Lane, whose death has just taken place, achieved national recognition as a high school man. As principal of the Fort Wayne high school for near two score years he brought the local institution into the front rank of the leading public schools of the country and it has deserved thoroughly the good fame his work had given it.

Prof. Lane was a solid and progressive educator. He required work and in the Fort Wayne high school the foundations of learning were laid deep and broad. In the higher institutions of the country graduates from the Fort Wayne school were welcomed as coming well prepared for the greater work of college and university. It was the design of Mr. Lane's work that when a pupil left his school he should be equipped to take up a life's pursuit, if the high school had to be the last of scholastic training, or to go on if that good fortune were vouchsafed.

To Prof. Lane in great measure was due the advancement of the high school in new channels of training. He had great administrative faculties and strong executive abilities for the profession of teaching and he got results that were notable. Under his direction instruction was sound and thorough and hundreds of his pupils who may once have thought him severe today gladly testify to the good he wrought for them while they were under his scholastic guidance.

It is striking that the death of Prof. Lane should so soon have followed upon the death of Dr. J. N. Study, for more than twenty years the superintendent of the Fort Wayne public schools. Working together for a long period, those two men had done great things for public education in Fort Wayne.

STILL WONDERING—NO ANSWER.

The people of Fort Wayne are still wondering and they get no answer.

They wonder why it was that if the report of Anselm Fuelber's Harmar school speech slandered him and wronged Candidate Cutshall there should have been a lapse of three days before entering a denial and bringing up the reserves to sustain the defense.

It was outrageous—but it took three entire days for the discovery of the outrage.

It was false and "malignly vicious" and all that—but it took three whole days to realize and appreciate it.

It was a thing that at first Mr. Fuelber thought on the advice of "a democratic attorney" it were wise to pay no attention to—and it never dawned on him for half a week that he had been wronged and put in bad—to the discomfiture of himself and the detriment of his candidate for mayor.

So it is—and not without much reason—the people of Fort Wayne are wondering.

The striking coal miners are getting back to work, the striking shipbuilders are getting back to work and it is to be hoped the striking citizens who won't buy Liberty Loan bonds will join the patriotic procession before the end of the week. The country needs its workers, but it also needs the country's cash.

The patriotic demonstration Saturday in behalf of the Liberty Loan doesn't strictly speaking, put Fort Wayne and Allen county on the map, but it makes their spot on the map larger and a great deal brighter. Now let us all join to vindicate the demonstration and make it good.

One coal mine operated under federal authority with labor put to work and kept there by industrial conscription would put an end to the attempt to force the wage issue upon Uncle Sam. The miners are beginning to understand that.

DUTY OF ALL TO HELP WIN WAR

(By the Publicity Committee.)

Let us have no strikes while the country is in peril. If American industrial workers can refuse to perform their labor whenever they see fit, regardless of the situation faced by the nation, why not soldiers and sailors, too?

Organized labor, through its regularly elected officers and in convention assembled by formal resolution, has pledged itself to the service of the country, yet strikes of men, whose work is vital to the nation from a military viewpoint, are not only constantly threatened but are continually called. Such a situation at such a time is intolerable.

Every one—the laborer as well as the man of wealth—must do his part. The men of "easy means" are called upon by the government to do many things given little consideration by his employees. Before the declaration of war by the United States millions of dollars were contributed by them to various funds for the relief of those nations who are now our allies; they are called upon by the government to pay heavy taxes both on their private incomes and on the profits of their business. More men of this class volunteered as soldiers than came from the ranks of labor. This is especially true in the middle west.

Let every rich man contribute to the fullest extent of his means—and even beyond his means; but the working man must do the same, and it is wrong for him to clog the wheels of the nation by petty squabbles in this time of stress.

Good citizens will do this voluntarily; slackers should be forced to do it.

Civilization looks to the United States to crush militarism, the cause of this world war. Millions of men have been killed and wounded in this terrible holocaust of blood; millions of helpless, innocent women and children suffered untold anguish, multitudes have died in massacres, of famine, of disease.

The sooner the war is over the better it will be for the world, but it takes money to create and maintain an army to crush the enemy. Liberty bonds are the way opened by the government to provide these funds, and every one who subscribes is doing his small part, which taken in the aggregate is a tremendous volume, toward bringing peace to mankind.

Let every one throw his heart and soul into this work, let every one realize his duty to support the government by subscription to these bonds, to the end that America may fulfill its mission and aid in bringing this war with all its horrors to an end.

Now, almost voiceless, sinks the symphony—
The wizard frogs in dolorous hymn
Tune to the droning insect-hum,
Piano, low. Anon the drum,
Of woodbird on the swaying limb
Reveals the moving, mild, marsh melody.

The while, all-sullenly, slow is the east.
A light creeps up toward night's noon.
Threading the pitch of cloud-wave tire,
Which cloaks a million eyes of fire.
And then, lulled voices on the slumberous breast
Of a soft, south wind hush, and soon,
Ere yet the solemn dawn is gone
A tongueless vigil waits upon
The rising moon.

The more you monkey with the coal operators the more strikes they pull off in their mines—how would it be to use a little gunpowder argument with them?

The more we read of mine troubles the less we worry about yours.
Isocrates put it like this: "A man ought to be the same to his friend as he would be to himself, because a friend is the same as himself in another person."
As usual it was our friend Socrates who remarked, "This world is but a passage into the other; therefore he that prepares him things necessary for that passage is free from all perils." But, as far as I can see, he gave us very few detailed instructions as to the preparing of those things "necessary for the passage." Not a single word about coal.

O singer sublime of the Bessah-byah-bunnig-nelligah-jong,
It isn't envy, the green and yellow,
That makes me take up my lyre, old fellow,
And burst with a fierce cacophonous bellow
Across the path of your song.
I want to propose another name,
Unknown to you and unknown to fame;
It is like the sound of a hand-sawn log
Or the hostile bark of a husky dog:

A lake in the U. S. A.
And first the Indian, the red sort, owned it.
But later to Uncle Sam they loaned it.
Who afterwards made no bones, but boned it
To the fine Antiochus way.
And though it wasn't a matter vital
He kept the lake with its rasping title,
Which recalls the croak of an amorous frog
Or a siren heard in an ocean of fog:
Chagogagor-muchogagor-chabun-

A Little Surprise for the Boy

(Member of the Federal Farm Loan Board.)

The Liberty Loan is a continuation of the financing by which Robert Morris furnished the money with which Washington carried on our revolutionary war; the same financing by which Jay Cooke got the money for Lincoln. Money devoted to such causes has sometimes saved the world to civilization. Themistocles, after the battle of Marathon caused the Athenian people to take the revenue from their silver mines and with it build a navy instead of declaring dividends. With that navy was fought the battle of Salamis which saved Europe from the dominance of the Persian, and preserved to us the opportunity to develop the civilization we now enjoy.

The Liberty Loan is as sacred to the cause of civilization as the silver with which Athens built her navy. We too are at a turning point in history, for that flag to take its place among the banners displayed in the tortured line from the Swiss frontier to Antwerp is a terrible and wonderful thing. The flag itself is risked on the cast of this die.

In the Liberty Loan the wealth of America salutes the flag. It speeds on before our soldiers, and tells our friends fighting and dying for our cause that the flag will soon be with them, and to be of good cheer. It tells the dazed people of Russia that the greatest of the republics is in the field for her newborn rival in greatness. It tells Russia to look for the flag and collect her wandering thoughts and arouse her resistless might. Without the Liberty Loan Columbia can never take her place in that mighty company without disgrace.

THE SUGAR SHORTAGE

HARRY B. HUNT.

Why is the United States today short of sugar? What can the American people do to meet the present shortage? And what must they do to meet not only our own demands, but the necessary requirements of our allies for sugar during the next year?

The United States is short of sugar because in the past two years we have exported sugar at a rate thirty-four times greater than our normal exports, and have not curtailed our own consumption to meet this drain on our sugar reserves.

In 1914 we exported 72,322,616 pounds of sugar. In 1916 our sugar exports jumped to 1,665,895,639 pounds, and in the first nine months of this year, up to the time the embargo was laid, our exports were 1,254,551,280 pounds.

Britain alone, which in 1914 imported only 4,974,075 pounds of sugar from the United States, last year imported from us 935,091,045 pounds. Before the war Britain secured more than half her sugar from Germany and Austria, importing on 1.14 per cent from us.

France, nominally producing her own sugar, got but 1,000 pounds from us in 1914. Last year she imported from the United States 357,322,291 pounds, and so far this year 47,896,737 pounds.

These figures will give some idea, then, why our sugar supply is short. But with all the increase of our exports to Britain and France, we have not begun to furnish them their normal supply of sugar. We will not be able to do so.

France has cut her sugar ration to one pound per person per month, or twelve pounds per year, from a pre-war consumption of forty-four pounds. Britain has reduced her per capita consumption of sugar from ninety-three pounds to twenty-six pounds.

In America, however, we have continued to use sugar at the normal rate, increasing, if anything, rather than cutting down. The present shortage is temporary, pending the arrival of the new beet sugar output. There will be no real hardship to us from the present situation, but unless we begin to save sugar in every way possible, there will be real hardship to ourselves and our allies in the next year.

The only way the sugar supply can be stretched to meet the demand is by economy in its use. If one ounce of sugar per person per day can be saved, we will be able to supply our allies their absolutely necessary sugar ration, and still use five times as much as they are permitted to have.

Cut out the candy; when you eat it, you're taking necessary sugar from one soldier at the front. Do not leave half a spoonful of sugar undiscovered in the bottom of your coffee cup. Don't throw away the half jump of sugar you leave in your saucer. Do not frost or ice cakes. Use fewer sweet drinks.

Use honey and maple syrup for sweetening pastry and cakes. Remember that for our soldiers and the soldiers of France and Britain sugar is a vital food. It is the most efficient fuel that can be fed into the bodies of our fighters. Every grain saved may be as powerful as a grain of powder in bringing a quick allied victory.

WAR FLOUR AND BREAD.

(New York World.)

It must soon occur to the food administration that suggestion and entreaty alone are not going to solve the bread problem in the United States. With a deficient wheat crop, but the greatest corn yield on record, the attempt by voluntary means to conserve the one and make more general use of the other seems destined to failure.

The situation arises not so much from lack of interest as from reluctance to change lifelong methods and habits and a complete absence of co-operation in what is undoubtedly a necessary measure of war and of economy.

Millers will not grind mixed flour until existing standards are changed or prohibited. Bakers will continue to produce the pure white loaf, diminishing in size and increasing in price, until by authority of government they are compelled to change their formulas. The question is not that of inferior bread but of our ability to reach a cheaper price. It is whether for our own sakes and those of our allies we are to make our wheat go as far as possible, have bread just as nutritious and even more healthful and at a fair price standardized throughout the country.

It is a reproach to our whole scheme of food regulation that white bread is now selling in various parts of the United States at from 6 to 20 cents for 16-ounce loaves. We already have war wheat. If the people are not to be gouged, and, quite as important, if we are to husband our supplies and prevent senseless waste, we must have war flour and war bread.

CAN AFFORD CRANBERRIES, TOO

(Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin.)

The inside information to the effect that turkeys will be higher this year need not interfere with Thanksgiving cheer. The country on the whole has been blessed with exceptionally bountiful crops, and there will be plenty of nutritious and palatable food, at wartime quotations, to be sure, but not out of reach. The world is in a bad way just now, but any average American comparing the state of affairs here with what exists in other lands will find ample reason for Thanksgiving, even though turkeys, partly due to the coolness of the summer and the number of rainy days, have not thrived and will be scarce and high.

FROM THE SENTINEL PAGES 25 YEARS AGO

A bank to be known as the Citizens' State bank has been started at Monroeville with a capital of $30,000. J. B. Niezer, ex-actor, is president, and C. B. Mitchell, cashier.

The F. A. S. V. club elected the following officers yesterday: August Niezman, president; J. Heidenreich, vice president; O. Miller, secretary; Pat Kelly, treasurer; William Light, doorkeeper.

Frank Horstman, who has carried the mail route in South Wayne for several years, took a route in Nebraska today. He exchanged places with Carrier George Ashley, of Nebraska, who takes the South Wayne route.

Jacob Henry, the South Calhoun street picture dealer, while walking near his place of business Saturday evening, tripped on a piece of loose timber and fell, breaking two ribs. Dr. Miller, who attended the unfortunate man, reports his condition much improved today.

The fire department responded to a call from Lox 27 at 1 o'clock this morning. The barn of Gregory Lauer, the carpenter, who lives at 101 Maumee avenue, was in flames and too far gone to be saved by the department. Frank Winter's barn, next door, was also badly damaged. Lauer's loss is $600. The horse and buggy were saved.

Scheumann & Klesahn, the undertakers, met with a misfortune yesterday. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon they entrusted their undertaking wagon and horse to a young man to deliver a rough box to Lindenwood cemetery. The young man was unaccustomed to driving, and although the horse was a very gentle one it became frightened and ran. Near the Eckart packinghouse the horse ran into the Grand Rapids railway trestle, where the wagon was smashed to splinters. The horse then ran to the Lindenwood cemetery and created a panic among visitors to the cemetery. The runaway was entirely the fault of the driver. The damage to the wagon amounts to at least $50.

To You,-- Mr. Farmer

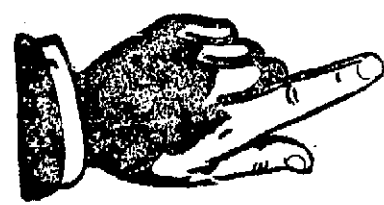

The Boys in France Send Their Message Back to The Old Homestead

You farmers of America can be said to face two questions. Either you must lend your money to America and win the war or lose the war and pay your money to Germany.

There is no middle road about this; one of these two issues must be faced.

You farmers of America know well what Germany has done to the farmers of Belgium of Northern, France of Poland, of Serbia and of Roumania. You know the cruel wantonness, the murder, the desolated farms, the villages laid in ruins, the little babies and young children left to starve by the roadside, the men and women carried away to slavery, to work under the guard of guns and bayonets in Germany's munition works and mines.

In the First Liberty Loan the man in the city subscribed $66.74 per capita. You subscribed $11.24 per capita. Yet 42% of the nation's income is yours.

SOCIETY

The Cathedral will be the scene of the wedding of two popular young people tomorrow when Miss Ruth Gertrude Kuntz and Mr. Tom Hayes are married by Rev. John R. Quinlan, the groom, and Mr. George Kuntz, a brother to the bride, will be the attendants.

The wedding of Miss Lillian Hitzeman and Mr. Arno Spiegel will take place on Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the home of the bride in Summit street. Rev. Jacob Miller will be the officiating minister.

A number of prominent people are to be present this week during the convention of the Indiana State Federation of Clubs which convenes tomorrow and lasts three days. Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, director for Council of National Defense, and whose home is in Minneapolis, will be one of the distinguished visitors. Mrs. Josiah Evans Cowles, who is president of the National Organization of Women's Clubs, and others include Mrs. Frederick Schoff, of Philadelphia, president of the National Congress of Mothers' Clubs and Parent-Teacher associations; Mr. William Smyser, dean of Ohio Wesleyan college, who will be accompanied by his wife, and Dr. Bryan, of Indiana university, are others. Mrs. Schoff will likely speak on Wednesday, as will Dean Smyser, while Dr. Bryan will give an address on Thursday evening and Mrs. Winter during the day.

Mrs. Martin C. Gross has returned from a week's visit in South Bend.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Pitts, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Welton, have returned to Alliance, O. The meeting of the Duodecimo club scheduled for this week has been indefinitely postponed.

Mrs. John Casey, of West Woodland avenue, will entertain the ladies of the Athens club on Tuesday afternoon.

The Pickwick Literature club will meet on Tuesday with Mrs. Peck, 1344 Huestis avenue.

Mrs. Carrie Dorst, of Cincinnati, who is visiting Mrs. John B. Reuss, was honored at several small parties during the week, for one of which Mrs. Reuss was the hostess.

Mrs. E. H. Heiny and daughters, Agnes and Josephine, of Chattanooga, Tenn., who had been visiting friends and relatives here for two weeks, returned home on Monday.

Mrs. Matthew Balfour and daughter, Olive Marie, of Marion, who have been guests of Mrs. Guy Scott, are now at the Hamilton house for a few days.

Mrs. Carrie V. Douglass and D. Burns Douglass came home on Friday from Bethlehem, N. H., where they had been for three months. Mrs. Douglass is greatly improved in health.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wood and little son, who had been visiting Judge and Mrs. S. A. Wood, have gone to Toledo, O., to visit Mrs. Wood's mother, Mrs. C. M. Dawson, before they return to New Albany.

Mrs. C. R. Fairbank will be at home at the Anthony hotel this week because of the convention of Federated Clubs of the state. Although not strong enough to preside in her office as president, Mrs. Fairbank is able to keep in touch with the work of the convention.

Will Be Candidate For Highest Office

MRS. JOHN E. MOORE.

Mrs. John E. Moore, of Kokomo, corresponding secretary of the Indiana State Federation of Clubs, has been prominently mentioned as a candidate for the office of president at the election of officers on Thursday, during the convention of the federation in this city. Kokomo and Howard county club women are said to be out in full force for their candidate who has every recommendation for the office.

and will be accessible when business of importance requires her attention.

There will be a meeting of the College club on Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the University club. The philanthropic department has the program in charge. Miss Baum is chairman of the department.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Berghoff left on Sunday for Sheboygan, Wis., where they are to live. Their two sons are remaining here with their grandmother, Mrs. Henry Colerick, until their parents are settled in their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McKenna, of Oakdale drive, were given an agreeable surprise on Friday evening by members of a club to which Mrs. McKenna belongs and their husbands. A game of cards and a lunch were the pleasures of the evening.

Gaston Balho, the well known violinist, has opened a studio in the Strand theater building, and his connection with the Strand moving picture house, recently taken in charge by Mr. Quimby, makes it particularly convenient. Mr. Balho is leader and director of the orchestra.

Miss Isabe, Dhrman is the guest of friends in Wapakoneta, O., and attended a party on Thursday evening at which the engagement of Miss Olinde Klein, of that city, to Frederick W. Schmidt, of Dubuque, Ia., was announced. Miss Klein has visited frequently enough in this city to have many friends interested.

This week Wednesday will be the closing social afternoon at the Country club. Mrs. E. H. Olds and Mrs.

Harry G. Hogan are chairmen and other hosts are Mrs. S. C. Lumbard, Mrs. Margaret S. Olds, Mrs. B. S. O'Connor, Mrs. G. A. Rabus, Mrs. A. L. Randall, Mrs. B. W. Hamy, Mrs. Caroline Schmidt, and Misses Margery Rohan, Phyllis and Virginia Randall.

Mrs. George O. Ball, of Regina, Saskatchewan, Canada, who has been visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. F. Habecker, of Huffman street, has returned home. Mrs. Ball gave a number of interesting talks concerning the country where her home is and the going to war of the Canadian and many American boys of the same vicinity.

One of the pretty parties of Saturday was a luncheon at the home of Miss Irma Compere, who entertained in honor of Miss Lillian Wilding. Richmond roses were the decoration and everything else corresponded in coloring. Miss Wilding received a shower of gifts from a Japanese parasol hung inverted above the table and each guest received a nosegay. Altogether the luncheon was a very lovely affair. There were covers for sixteen.

Miss Helen Bandtel was hostess for a party on Friday evening when she entertained a few out of town friends who had motored here for a few days. The evening was spent in playing progressive bunco and singing. An excellent luncheon was served. The guests were Misses Hilda Green, Janet Weber, Jessica Trump, Betty Doctor, Violet Mills and Carl Meisel and Billy Licks, Harold Dolling, Claude Thompson, Billy Lenkbert and Wayne Trifer, all of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Feistkorn entertained the members of the I. C. club and their husbands on Thursday evening at their home in Cass street. Very pretty flowers decorated the rooms which were enjoyed along with the merry game of cards and music, both vocal and instrumental. The guests enjoying this happy event were Mr. and Mrs. C. Stahl, Mr. and Mrs. A. Young, Mr. and Mrs. C. Stogdill, Mr. and Mrs. G. Bornuth, Mr. and Mrs. C. McLeish, Mr. and Mrs. P. Rose, Mr. and Mrs. E. Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Hardisty and Mr. and Mrs. A. Meyer.

Pretty Dancing Affair.

Anxious to do something to help along in patriotic work a number of young girls dancers under the direction of Mrs. Harry G. Hogan and the aid of Miss Florence Gruber, gave a lovely dancing entertainment in Elks' hall on Saturday evening. Miss Alma Kessler played for the dancing and Misses Georgiana Hudson, Virginia Thum, Margaret Ann Keegan and Mary Williams acted as ushers to the audience. The children all did beautiful work and were applauded and encouraged until they felt well repaid for their efforts. The young girls who rendered the program were Margaret Fry, Lillian Blackstone, Louise Metzger, Ellen Hudson, Violet Reinwald, Elizabeth Urbahn, Mary Beuret, Mildred Freuchte, Charlotte Mahurin, Florence Gruber, while Miss Virginia Randall and Paul Bachelor furnished a fine example of a fantastic polka and a quartet of little girls who came in for lots of applause were Ethel Robinson, Emma and Elizabeth Averill and Lavern Lechletnea.

Roseener-Colling.

Miss Helen Colling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Colling, of 1924 Harrison street, and Mr. George Roseener, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Roseener, were united in marriage on Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride by Rev. Fred Warmbaggans. Mrs. R. G. Mettert played the wedding march as the bride and groom entered the living room where the ceremony was performed, attended by Miss Roseotte Gooley and Mr. William Rencke. The bride made a beautiful appearance in a gown of white crepe de chine. The bridesmaid wore a pale green tulle gown and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The wedding dinner was served at 6 o'clock and the tables were pretty with their decoration of small, roses and a handsome frosted wedding cake. The groom is a plumber and will be at home with his bride after Nov. 1 at 311 Douglas avenue.

Malott-Quick.

Miss Pauline Quick and Mr. Charles Malott were united in marriage on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the parsonage of Plymouth church by Rev. A. J. Folsom. Mrs. Quick and Mrs. Malott were present at the marriage of their daughter and son. Mr. Glenn Ferguson was the other witness. The bride's costume was a Copenhagen blue crepe de meteor and a taupe coat. Hat, gloves and shoes were corresponding in tone to the cloak. The bride bouquet was a corsage of bride roses. The bride and groom will be at home after the first of November at 1316 Buchanan street. Mr. Malott comes from Ridgeville and he is bookkeeper at the Bowser plant. The bride is attractive in appearance and accomplished in many ways.

Washington School P-T Club.

There will be an evening meeting of the Parent-Teacher club of the Washington school on Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. E. W. Cole, of Huntington, will give a talk on the philanthropic work. Pupils of the seventh grade will sing. Miss Margaret Neff will play a violin solo, children of the primary grade will give a little play and a reception will follow the program at which refreshments will be served.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mrs. Vernon Castle In Latest Fashions

MRS. VERNON CASTLE.

(Staff Special.) Mrs. Vernon Castle has set the fashion for girls ever since she first danced her way into publicity. Therefore The Sentinel has secured some pictures of what she will wear this winter especially for its woman's page readers.

There's a camouflage dress for the stage—one she will wear in "Miss 1917" which opens at the end of the month. This dress is pictured for the first time in this paper. And there's a lovely silk afternoon dress any girl might like to copy. And a smart white costume which expresses Mrs. Castle herself in its original short white angora wool jacket. Girls, watch for this art.

AT THE PALACE

HERBERT CLIFTON.

Amusing Female Impersonations Top Palace Bill.

Herbert Clifton is easy to laugh with. He's topping the bill at the New Palace for the first of the week in a series of female impersonations in which he wears some novelty gowns and exploits a remarkable falsetto voice as well as an ability as a comedian. His Theda Bara wiggle stirs 'em all.

George Bobbe and Eddie Nelson's skit, "His Wife," is a rapid-fire skit that gives plenty of opportunity for these two funny vocalists to display their ability to sing and extract laughs. "On the Beach at Waikiki" is fifteen minutes of Hawaiian song, instrumental numbers and hula hula done by a clever company of unburdened entertainers. Alfred Latell, assisted by Elsie Vokes, is doing a dog character study that is a bit of real art. James Lichter, a clever pianist and kiddier, and the Brads, Fred and Nita, a pair of rollicking acrobats, complete this nifty bill.

POTAGE MONGOLE VERY GOOD; REQUESTS RECIPE

This soup is so extraordinarily good that on request the recipe was given by the chef at the Chateau, Lake Louise, Alberta, to a Kansas City tourist. The portions are rather in excess of those needed by a small family, but it is easily reduced. Three pounds fresh tomatoes (canned tomatoes are a good substitute), five pounds turnips, one pound carrots, one pound onions, one pound leeks, one pound rice, one-fourth of an ounce of sweet herbs. The above ingredients are boiled to a puree in chicken stock, then passed through a fine sieve, seasoned to taste with pepper and salt and pinch of nutmeg. Add one-half pound of butter and one egg of sweet cream. Serve with bread croutons.

A chicken need not be bought purposely for this soup. The carcass of a baked chicken, covered with cold water and simmered gently for three hours will give a satisfactory substitute.—Kansas City Star.

PRETTY AND ECONOMICAL TALLY CARDS FOR BENEFIT

In making plans for a large card party for the benefit of the Red Cross, when it was necessary to save expense in little things in order to make a showing in the not proceeds, a society in a southern city used this novel scheme for tallies:

For 20 cents they bought half a roll of wall paper, in a floral design (baskets of violets in this case), but though many designs suitable for children's rooms would apply pleasing effects in the figures. They cut out the baskets in the evening. The children helped with the cutting, leaving the handles and finishing tracks to be done by the grown-ups. Each contributed from her store of baby ribbons for tying bows on the handles. Soon there were ready tallies for forty tables as dainty and pretty as could be imagined.

PEACE TERMS OF RUSSIA HAVE BEEN FORMULATED

Among Other Things Panama Canal Should Be Made Neutral, is Tenet.

Petrograd, Oct. 22.—The Russian peace program, as drawn up by the central executive committee of the Council of Workmen and Soldiers' delegates in the form of instruction to Mr. Skobelev, ex-minister of labor, its delegates to the Paris conference, consists of twelve articles, covering the whole ground from Panama to Persia. Article XI demands that "neutralization of the Panama canal and Article IX calls for the restitution of all colonies to Germany. The program of the central executive committee follows:

"1. Evacuation by the Germans of Russia and autonomy of Poland, Lithuania and the Lettish provinces.

"2. Autonomy of Turkish Armenia.

"3. Solution of the Alsace-Lorraine question by a plebiscite, the voting being arranged by local civil authorities after the removal of all the troops of both belligerents.

"4. Restoration to Belgium of her ancient frontiers and compensation for her losses from an international fund.

"5. Restoration of Serbia and Montenegro with similar compensation. Serbia to have access to the Adriatic. Bosnia and Herzegovina to be autonomous.

"6. Disputed Balkan districts to receive provisional autonomy followed by a plebiscite.

"7. Rumania to be restored her old frontiers on condition that she grant Dobruja autonomy and grant equal rights to Jews.

"8. Autonomy for the Italian provinces of Austria to be followed by a plebiscite.

"9. Re-establishment of Greece and Persia.

"10. Neutralization of all straits leading to inner seas and also the Suez and Panama canals. Freedom of navigation for merchant ships. Abolition of the right to torpedo merchant ships in wartime.

"11. All belligerents to renounce war contributions or indemnities in any form, but the money spent on the maintenance of prisoners and all contributions levied during the war to be returned."

WANTS PEACE BY RIGHT.

Petrograd, Saturday, Oct. 20.—Premier Kerensky, on opening the Russian preliminary parliament in the Marinsky palace, made a ringing speech, in which he said:

"Russia wants peace by right, but we never will bow our heads to force."

This declaration was warmly applauded by the members of all political factions. The premier, who has just recovered from his recent illness and was slightly pale, stood on a raised dais in the grand audience hall. His address was largely confined to an explanation of the military situation and a declaration as to the necessity of saving the country. He said: "We must fight only to save the country."

The Bolsheviks left only occasionally applauded. Many members, including some of the leading constitutional democrats were absent. Boxes for the American and other entente allied ambassadors were reserved at the left.

Premier Kerensky in the course of his speech paid an enthusiastic tribute to the valor of the Russian sailors, but said he could not say as much for Russia's troops on land. After his address the premier offered the presidential chair to Mme. Catharine Breshkovskaya, the "grandmother of the revolution," as she is the senior member of the preliminary parliament. She received a great ovation as temporary chairman and, after a speech, invited the assembly to elect its president. M. Avksentiev, chairman of the executive committee of the Council of Peasants' Delegates, was elected president by a majority of 238.

NOW GETTING READY FOR NEXT WEDNESDAY

Suburban Day Will Draw Larger Crowds Than Ever This Week.

Keep your eye on the advertising columns of The Sentinel this week, if you would know the real, true ring of Suburban day.

This is addressed not only to the out-of-town people, but to the citizens of Fort Wayne. The merchants of Fort Wayne are going to outdo all their former efforts this week and prove in many ways their greater determination to make this mid-week trade day an event well worth remembering.

The loyal supporters of the Suburban day plan declare their entire satisfaction with the growth of the idea. These men entered into it with the sole thought of making such sacrifices as were needed to establish Wednesday of each week as a banner trade day for the mutual benefit of the people from other cities and the Fort Wayne merchants. For it must be understood that many who are supporting the Suburban day plan are not seeking financial betterment, except as it comes through the prosperity of all. As one of the members said recently: "There is no opportunity for me to sell anything at all to these out-of-town people, but I want to do all I can to make a success of Suburban day, because I know that the increased trade at the stores will mean increased business in all lines."

It is the belief of the loyal supporters of the plan that with the return of spring many new angles to the new association formed between the Fort Wayne people and the outsiders will come forth. At that time the parks will be usable and many opportunities for social features will come up then which are not available now. In the meantime, the autumn and winter shopping seasons will open many avenues of trade and acquaintance for thousands who are forming the "Wednesday" habit.

DECATUR NEWS.

Decatur, Ind., Oct. 22.—Rev. W. Paul Marsh, of the Christian church, officiated at the wedding of Vilas Huser, son of Jacob Huser, of Berne, and Miss Ethel Smelser, of Monroe township. The wedding was performed at the parsonage in this city.

Miss Marie Connell is at Lafayette, where this morning she attended the wedding of Miss Gladys Farrell and John Gross.

Mrs. O. B. Wemhoff has returned from a visit in Indianapolis with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weber. Leonard Baumgartner, son of William Baumgartner, of Berne, and Miss Maud M. Liddy, a telephone operator of that town, were granted a license to marry.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley Chrisman and two children visited in Fort Wayne over Sunday with the John Johnson family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Rupert went to Fort Wayne on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Hoffman, of Preble, are the parents of their second child, a girl born Friday. Mr. Hoffman is the assistant fireman at the oil station there.

Miss Marion Snider returned to New Carlisle, Ohio, after a visit here with the Ampsbaugh and Arnold families. Miss Imogene Black spent Sunday at Geneva visiting with friends.

Mrs. Fanny Peterson and daughter, Elizabeth, went to Columbia City Saturday to attend the wedding of their grandson and nephew, Carl France, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Franco, to Miss Nadine Diffendarter. The couple will live in Gary, where the groom has a fine position with the steel plant.

Word has been received here by Wilbur Porter of the serious illness of his father, H. S. Porter, at Chanute, Kan. He is suffering from spinal trouble. Mr. Porter was a pioneer business man of the city.

Frederick Raymond is the name of the eleventh child born to Mr. and Mrs. John S. Myers, west of the city.

Mrs. E. X. Ehinger is spending several days with her son, Tom Ehinger and family, in Fort Wayne.

Miss Lily Gates, of near Wren, O., niece of Mrs. John Everett, well known here, was operated upon at the Lutheran hospital, Fort Wayne, for acute appendicitis and fibroid tumor.

Lloyd, eighteen months old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Meyers, is ill of whooping cough and bronchial pneumonia.

Mrs. Eliza Archbold, of North Second street, who has been very low of hardening of the arteries and complications, attending old age, is improving.

Rev. J. H. Porter, new pastor of the Wayne Street Methodist Episcopal church, succeeding the Rev. C. Claud Travis, who has been called to Englewood, occupied the pulpit at both the morning and evening services Sunday. He was greeted by large audiences at both services. Dr. Porter expects to have his family here by the middle of the week.

To Have Complexion That Men Admire

"A man may admit, with great sophistication, that powder and rouge are necessary aids to beauty," says a well-known writer, "yet deep in his heart he dreams of the woman whose loveliness needs no artificial touching up. Women who appreciate this, who give consideration to the masculine viewpoint, avoid using any of those things that might indicate their beauty is not all their own."

"Such women in increasing numbers are acquiring the mercurized wax habit. By applying the wax at night as they would cold cream, washing it off in the morning, they secure, and maintain, entirely natural complexion. Their faces exhibit no evidence of having been 'beautified.' Nothing is added to the old complexion—the latter, instead, is discarded. Mercurized wax, procured at any drug store (an ounce is sufficient) absorbs the devitalized outer skin, gradually, almost imperceptibly. The fresh, clear, satiny under-skin which appears, bears a healthy, youthful bloom not comparable with the fixed, artificial color."

IN THE CHURCHES

WILL HOLD WEEK'S MISSION SERVICE

Rev. William Gelsdorf, Missionary, to Officiate at Sheldon Church.

Opening Thursday evening, October 25, and continuing through All Saints, Thursday, November 1, Rev. William Gelsdorf, a prominent missionary of Cornell, Wis., will officiate at a series of mission services at the St. Aloysius church, Sheldon. Sunday, November 4, Father Gelsdorf will open a similar service at Bluffton, a mission parish of Sheldon. Between appointments he will make his home at St. Vincent's orphan asylum, of this city.

Full Festival.

The St. Louis Catholic church, of Besancon, Ind., will hold a fall festival in the school hall, October 25, 26, 27, 28. The program opens Thursday evening and many from Fort Wayne, New Haven, Monroeville and other neighboring places, are expected to be in attendance. One of the main features of the program will be the chicken suppers served by the ladies on Thursday, Saturday and Sunday evenings. Many stands will be operated by the ladies of the church at which everything may be purchased. The St. Louis school is located ten miles east of Fort Wayne, on the Lincoln Highway, and may also be reached on the Lima interurban, all local cars stopping at the school.

Dedicates Logansport Church.

Rev. Bishop Johann Joseph Aierding completed his October appointments by dedicating St. Bridge's church, Logansport, Sunday. The solemn high mass at 10 o'clock was officiated by Rev. George Horstman, pastor of St. Andrew's church of this city. The Logansport pastor and Father Horstman were chasmodates in the seminary.

English Meeting at Y. W. C. A.

At 7:30 Monday evening the first English class will be opened at the Y. M. C. A., with Miss Helen May, of the high school, as teacher. On account of the parade Tuesday evening the French class will also meet Monday evening.

Rev. Porter Here.

Rev. J. H. Porter, new pastor of the Wayne Street Methodist Episcopal church, succeeding the Rev. C. Claud Travis, who has been called to Englewood, occupied the pulpit at both the morning and evening services Sunday. He was greeted by large audiences at both services. Dr. Porter expects to have his family here by the middle of the week.

OUR Suburban Day Bargains are open to Fort Wayne customers as freely as to our out-of-town friends.

If We Can Not Save You 25 Per Cent on Any Furniture or Carpets You Have to Buy We Will Not Ask You to Purchase of Us

WE give more space, more capital and more attention to the Rug, Carpet and Linoleum business than any store in Fort Wayne. Carpets are a mere side issue in dry goods stores. We make a specialty of them.

We Have Led the Trade in These Lines of Goods in Fort Wayne for Half a Century

Furnish Your Living Room $59.75
With This Fine Three-Piece Suite

With this suite in your home you will be fortified against the unexpected guest. The big, Duofold Davenport will hold a 35-pound mattress and can be instantly converted into a comfortable bed. The Davenport, Arm Chair and Rocker are quite luxurious, with deep spring seats and backs upholstered in serviceable Imperial leatherette. Have heavy frames in solid oak finish.

Headquarters For Baby Carriages

We make a specialty of Baby Carriages and Go-Carts. We have the Fort Wayne agency for the two best known manufacturers of the entire country. We carry a very large line. Fresh air is better than medicine. Keep your baby in it as much as possible.

See our handsome Reed Baby Carriage, well worth $20.00, for $13.90

White, Brown or Gray.

Colonial Period Suite $110.00
Dresser, Chiffonier and Bed

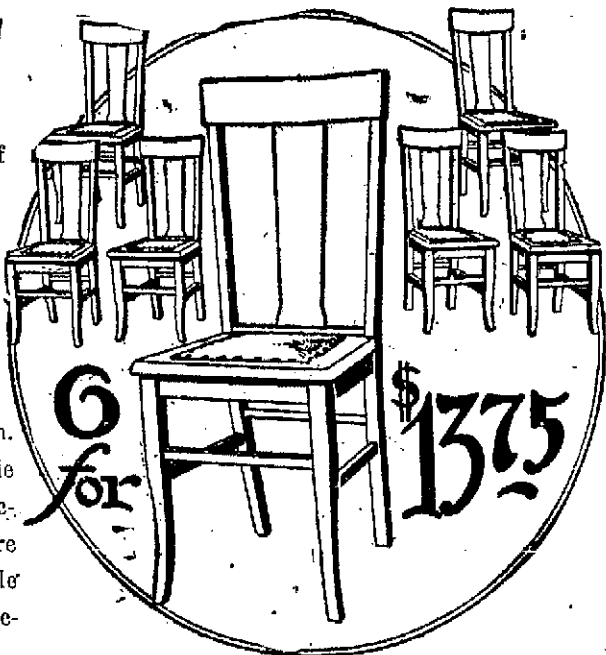

This Colonial Suite has a Napoleon Bed, so called because it is of the design on which the Great Napoleon slept. Only royalty could afford such a handsome suite as this in his day. The Big "Half Century Store" puts the price within the reach of quite a moderate purse. We offer it as you see as a Suburban Day Bargain at $110. It is a finely flaked quarter-sawn golden oak. Such furniture as this never goes out of fashion, increases in fact in value as the years roll on, and can be handed down to succeeding generations. We have the Dressing Table to match, if desired.

For Suburban Day Only!

We are making this unusual offer of six Oak Dining Chairs, worth $20, for just for next Wednesday, the 24th. They are covered in high grade Leatherette, are of box frame construction. They cost you but little more than a set of the ordinary spindle frame chairs. Don't overlook this one-day opportunity.

$13.75

The man who can see no further ahead than the present is mentally blind.

The man who can plan for a year is a general.

The man who can plan for a lifetime is a genius.

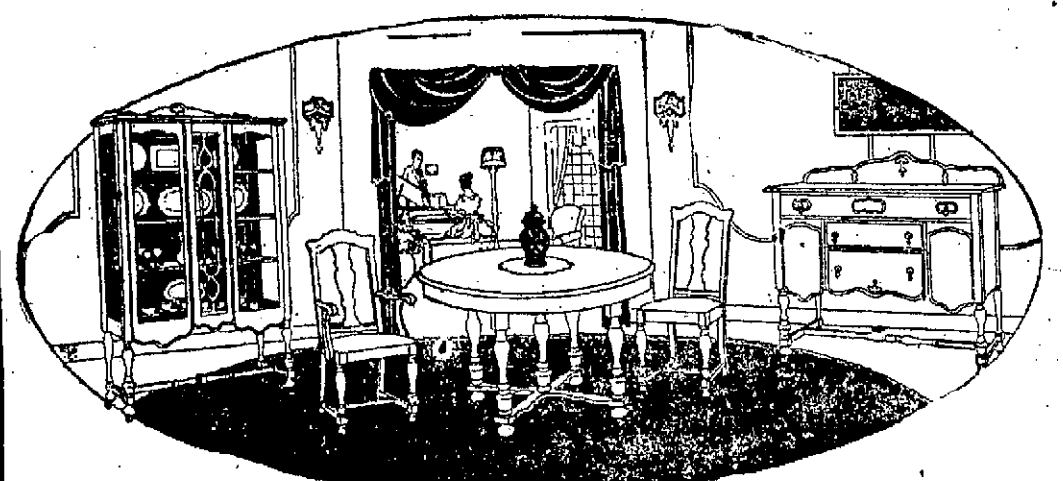

The man who can plan for generations yet to come is a seer, a prophet.

Well, this last is what the "Half Century Store" is doing—planning for generations yet to come.

Sometimes people tell the Foster Furniture Company that they can buy Rugs as cheaply elsewhere, only they don't like the styles as well. That's just the point. At Foster's they do not handle old styles, out of date or unsuccessful patterns in Rugs or Carpets in order to get them a little cheaper and so be able to make a bigger profit upon them. The prettiest and the best are none too good for the customers of the "Big Store."

No Spring Bonnet

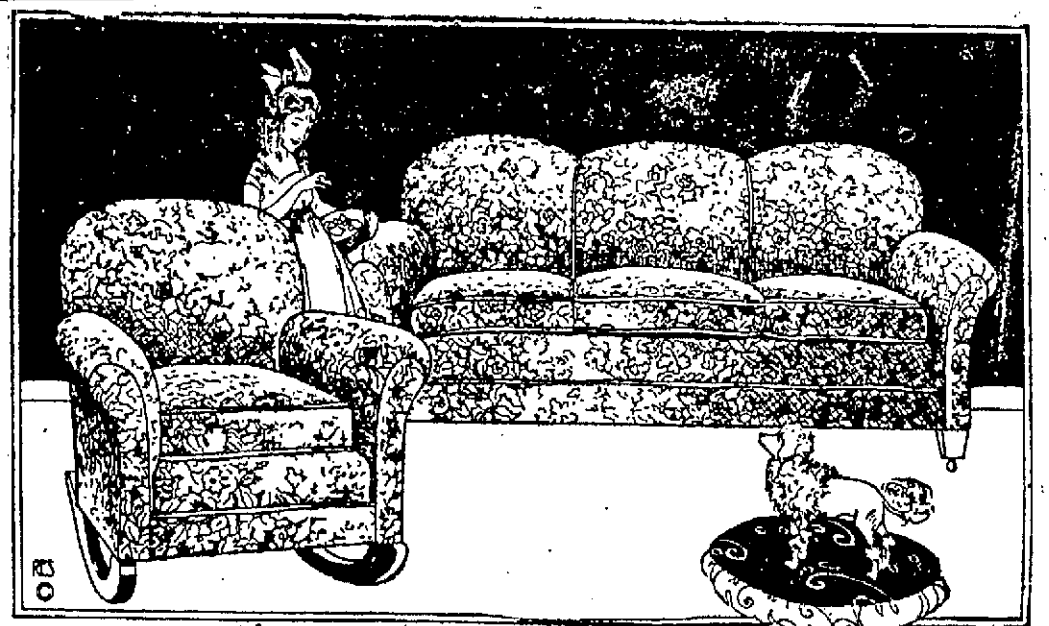

A Housekeeping Outfit is not a Spring bonnet, to be discarded at the end of the season. It ought to be selected with care, for you have got to live with it. If well made and artistic in design, it will last you a lifetime and be "a joy forever." If made only for show, or if defective in design, it will soon go to pieces, or so offend your taste that you will get rid of it at any price and have to buy all over again. We have had young people say to us: "The furniture we bought when we were first married was worn out by the time we got it paid for. We made a sad mistake in not coming to you in the first place."

8-Piece William and Mary $110
Period Dining Room Set

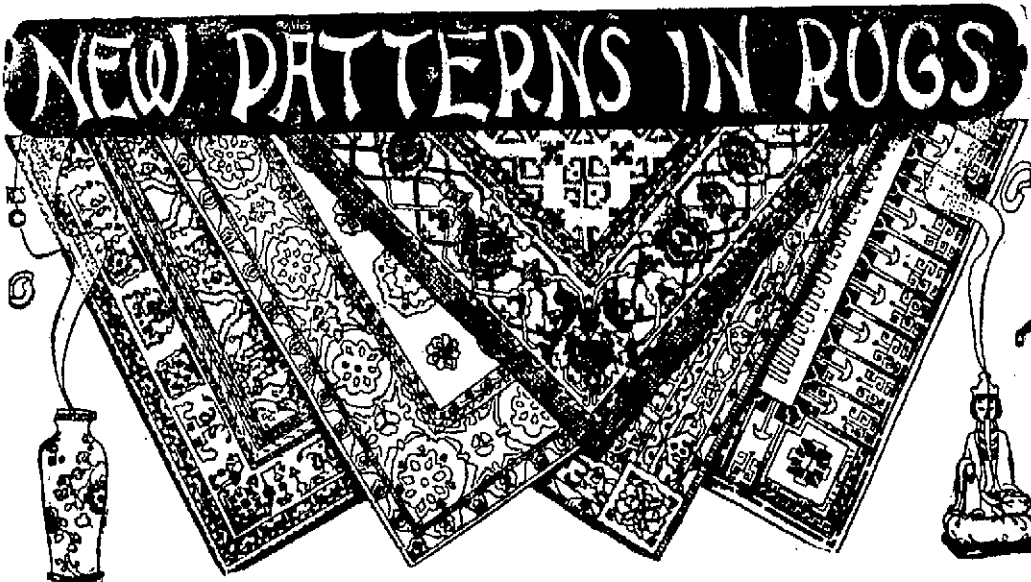

The eight pieces consist of the Table, Buffet, and Six Chairs, one of which being a high-arm Host's Chair. If the China Closet is included that would be extra.

The Chairs are upholstered in Genuine Leather, and the entire suite is built to last a lifetime and then to be willed to succeeding generations. The William and Mary Period Design is the favorite of all Period styles, and if you wish to give your dining room a really distinguished atmosphere secure this beautiful outfit. The Table is very large, being 54 inches in diameter, and seats, when extended, 12 persons.

Luxurious Tapestry $110
Davenport and Chair

Some stores will ask you $125 for the Davenport alone. It is 7 feet long, covered in high grade tapestry, has loose cushions and is as fine a job of upholstery as you have ever seen. We offer it as a "Suburban Day Bargain." Fort Wayne people can have it, if they beat the out-of-town people to it.

Do you know that some of the highest grade carpet and rug manufacturers give to us the exclusive sale of their goods in Fort Wayne? As the leading rug and carpet house of the state of Indiana we have our pick of the manufacturers. Do you realize what that means to our customers? It means better goods, a larger assortment, prettier designs and more reasonable prices. We have a line of one thousand Rugs from which to select any you may want.

SELLERS' Kitchen Cabinets

Absolutely the Best

You Can Buy It Only at Foster's

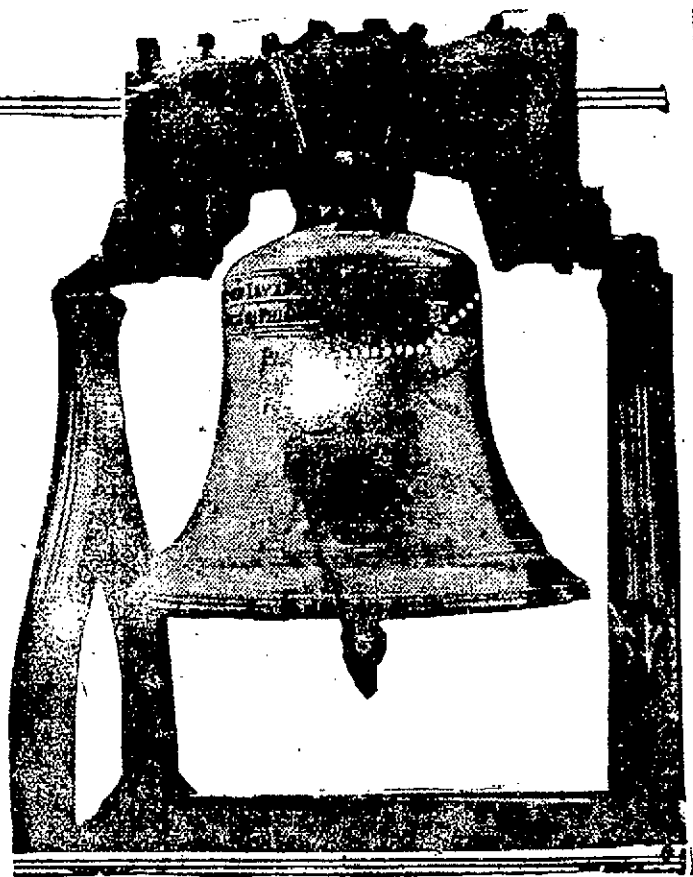

No other make is in it with the Seller's. Its Automatic Lowering Flour Bin is a feature no other Cabinet has and it is a most important one. In addition it has the guaranteed porcelain work table, automatic base shelf extender, anti-proof casters and many other exclusive patented features.

Patriot's Primer

Liberty Bonds

What They Are-- and How to Buy Them

Q. What is the Second Liberty Loan of 1917?

A. It is a loan of money by the people of the United States to their Government.

Q. Why does the United States Government borrow money?

A. Because we are forced to defend ourselves against the attacks on American honor and American rights by the German Government, and therefore must have money to equip and maintain our Army and Navy. We need money also in order to lend to those nations with whom we are making common cause in this war.

Q. Are not the ordinary receipts of our Government from taxes, etc., sufficient to do this?

A. No; the ordinary receipts of the Government are about one and a quarter billion dollars a year, while our expenses of the war for the fiscal year ending July 1, 1918, will be over $10,000,000,000, not including the money which we will lend to our allies.

Q. How is the Government going to raise this large amount of money?

A. By borrowing from the people and by increasing taxes.

What Is a United States Government Bond?

Q. When I lend my money to the United States Government, what do I get in return?

A. You get a promissory note given by the United States Government and bearing interest. This note is called a "bond."

Q. What, then, is a United States Government bond?

A. It is the direct and unconditional promise of the United States of America to pay upon a certain date a specified sum of money in gold, together with interest at a specific rate, payable at specific dates until the bond matures, or is called for redemption.

Q. In what form is this promise?

A. It is engraved upon a sheet of distinctive paper used only for the money and securities of the United States, and is executed by the Secretary of the Treasury and by the Registrar of the Treasury and sealed with the Treasury Department seal.

Q. When are bonds of the Second Liberty Loan dated?

A. November 15, 1917, is the date they will bear, because that is the date on which they will be issued by the Government and the date on which interest begins.

Q. When will these bonds be paid by the Government; that is, when will they become due?

A. November 15, 1942; but the Government has the right to pay them any time after 10 years from date of the bond.

Q. Do I have to hold my bond until the date it is due before I get my money back?

A. No; you can sell your bond any time you desire. There is always a ready market for United States Government Bonds.

Q. How can such a sale be made?

A. Any bank, trust company, reliable bond dealer, or broker will be glad to sell your bond for you at any time. Tradersmen will accept them as cash on purchases.

Q. If necessary, could I borrow money on these bonds?

A. Yes; United States Government bonds are the best security which can be offered in borrowing money. They will obtain for you the best terms possible. Ask any bank if you desire to borrow money on your liberty bonds.

Q. Do I get any interest on my money while it is loaned to my Government?

A. Yes; the Government will pay you interest at the rate of 4 per cent a year.

Q. How do I collect the interest?

A. Attached to each bond is an engraved sheet of interest coupons, one for each six months' period. When the interest date arrives, you cut off the interest coupon of that date and take it to any bank, where it may be cashed or deposited.

Q. How often do I get this interest?

A. Every six months. This interest will be paid to you every May 15 and every November 15 during the life of the bond.

Q. Is there any way I can collect my interest without having to cut the coupons?

A. Yes; you can get the Government to give you a "registered" bond; that is, a bond without any coupon attached and with your name written on the bond; and each six months, as the interest falls due, the Treasury Department will send you a check in payment of the interest.

What Is the Security?

Q. A United States Government bond is frequently spoken of as "best security in the world." Why is this true?

A. Because the promise to pay a Government bond is backed by the faith and honor of the United States of America and by the taxing power of this whole country, which is the richest Nation in the world.

Q. Has the United States issued bonds before; and, if so, has it ever failed to pay all of its bonds when they became due?

A. This Government has issued bonds before, and has never failed to pay every bond when it became due with all the interest on same. Even after the Civil War, when the country was suffering from a heavy debt and was not nearly so rich as it is today, all of the Government bonds were paid when they became due.

How Far Are These Bonds Exempt From Taxes?

Q. Are Liberty Bonds exempt from taxation?

A. The bonds are exempt both as to principal and interest from all taxes imposed by the United States, any State, or any of the possessions of the United States, or by any local taxing authority, except:

(a) Estate or inheritance taxes.

(b) Graduated additional income taxes, commonly known as surtaxes and excess profits or war-profits taxes now or hereafter imposed by the United States upon the income or profits of corporations, individuals, partnerships, or associations.

The interest on an amount of bonds and certificates, not in excess of $5,000 in one ownership, is exempt from the taxes provided for in Clause (b) above.

Q. Does this mean that the bonds are free from all local taxation?

A. Yes; the local assessor or tax collector cannot assess these bonds as personal property.

The First Liberty Loan.

Q. Has our country sold any Liberty Bonds before?

A. Yes; $2,000,000,000, bearing 3½ per cent interest, were sold in June, 1917.

Q. Did the people generally subscribe for these bonds?

A. Yes; more than 4,000,000 persons bought all of these bonds and offered to buy a billion more than were offered.

Q. Suppose the Government offers bonds in the future which will pay a higher rate of interest than 4 per cent?

A. If so, the holder of a Liberty Bond will have the right to exchange this bond for one bearing the higher rate of interest.

Amount of Present Loan.

Q. What is the amount of the Second Liberty Loan?

A. The Secretary of the Treasury is inviting subscriptions for $3,000,000,000 and reserves the right to allot additional bonds up to one-half the amount of any oversubscription.

Q. How was this bond issue created?

A. It was authorized by an act of Congress and approved by the President of the United States.

How to Buy.

Q. How much do bonds of the Second Liberty Loan cost?

A. From $50 to $100,000, whatever their face value calls for. The law states that these bonds must be sold at not less than "par," that is, their face value—100 cents on the dollar.

Q. How can I buy the bonds of the Second Liberty Loan?

A. By filling out an application blank and handing it to any bank or trust company, or any solicitor of Allen County's Flying Squadron.

Q. When can this application for bonds be made?

A. At any time from the 1st day of October to the close of business on the 27th day of October, 1917.

Q. In what form must applications to buy a Liberty Bond be made?

A. All applications must be in the form prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, obtainable at any bank or from a Liberty Loan Committee.

Q. Must the full price of bonds be paid on application?

A. No; only 2 per cent of the amount you want to buy is required when application is made.

Q. When must the remainder be paid?

A. Four plans are offered—one as low as $1.00 per week.

Q. When will the subscribers know how many bonds they will receive on their subscriptions?

A. The Secretary of the Treasury will announce this about the 6th of November, 1917. This is known as making the "allotment."

Q. Must all subscribers to liberty bonds wait until the allotment is made to know whether or not they will receive their bonds?

A. No; a subscriber for bonds up to $1,000 is certain to receive his bond.

Q. If I desire to pay for the bonds at the time I make my subscription, may I do so?

A. Yes; you can pay in full for any bonds you buy up to and including $1,000; but subscribers for more than this amount must wait until the allotment is made.

What You Get.

Q. If I pay in full for a $50, $100, $500, or $1,000 bond, do I receive the bond?

A. Yes; you will receive a bond dated November 15, 1917, and bearing interest from that date. You will receive it, within a short time after your payment has been made.

Q. What provision is made for the interest accruing on the bonds from November 15, 1917, to May 15, 1918, a six months' period, when final payment on the bonds is not made until January 15, 1918?

A. Interest from November 15, 1917, to date of final or full payment must be made added to the last payment. Credit will be given the subscriber for interest at the same rate upon all the payments. Tables showing the amount of accrued interest payable on January 15, 1918, and on various interest days after payment has been made, will be distributed through the banks by the Treasury Department.

Q. As a practical matter, will I have any difficulty in attending to these details?

A. None at all. Any bank, trust company, bond house, or broker will gladly give you full instructions at any time without charge.

How Women May Aid.

Q. How may women aid the Liberty Loan?

A. First: By the purchase of Liberty Bonds. Second: By helping to sell Liberty Bonds to others.

Q. Can a woman own a Liberty Bond as her personal property?

A. A Liberty Bond is the personal property of the purchaser or of the person to whom the purchaser may sell or assign it. If it is a registered bond, the record of its ownership is a matter of governmental record. A Liberty Bond is therefore the property of the woman who buys it until she disposes of it.

Q. Why should women buy Liberty Bonds?

A. Because Liberty Bonds are the method adopted by the Government of the United States to take care of the soldiers, sailors, and marines who are fighting America's war. The success of our men in this war will benefit women no less than men. Women may not fight; but women may aid men in providing the sinews of war for the fighters. To women, even more poignantly than to men, come the words of the Secretary of the Treasury, "Shall we be more tender with our dollars than with the lives of our sons?"

Q. What may women's organizations do to promote the Liberty Loan?

A. Every organization of women has a fund of some sort which may be used to aid the Liberty Loan. The money of this fund may be invested in Liberty Bonds. There is no better investment for the funds of an institution, a community, or of an organization. Every woman's organization in the country should be represented by investment in the Liberty Bonds.

Q. How does the purchase of Liberty Bonds express the patriotism of the American people?

A. Every citizen of the United States who buys a Liberty Bond registers his approval of our defending ourselves against Germany. Every citizen who buys a Liberty Bond testifies to his love of country. Every citizen who buys a Liberty Bond contributes toward victory.

TWO MORE DIVORCE

CASES AT AUBURN

Garrett Railroader Charges
Desertion and Auburn Woman Cruelty.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Auburn, Ind., Oct. 22.—Two more divorce cases have been filed. Olney O. Hudson, a Garrett railroader, has asked the court for a divorce from Roselle May Hudson, charging abandonment. He states that his wife left him in April, 1917, and has since refused to live with him. Louis Muzillo, of Auburn, wishes a divorce from his wife, May Muzillo. This couple were married in February, 1916, and lived together about a year. The plaintiff charges cruel and inhuman treatment. Claims that owing to the reputation of his wife he was unable to conduct his business and was compelled to leave Auburn. The plaintiff later returned to this city and is now engaged in the fruit business on West Seventh street.

Auburn Short Items.
The case of Bert Maxwell, a Baltimore & Ohio conductor, of Garrett, brought by Miss Myra Morden, of Garrett, for the support of her illegitimate child is set for hearing in the DeKalb circuit court Wednesday, October 31.

The first number of the Auburn lecture course will be given next Wednesday, October 24. The course is under the auspices of the Auburn high school this year. All of the numbers will be given in the Court theater.

Judge Dan M. Link and L. G. Whitten of this city, will go to Newville Sunday evening, where they will address a Red Cross meeting to be held at the United Brethren church. Newville has just organized their Red Cross and it will be a branch of the DeKalb county organization. The officers are: Chairman, Mrs. Estella McNabb; secretary, Mrs. Jessie Fusselman; treasurer, Mrs. Jocelyn, with Mesdames Gengnagle and Traxler as inspectors of the work.

Some of the coal ordered by Mayor J. Y. W. McClellan to be disposed of in the city has arrived and delivery will begin today. Two more cars are expected. Mayor McClellan is to be congratulated on his efficient work in solving this fuel problem for our city. Word has been received in this city that Emmett Tensland, of Fort Wayne, a former resident of this city, and son of Mrs. F. A. Squires, of South Wayne street, has enlisted in the United States army and has gone to Fort Thomas, Kentucky. He is a printer by trade and has been employed in Fort Wayne for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Osburn of Butler, are moving to Auburn this week, the former being employed at the Auburn foundry.

H. E. Barnard, state federal food inspector, has appointed Dr. L. N. Geisinger, county health officer, and Dr. W. W. Swartz, city health officer, as local federal food administrators. The health officers have been appointed on this board throughout the country. The newly appointed officials for this territory got busy at once and their first day's work was notifying the hotels, restaurants and various clubs of the city, their duty in helping to conserve the food supply for the nation.

Why Colds Are Dangerous.

It is not only the serious diseases that so often start with a cold that makes a cold the most dangerous of the minor ailments, but the fact that when a child has a cold he is much more likely to contract germ diseases such as scarlet fever and diphtheria. For this reason every cold should be gotten rid of as quickly as possible. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has gained a wide reputation for its quick cures of bad colds. You will look a long time before you find a better preparation for that disease.—Advertisement.

ALL ROADS LEAD TO FORT WAYNE!

Many Are Coming This Week, Wed.

When Wednesday morning comes this week hundreds of people in the cities and towns of north-eastern Indiana and northwestern Ohio will take the trains and interurban cars or their automobiles for the weekly trading trip to Fort Wayne.

For every Wednesday is Suburban Trade day in Fort Wayne—a special day for out-of-town people to find splendid trade inducements—plenty of money-saving "specials" to pay them for coming—plenty to entertain them after they get here. For the stores make special plans to meet the needs of all buyers, and the theaters are giving especial attention to securing the best attractions.

Are YOU coming this week Wednesday?

Why not plan for it now? You can get away if you want to. Take "a day off." There's surely something you need for fall or winter which the home merchant cannot supply. Fort Wayne is the logical place to buy it. Look over the advertising columns of the papers tomorrow. Decide upon what you need. You'll doubtless find it listed at a special Suburban Day price. Then come to Fort Wayne Wednesday—make your purchases—stay for the theater and round out a day of profit and pleasure.

All Want to Try New Drug That Dries Up Corns so They Lift Out.

Good news spreads rapidly and druggists here are kept busy dispensing freezone, the recent discovery of a Cincinnati man, which is said to loosen any corn so it lifts out with the fingers.

A quarter of an ounce costs very little at any pharmacy, but is said to be sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You apply just a few drops on the tender, aching corn and instantly the soreness is relieved, and soon the corn is so shriveled that it lifts out without pain.

It is a sticky substance which dries when applied and never inflames or even irritates the adjoining tissue.

This discovery will prevent thousands of deaths annually from lock-jaw and infection heretofore resulting from the suicidal habit of cutting corns.—Advertisement.

BONFIRES TO LIGHT NATION

Thousands of Women Will Gather About Local Blaze.

GRAND PARADE WILL HAVE MANY SECTIONS

Women of City Have Already Subscribed $30,000 to Loan.

Freedom from her mountain height will ask a response from American womenhood, Tuesday evening. In a thousand bonfires, kindled in the heart of every city of the United States, will come a prompt response.

The line of march will be east on Wayne street, from the Y. W. C. A. to Calhoun street; north of Calhoun street to Main street; and east on Main street to Old Fort Place.

When the parade reaches Old Fort Place there will be a grand assembly about a heap of fagots. Mrs. Josiah Evans Cowles will light the Liberty fire. She will explain the significance of the act. All the women will then join in singing "America."

To the blaze, the light of which is to be a beacon of assurance to America's allies, Mrs. Fred McCulloch will add a piece of bark from the ancient Constitution Elm of Corydon.

Names Sections. Mrs. J. B. Crankshaw, in charge of the big Fort Wayne women's effort in the big loan campaign, has arranged for the following sections in making up the Tuesday night parade:

The first section will form in front of the Y. W. C. A. It will be led by Mrs. H. O. Bruggeman, grand marshal of the march. She will be followed by Mrs. Walter Seavey and Mrs. Guy Mahurin.

One of the military bands will follow these marchers. Next in order will be Mrs. Fred McCulloch and Mrs. J. B. Crankshaw. Then will follow the two teams which are to make the canvass of women of the city for the Liberty Loan.

Mrs. C. J. Shoo will lead one of these bands, known as the Clara Barton workers and Mrs. S. A. Bowser will be at the head of the Betsy Ross band of Liberty Loan campaigners.

The Clara Barton followers are: Mesdames Harry Hogan, David Mulligan, A. J. McCabe, Benjamin Levy, Forrest Beyer, Ferd Urbahn, Howard Townsend, Benjamin Heaton, William McKinnis, Walter Barrett, Frank Cutshall and Miss Edith Moynihan.

The Betsy Ross band is made up of Mesdames Martin Luecke, Jules Simon, H. C. Heiser, Ritter, William Bersch, Ted Ericks and Misses Ethel Doud and Louise Pixley.

The remainder of the first division will be composed of mothers and wives of men who are now in service. These women will carry service flags.

The second division line-up will be: Mrs. Josiah Evans Cowles, Mrs. A. S. Pauve, visiting federation women and club league workers. This section will form on Ewing street, north of Wayne street.

Women clerks will make up the major part of the third section of the march. There will be representatives from the Wolf & Dessauer store, Steele-Meyers, Rurdes, Franks, Teppers, Ready-to-Wear store and other downtown stores. This group will form on Ewing street, south of Wayne street.

A second military band will lead the fourth section. Make-up of this department of the parade will be: Camp Fire girls, Holman Street Lamp work girls, Industrial school girls and high school girls. These paraders will meet north on Webster street, just west of Wayne.

The fifth section will be made up by members of the women's lodges of the city, women from the various churches, Navy league knitters, Red Cross workers, College club members. This group will assemble south on Webster street, off of Wayne street.

Marshals Named. Following are the names of the parade marshals: Mrs. Fred Huntington, Mrs. W. E. Jones, Mrs. Carl Getz, Miss Phyllis Randall, Miss May, Mrs. W. A. Kent, Mrs. Norton Fisher, Mrs. Florence Dinnen, Miss Elizabeth Porter, Miss Helen Lane, Miss Julia Emanuel, Miss Clara Williams, Miss May Jewell Smith, Miss Anna Cole, Miss Maud Givans, Miss Minetta Baum, Miss Lucile Vale, Miss Olive Gaunt, Miss Marjory Royan, Mrs. Richard Blossom, Mrs. W. H. Warrington, Miss Winifred Callahan and Mrs. Chester Hall.

Rippe, secretary of the German organization. Arrangements for Banquets. Members of the central committee of the men's Liberty Loan campaign will meet on Monday evening at the Liberty Loan headquarters to arrange for the series of noonday luncheons to be held by the officers in the big drive, which opens on Tuesday.

Cedar Creek Workers. At a meeting of the Cedar Creek boosters the men agreed to form the following teams: Team 1—Herbert Schwartz, Harry Bender, Gerry Bates, Allen Warner. Team 2—John C. Kryder, A. S. Abbott, Frank Kryder, Louis Michels. Team 3—William Tonkel, C. W. McComb, A. W. Egly, Arley Fredrick. Team 4—Henry Hosler, Noah Wilks, George Krumbigle, Henry Wiltmer. Team 5—Herman Schlatter, H. S. Miller, Frank Klopfenstein, E. Croy Martz. Team 6—John C. Lantz, Christ Shank, Kent Stevick, George Tonkel. Team 7—William Warner, Albert Klopfenstein, Elmer Garman, Benjamin Disler. Team 8—William Goldsmith, Al P. Smith, Charles Stevick, C. E. Kryder.

For the Farmers. The quota for each township of Allen county is placed at $200,000. Never have the farmers of the county been in better shape than now to do their duty. It is brought home strongly that if any one fails to do his duty in loaning to Uncle Sam the required $300,000,000 at this time, he strengthens the possibility that the German emperor will demand that the people of the United States pay his war debt of $30,000,000,000, without any return except of slavery of the vilest form.

W. C. Schwieter, director of the township campaign, issues the following appeal: "To All Allen County Liberty Loan Workers. Greeting: '1. Be prepared and stay on the job for the four days of the campaign, October 22, 23, 24, 25 and 26. '2. You are the messenger of the United States government. Collect the 2 per cent of each subscription and give receipt to the bond purchaser. Be sure and indicate the bank he wants his subscription on. '3. Be sure to discharge your duty in all particulars. Study your subscription blanks and confine your work to the territory assigned to you. '4. Call on every person in your district. '5. The quota for your township should show at the very least the sum of $200,000.00. '6. Be courteous to those you call on, and be sure to sell him the utmost of his financial ability. '7. Do not sell a $50.00 bond to a person who can afford to purchase a $5,000.00 bond. '8. In each instance try your best to get the 2 per cent down payment on the subscription. However, if there are cases in which the party solicited cannot at the moment pay the 2 per cent do not turn down the subscription; have him indicate the time, which must be, of course, within a day or two, that he will make the 2 per cent down payment. This 2 per cent payment can be made at the bank where the party does his business. '9. You must realize that there is a keen responsibility resting upon you in this campaign. This is the government's business and it must be done even if your own personal interests must be sacrificed a little. The time is short for the campaign and every worker is expected to devote all his time to this success. '10. When you finish the work in your district, sign your name to the envelope and return to your trustee. The trustee will please make his return not later than Saturday, October 28, to me at Liberty Loan headquarters, 116 East Berry street, Fort Wayne, Indiana."

Yesterday in the Churches. Ringing appeals for an outpouring of patriotic dollars were heard from many of the city's pulpits yesterday, but in others there was silence on the subject of the Liberty Loan for the reason that the ministers state that the rulings of the church are such as to forbid the presentation of state matters from the pulpit. At the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception yesterday morning, Rev. John R. Quinn read a letter from Herbert Hoover, and another from Rev. George Daugherty, of Washington, D. C., and followed this with a powerful sermon appealing to his parishioners on behalf of the Liberty Loan. He declared it to be the duty of every loyal citizen to support the best government on earth. "The seriousness of the war will be brought home to us when we hear that among the victims or future sinkings or losses on the battlefield are the boys we know and love from the Fort Wayne homes," he said. "We can get behind Uncle Sam and serve our country in no better way than to buy Liberty Bonds. I sincerely appeal to you to be generous in this matter. Let each and every one of you who possibly can do so, respond to this call."

In all of the other Catholic pulpits similar messages were given. At Trinity Episcopal church, a patriotic service was held in which the Stars and Stripes formed a feature of the program. In his sermon of the morning, the rector, Rev. E. W. Averill, reviewed America's participation in the war and inspired his hearers to the most complete support of the government in this time of national peril. At Plymouth Congregational church, Rev. A. J. Folsom, who has delivered a number of patriotic addresses during the war period, outlined his former efforts yesterday morning in his appeal for the support of the Liberty Bond campaign. He drove home the fact that to fail to come to the support of the government now, by loaning the required amount, will doubtless mean that the people of America will not only become the servants of a tyrannical ruler but will be compelled to pay outright, with no thought of return, the Kaiser's entire war debt of thirty billion dollars.

Among the other ministers who spoke in the interest of the campaign are: Rev. Henry B. Master, of the First Presbyterian church; Rev. E. M. Krider, of St. Paul's M. E. church; Rev. Nevin H. Schaaf, of Grace Reformed church; Rev. A. G. Neal, of the First M. E. church; Rev. O. E. Tomes, of the West Jefferson Street Church of Christ.

At the General Electric Works. Beginning with an address by C. H. Worden, general chairman of the campaign, the program of the big work at the General Electric plant will open tomorrow. Decorated booths will be placed in the various buildings in charge of enthusiastic leaders. The team committee announces the following organization of teams, captains and assignments: 1—H. A. Hartman, general offices in building No. 16 and draughting room in building 16. 2—R. O. Gert, shipping and receiving departments, including casting department, coil house, scrap department and wiring insulating. 3—F. G. Fleming, insulation department. 4—E. L. Haffner, apparatus department. 5—J. Trautman, small motor department. 6—William Frisch, all transformer department. 7—J. B. Mills, all meter department, including meter work in building 16. 8—William Wehrs, induction motor and belted alternators. 9—F. Schwartzkopf, punch room building No. 28. 10—W. J. Lockett, buildings 26, 4 and 5. 11—F. G. Duryee, maintenance and operating departments; electrical and mechanical maintenance, power house, plumbers, blacksmiths, tinmiths, carpenters, labor, etc. Switchboard department. 12—Howard Miller, buildings 20, 22, 28; accountant welding department; thermodynamic metal department; rock drillsmith shop; treating and annealing departments. 13—William Garlhan. 14—General team—All watchmen. Each captain will appoint his own lieutenant and workers and will send to O. H. Rinehart a list of these workers at once.

Francis J. Michel, 1639 Wells street, died Monday morning from complications of diseases. He was born on April 6, 1838, at Leugfurt, Bavaria, Germany. He immigrated to this country in June, 1873, and came directly to Fort Wayne. He followed the cooperage trade for fifteen years, and then took employment with the Indiana Road Machine company as night watchman. He fulfilled these duties faithfully for twenty-five years, retiring from active service three years ago.

He is survived by the widow, Margaret Michel, and the following children: Charles J. Michel, the Wells street grocer; Joseph Michel, residing at Buffalo; John J. Michel, machinist at the Pennsylvania shops; and Mary L. Michel, milliner at the Gaskill millinery store. Eight grandchildren also survive.

Mr. Michel was well known and had always been an active church member, being a charter member of the Precious Blood Catholic church and a member of the school society, the Sacred Heart league, and the Holy Name society. The remains will be taken to the home of Charles J. Michel, 1743 Wells street, where funeral services will be conducted Thursday morning at 8:30 o'clock and at 9 o'clock from the Precious Blood church. Interment in Catholic cemetery. Friends kindly omit flowers.

Contagion Report. New cases of smallpox are: Adelia Schorr, 2017 Kentucky avenue, and Magdalena Schoeniers, 1210 Erie street. Althea Appenzeller, 2344 Gay street, has diptheria.

Brooks Again. The Brooks Construction company management will complete the building of the Coombs street subway. When work was well under way by the Grace Construction company Saturday the Brooks management announced that the price asked by the Grace company was too high and that the original contract would be carried out. The Brooks company started work Monday noon.

Birth Record. Born to Mr. and Mrs. John Hart, 804 Barr street—a boy. To Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Franklin, Barr street—a boy. To Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nigkemeier, 1228 Eliza street—a girl. To Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Berry, 518 Masterson avenue—a boy. R. E. Hickman, 1228 Wilt street—a boy.

Several Hurt in Auto Accidents. Farmer Sustains Crushed Leg When Machine Turns Over. Automobile accidents followed the golden trail of autumn sunshine down during roads and streets Sunday. Accounts of collisions and other mishaps kept the police busy during the afternoon.

Ernest Dellinger, rural route No. 11, sustained a badly crushed leg and other body bruises when the automobile in which he was riding was turned completely over by collision with a machine driven by Henry Heckman, 219 West DeWald street. The accident occurred at the corner of Dawson street and Fairfield avenue. The cars met nearly head-on in an effort to turn. Both cars were badly damaged. Dellinger's machine was turned completely over. It was thought for a time that the farmer was fatally hurt. He was removed to his home in another machine. Dellinger claims that he was attempting to pass another vehicle near the corner and that Heckman ran against his car.

Mrs. Earl Black, rural route 11, had her back badly strained when the car in which she was riding with her husband collided with a machine driven by Henry Hoffman at State and Anthony boulevards Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Black was taken to St. Joseph hospital after the accident. Her injuries are not considered to be critical. Black was reported to the police that Hoffman was on the wrong side of the street and approaching the intersection at a rapid rate. Mrs. Clara Jordan, 501 West Fourth street, was thrown from the seat of her husband's automobile when the machine collided with a street car at the corner of Sherman and Huffman streets Sunday morning. Mrs. Jordan was cut about the arms and her body was badly bruised. She was taken into the home of Dr. J. W. Bowers for temporary treatment and later removed to her home. She will recover. Mrs. Jordan drove the automobile against the street car, it is reported to the police.

Henry Tipton, a teamster, reported to the police that an automobile, the number of which he could not secure, struck his wagon at the corner of Eliza and McCulloch streets Sunday evening. Tipton was thrown to the street and his back hurt.

Theodore W. Walda, manager of the Independent Transfer company, reported to the police Saturday evening that a car driven by a woman struck one of his wagons, damaging it and injuring the horse. She did not stop, however, and her identity could not be learned.

The machine belonging to Dr. A. H. Macbeth was run into at the corner of Douglas avenue and Calhoun street by an automobile driven by Alfred Bachman. The splintering windshield slightly injured Hans Quas, a 5-year-old boy who was present at the corner. James Brown, of the Rolling-Mill district, sustained painful injuries when he tried to avoid an automobile. He turned into the curb and was thrown off his wheel in front of a heavily laden wagon. Although his injury is not serious the leg is badly bruised and swollen.

Can Import Booze. Washington, D. C., Oct. 22.—The solicitor of the treasury today decided that distilled spirits may be imported into the United States notwithstanding the prohibition against such importation contained in the food bill. A section of the revenue law passed nearly two months after the food bill, the solicitor held, repeated the prohibition of spirits in the food bill.

Risk Office Robbed. Indianapolis, Oct. 22.—The safe in the office of the Indianapolis Life Insurance company in the Board of Trade building was blown open by burglars some time between Saturday afternoon and this morning. About $700 was taken. The theft was discovered when the office was opened today.

Barrett Says It Is Honor To Come Here Director of Pan-American Union Principal Speaker at Big Demonstration.

Hon. John Barrett, director general of the Pan-American union, paid Fort Wayne and Indiana a great tribute in the course of his address delivered Saturday afternoon following the Liberty Loan parade. "It is a real honor for me to speak in Fort Wayne," Mr. Barrett declared, "for Indiana stands second to no state in the union in her reputation for genuine Americanism and downright patriotism. Its history is one of the proudest pages of our history. Unless I am greatly mistaken in the character and temperament of the people of Indiana and Fort Wayne, this state and city will so subscribe to the loan that any man, woman or child who has any spare dollars will make his or her contribution feeling that by doing so the ideals of America for permanent and good will among all nations will soon triumph throughout the world."

Other speakers were F. J. Koehler, German banker of Chicago, and J. D. Flahiff, wounded Canadian soldier returned from service in France.

Must Help Those at Front. Mr. Barrett spoke in part as follows: "If every person in the United States, who can subscribe, would appreciate the overwhelming fact that victory cannot come for them at the front without the backing of the liberty loan, he would sacrifice all kinds of personal expense in order to do his part. The liberty loan is a synonym for the life of the nation. The degree of American subscription to the liberty loan will be regarded by our enemies as a far greater measure of our patriotism and of our devotion to the cause we espouse than even the vast army that we are raising and training. Every newspaper in the enemy lands will devote glaring headlines and columns of space to any failure on the part of the people of the United States to oversubscribe this loan."

"Finally, let every American remember that the over-subscription of this second liberty loan will do more on the first day of November to impress the enemy and to bring about peace than all other influences combined. It will be more effective than the lessening of his man-power, the shortage of his food and munitions, the strict application of the embargo on exports, the building of mighty fleets of aeroplanes, the sending abroad of a vast army, and the overcoming of the terror of the submarine. Why? Because, only with the aid of this loan can we make all these agencies completely successful and overpowering in the opinion of the enemy. Every dollar that is subscribed to the liberty loan will bring just that much nearer the day of peace, and the bringing of a new era of good will among men. Let us, therefore, every one of us, do our part the best we know how."

"The German-American people will fight for this glorious flag to the last drop of their blood," declared F. J. Koehler, prominent banker of Chicago, as he held the star spangled banner high in the air. Mr. Koehler told of the opportunities offered to the German immigrants to this country and appealed to the German-Americans to give their loyal support to the United States and that one of the best ways of demonstrating this loyalty was by purchasing liberty loan bonds.

J. D. Flahiff, a member of the Royal Canadian regiment, told of conditions in Belgium and France. He made a forceful plea for his listeners to buy bonds. A petition to determine the inheritance tax in the estate of the late Fred E. Nahwald has been filed in the probate court Monday.

Marriage Licenses. Theodore Witte, machinist, and Rose Rabel, Carl Frank Mallory, student, and Gertrude Isabelle Frederick. William F. Johnson, farmer, Woodburn, and Zelma K. Keese. Oliver D. Daniel, rubber worker, Barberton, O., and Elma I. Hamm. Lloyd C. Maynard, tree expert, and Madge L. Thomas. Anton E. Harpstrite, laborer, and Ella Senti.

Seven Dentist Offices in the heart of the city were burglarized Sunday afternoon and evening and more than $100 in gold and silver removed by thieves who used a jimmy to open the office doors. Offices which were looted were: Dr. E. P. Sites, West Wayne street, lost $20 in gold coins, teeth and bridge work. Also some platinum taken. Dr. J. M. Rosenthal, Utility building, third floor. Lost between $30 and $50 in gold mountings, gold wire and other metal for fillings. Rosenthal states that his office was entered between 12 o'clock noon on Sunday and Sunday evening at 6 o'clock. Dr. C. L. Baird, Shioff block, second floor, lost $15 in gold fillings and silver. Dr. L. A. Fanner, Old National bank block, lost $20 worth of gold mountings, gold teeth and wire. Other dentist offices to which entrance was attempted but no loss of value reported are: Dr. R. S. Sieberg, Shioff building; Dr. A. M. Tikhham, West Wayne street; Dr. George Canady, Shioff building.

In every case a small jimmy was used to force open the door. The gold, silver and other metals were taken from drawers in the dentist offices. When there were safes in the office no metal in the heavy holders was touched.

The burglars picked only the best of the filling materials. They evidently worked with speed. Some gold teeth were overlooked in the office of Dr. C. L. Baird, showing that the men may have been frightened away from the office before their work was completed.

Big Cargo of Wool Comes. An Atlantic Port, Oct. 22.—A sailing vessel brought a cargo of wool from South Africa valued at more than a million dollars to this port yesterday. The vessel was nearly a week overdue.

Made Her Stand Out In Her Night Gown Louisa Davis Charges Her Husband, Major J. Davis, With Cruelty.

Charging that her husband frequently came home at 5 o'clock in the morning and on one occasion put her out in the street where she was compelled to remain with nothing on but her night garments, Louisa Davis, 2603 Fox avenue, filed suit Monday in the superior court asking for a divorce from Major J. Davis. Mr. and Mrs. Davis were married March 2, 1916, and separated October 18, 1917. Extreme cruelty and failure to provide are charged. She is represented by Attorney Arthur W. Perry.

County Buys Crusher. The contract for a stone crusher was awarded Monday by the county commissioners to the Good Roads Machinery company. Its bid was $3,340.

Files Suit Again. For the second time within the last few weeks, Henrietta Coby, 1917 Lafayette street, filed suit Monday in the superior court asking for a divorce from Hershel Coby. Cruelty is charged. In addition to the divorce she is asking for $6 a week for the support of herself and child and $35 for attorney fees. She is represented by Attorney Phil B. Colerick.

Sentence Suspended. Judge John W. Eggegan Monday in circuit court sentenced Preston Lyons to the county jail for ninety days and fined him $1 on the charge of receiving stolen property. The sentence was suspended pending Lyons' good behavior.

Jury Hears Case. A jury in the superior court is hearing the case brought by David Murphy against Ray Wells for possession of a farm near Huntertown.

Called Her D—d American. Charging that her husband called her a d—d American, Jeannette Sarfan has filed suit in the superior court asking for a divorce from John Sarfan, proprietor of the Palace restaurant at 1214 Calhoun street. She also alleges that her husband compelled her to work in the kitchen of his restaurant. In addition to a decree for divorce she asks for $1,000 alimony.

Non-Support Charged. Suit for divorce has been filed in the superior court by Margaret Merrick against William Merrick, whom she charges with failure to provide.

Standing in Draft Call Classifications of Those Eligible and Liable Are Given Out.

MANY GRADES OF LIABILITY FIXED

Five General Classes and These Are Many Times Divided.

Washington, Oct. 22.—The five classifications into which men awaiting draft will be divided, under the new regulations approved by President Wilson have become public much before the time planned by the provost marshal general's office and are here published. It was discovered that what was to have remained an official secret for a week or more was divulged Saturday night at a dinner in New York, which Secretary Baker and Provost Marshal General Crowder attended. The provost marshal general discussed the new regulations without intending to make public the classifications but some members of a New York local exemption board, thinking to elucidate the general's speech printed the classifications on the back of the men cards. The classifications read as follows and show every man registered to which class he belongs and in what order the different classifications will be called to service:

CLASS I. 1—Single man without dependent relatives. 2—Married man (or widower with children) who habitually fails to support his family. 3—Married man dependent on wife for support. 4—Married man (or widower with children) not usefully engaged, family supported by income independent of his labor. 5—Men not included in any other description in this or other classes. 6—Unskilled laborer.

CLASS II. 1—Married man or father of motherless children usefully engaged, but family has sufficient income apart from his daily labor to afford reasonably adequate support during his absence. 2—Married man—no children—wife can support herself decently and without hardship. 3—Skilled farm laborer engaged in necessary industrial enterprise. 4—Skilled industrial laborer engaged in necessary agricultural enterprise.

CLASS III. 1—Men with foster children dependent on daily labor for support. 2—Man with aged, infirm, or invalid parents or grandparents dependent on daily labor for support. 3—Man with brothers or sisters incompetent to support themselves, dependent on daily labor for support. 4—County or municipal officer. 5—Fireman or policeman. 6—Necessary artificers or workmen in arsenals, armories and navy yards. 7—Necessary custom house clerk. 8—Persons necessary in transmission of mails. 9—Necessary employees in service of United States. 10—Highly specialized administrative experts. 11—Technical or mechanical experts in industrial enterprises. 12—Highly expert agricultural experts in agricultural bureau of state or nation. 13—Assistant or associate manager of necessary industrial enterprise. 14—Assistant or associate manager of necessary agricultural enterprise.

CLASS IV. 1—Married man with wife (and) or children (or widower with children) dependent on daily labor support and no other reasonably adequate support available. 2—Mariners in sea service of merchants or citizens of United States. 3—Heads of necessary industrial enterprises. 4—Heads of necessary agricultural enterprises.

CLASS V. 1—Officers of states or the United States. 2—Regularly or duly ordained ministers. 3—Students of Divinity. 4—Persons in military or naval service. 5—Allens. 6—Alien enemies. 7—Persons morally unfit. 8—Persons physically, permanently or mentally unfit. 9—Licensed pilots.

The Destroyer Cassin Struck By the Torpedo. Washington, D. C., Oct. 22.—It was officially announced today that the American destroyer which had an engagement in the war zone with a German submarine and got to port under her own steam after being damaged, was the United States ship Cassin.

The Cassin was torpedoed while on patrol duty on Tuesday, October 16. Gunners Mate Osmond Kelly Ingram, of Pratt City, Ala., was killed by being blown overboard by the explosion and his body never was recovered. Five others were injured but not seriously.

Welcome the Flying Squadron

Greet Them As Friends For They Bring You Opportunity

These are days making glorious history for Fort Wayne and Allen County. Hundreds of our business men are carrying the Liberty Bond message throughout the city. They are the Government's volunteer representatives.

Welcome them when they come to you. Be ready, for they bring the greatest opportunity the greatest country in the world ever offered its great people.

They bring you the chance to say to all the world, not alone in words, but in ACTION, that your country has the backing of its great, earnest, determined people, to the last heart throb, to the last breath of life, to the last dollar.

They bring the chance to put safely the power of every dollar YOU have back of the armies of your country, back of its navy, back of that overwhelming tempest of right that shall make this world safe for you and for your children hereafter.

When these Flying Squadron men come to you and say—
"Buy

U. S. GOVERNMENT LIBERTY 4% BONDS"

you should fairly shout "I will"—for that really means the chance to buy an interest in your Government!

Liberty Bonds are the Government's promise to pay in gold the entire face value, the principal, of these bonds in a stipulated time, and to pay you 4 per cent. interest on the money you invest in this way in the righteous battle for Democracy. They are as "good as gold"—and better, for they draw interest.

But those who invest in Liberty Bonds will get another return, an even greater return than the money return!

The greatest return of all will be the pride you will have in knowing that you—
you yourself—are a real, active, vital force in this colossal enterprise which, like an avalanche that nothing can stop, is rolling on and on to overwhelm an enemy that calls might right;

—that takes any inhuman means whatever to gain its ends;
—that would throttle the world in a choking grip of military power;
—and if not defeated would make this, our country, pay the price of this world war.

Buy Liberty Bonds now, today—buy them for all you are worth. Don't take a $50 bond if you can take a $100—don't take a $100 bond if you can take a $500 bond—don't take a $500 bond if you can take a $1,000 bond.

Buy Liberty Bonds with every dollar you have, or every dollar you can borrow from your banker. Buy them on the installment plan, $1.00 down and $1.00 a week for every $50 bond you buy—$2.00 down and $2.00 a week for every $100 bond you buy.

Every dollar you invest will be in the safest place you could possibly put it—and every dollar will get 4 per cent. interest.

Get A Badge of Honor

What Liberty Bonds Are

They are the Government's promise to pay the face value of the Liberty Bonds.

They bear 4% interest payable in United States gold coin November fifteen and May fifteen each year for the life of the Bonds.

They can be purchased for as little as $50, $100, $500 and up.

Information will be given and subscriptions taken at any bank, trust company, department store, bond house, the Liberty Bond Subscription Station, 116 East Berry St., or by Flying Squadron men.

You can buy Liberty Bonds on easy payments.

Surely no man or woman anywhere in this great United States of America can hold back and not some time feel ashamed.

Go to the Liberty Bonds Subscription Station or to your banker—sign the coupon and take it with you today.

Each Rug has been personally selected by our Oriental Rug Buyer, K. B. YOHANNAN.

Since the selection is necessarily limited, we advise an early call. You will save money by buying your rugs in this sale.

"LANKY BOB" COUNTED OUT

Greatest Glove Fighter of Them All is Put Out for Good.

FITZSIMMONS IS PNEUMONIA VICTIM
Remarkable Ring Career is Brought to Close by a Brief Illness.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 22.—Robert Fitzsimmons, former heavyweight pugilist of the world, died at a hospital here early today after an illness of five days of pneumonia.

The former champion was taken ill last Tuesday while appearing in a vaudeville theater and his illness was at first diagnosed as pneumonia poisoning. Later, it was discovered that he was suffering from double lobar pneumonia and physicians declared he could not live. His remarkable vitality sustained him until Saturday when he lapsed into unconsciousness from which he did not rally except at rare intervals.

During the five days of his illness, Fitzsimmons was the recipient of many messages from men whom he had formerly met in the ring, including James J. Corbett, from whom he won the championship, and James J. Jeffries, who took the title from him. Other pugilists and followers of the sport sent telegrams to the fighter and his wife, expressing hope of a speedy recovery.

Nerve Kept Him Alive.
Fitzsimmons, until he sank into his final sleep, fought for his life as he had fought for victory in the ring. Physicians declared life was prolonged several days by the grim determination of the man. Mrs. Fitzsimmons, who was with her husband during his illness, suffered a nervous breakdown last Thursday and for a time it was believed her condition was dangerous, but she soon recovered and resumed her vigil at his bedside.

"Bob was a great fighter and a good husband," said Mrs. Fitzsimmons. "He worked hard on the theatrical circuit and I believe the exposure between the acts and the drafts which blew through the wings caused his illness."

Robert, Jr., son of the dead pugilist, is expected to arrive here from New York today.

Funeral services for the dead fighter will be held at the Moody tabernacle Wednesday. Burial will be at Graceland cemetery.

Came to the Last.
"Fighting Bob" lived up to his reputation to the end. He refused to admit defeat even after physicians had given up hope.

Fitzsimmons always was referred to as an Australian because it was there that he started his ring career, but he was born in Helston, Cornwall, England, June 4, 1862. His parents, however, soon moved to New Zealand. Fitzsimmons started work in his father's blacksmith shop and at the age of 18 gained fame for his dexterity in swinging a heavy hammer and fashioning iron horseshoes. It was said he could shape two while others made one. Naturally athletic, Fitzsimmons engaged in all kinds of sports. Before taking up boxing he was a hammer thrower and long distance runner. His speed and endurance were so marvelous that he was given to hunting kangaroos as a foot.

Career of Great Battles.
In 1890 a lanky, ungainly youth of 18 strided into Timara, New Zealand, and asked his way to the arena where Jem Macco, the old English champion, was holding his boxing tournament. The youth was homely and freckled. His arms were long and hung almost to his knees. His hands showed signs of hard toil. His clothes were old and not of the latest mode. His questioners laughed in derision when he said he was going to enter the tournament against the best boxers on the island. But the laugh was on them a few hours later when the youth had measured four of them on the mat.

It was the first public ring appearance of Bob Fitzsimmons, greatest of them all, who has just been counted out by the Great Referee in his bout with death, the knockout king.

For the next few years Fitz stayed in the Antipodes winning battle after battle and in 1896 came to America, where his first two decisive victories secured him a match with Jack Dempsey, "The Nonpareil," undefeated middleweight champion of the world. Fitz knocked out Dempsey in thirteen rounds in New Orleans, Jan. 14, 1891, and his fame was secure. For the next few years Fitz met and defeated all of the great middleweights, and light heavyweights of his time, including Black Pearl, the great Peter Maher, Joe Choynski, Joe Godfrey and Dan Creedon.

From 1894 to 1897 he followed Jim Corbett around the country imploring for a match until Corbett was forced into the fight which resulted in his defeat in fourteen rounds at Carson City, Nev., March 17, 1897.

It was more than two years before Fitz again entered the ring. In the meantime he filled many vaudeville engagements, shoeing horses on the stage, punching the bag and boxing with his sparring partners, illustrating the solar plexus punch which had sent Corbett down to defeat.

For his first battle he picked Jim Jeffries, who by many was considered a set-up for him. For nine rounds he hammered Jeffries around the ring, battering him with punches which would have stopped any other fighter in the country. Jeffries, bleeding and battered, grinned and came back for more and in the eleventh round knocked the wily Australian out. The battle was fought at Coney Island, June 9, 1899.

In 1905 Jeffries again knocked out Fitz, who in the meantime had defeated Gus Ruhlin, Tom Sharkey and others.

In fighting Jeffries he hoped to regain the crown, but after having the better of the California giant on points Fitzsimmons went down to defeat in the eighth round. Old-timers of the ring say that the last knock at the hands of Jeffries started Fitzsimmons on the downward path.

In later years he was stopped by Jack O'Brien, Jack Johnson and Bill Lang. Fitzsimmons fought his great fights against heavyweights as a middleweight. He seldom weighed much over 160 pounds even when he met the giant Jeffries and Pankhorst.

Fitzsimmons was married four times. His present wife acted as his theatrical manager and was with him when he was stricken with the malady which ended his life.

He has one child, a son, whom he prepared for the ring a few years ago. The younger Fitz never proved a sensation, and has practically given up boxing.

Fitzsimmons made a fortune in the ring, but his earnings soon vanished.

FITZ'S CONQUEROR GRIEVES.

Burbank, Cal., Oct. 22.—James J. Jeffries, who won the heavyweight championship from Bob Fitzsimmons at Coney Island, June 9, 1899, with a knockout in the eleventh round, expressed deep sorrow today at the news of the latter's death.

"He was a great old general," he said. "He was one of my best friends and I am sorry he has gone."

Fitzsimmons visited Jeffries on the latter's ranch near here about two months ago when Jeffries said, they "talked over old times."

STATE W. C. T. U. MEET ENDS WITH BIG RALLY

Largest Convention Except One Ever Held by the Union in Indiana.

Anderson, Ind., Oct. 22.—The convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union will end this afternoon in a surprise rally that will be addressed by Mrs. Deborah Knox Livingston, of Bangor, Me., superintendent of the franchise department of the National Woman's Christian Union.

The attendance at the Anderson convention has been the largest, with one exception, in the history of the state. There has been less of temperance talk heard in the meetings, but other activities in women's work have had unusual attention especially along war, suffrage and anti-narcotic lines. E. S. Shumaker, of Indianapolis, who is an honorary member of the W. C. T. U., made the prediction in addressing the convention that it will not be a year until the United States will have wartime prohibition and within three years national prohibition.

In the election of officers Mrs. Culla J. Vaynisher, of Upland, was elected state president; Mrs. Elizabeth Stanley, of Liberty, vice president; Miss Rose Pearce, of Hicksville, recording secretary; Miss Clara Sears, of Indianapolis, treasurer.

Sunday was a big day with the white ribbon guests who are here. In the forenoon W. C. T. U. speakers filled pulpits in all the prominent churches of the city. In the afternoon mass meetings were held at the First Methodist church and Central Christian church addressed by Dr. Frank Loveland, of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Frances Beauchamp, of Lexington, Ky. Richmond has made a strong bid for the 1918 convention and it will be held later in the day where it will be held Terre Haute and Frankfort are also after the meeting.

DEATH CLAIMS PROF. LANE

Well Known Educator Expires Suddenly in an Automobile.

HAD BEEN IN POOR HEALTH SOME TIME

Deceased Had Been Principal of High School Thirty-Six Years.

Professor Chester T. Lane, 65 years old and for thirty-six years principal of the Fort Wayne high school, died suddenly Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock while riding in the family automobile. An attack of heart trouble came upon him unexpectedly while riding a half mile south of Hoagland.

PROF. CHESTER T. LANE.

Professor Lane had been in poor health for some time and two years ago was compelled to retire from the principalship of the high school as a result of heart disease.

Mrs. Lane was driving when her husband was fatally stricken. He expired almost immediately. She drove as rapidly as she could to the office of a physician in Hoagland. The physician pronounced him dead. His body was later brought to the home in this city at 2533 Maple place.

Born in Michigan.

Prof. Lane was born in Jackson county, Mich., October 31, 1851, the son of David and Minerva J. (Crawford) Lane, both of whom were natives of New York. He remained upon the farm of his parents until he was fifteen years old, and then entered the public schools of Jackson, Mich., to which city his parents had moved. He was graduated from the high school in 1869, and in the fall of 1870 entered the university of Michigan, where he was graduated in June, 1874, after completing a full classical course.

Taught at Ypsilanti.

Prof. Lane accepted the principalship of the high school at Ypsilanti, Mich., the next fall, and occupied the position five years, coming to Fort Wayne in the fall of 1879, to accept the principalship of the Fort Wayne high school. His educational work during the decade he had passed in Fort Wayne, had been of the highest order in his department of instruction, and he had become widely known as a successful teacher.

Socially as well as professionally, he occupied a high rank. In politics he was independent of party and very much interested in the progress of reform of the civil service.

The deceased is survived by the widow and the following children: Elmer B. Lane, London, manager of a typewriter company branch in England; Ralph C. Lane, Indianapolis, automobile dealer; Winthrop D. Lane, New York city, Survey magazine; Robert F. Lane, Philadelphia, of the Curtis Publishing company; and Mrs. Herman Bredendorn, of this city. There also are eight grandchildren.

WANTED—Laborers for grading. Apply Wayne Knitting Mills.

TREAT FOR ELKS AT SOCIAL SESSION

Many Noted Speakers Are on Programs Which Open Thursday.

The first of a series of social sessions arranged for this winter will be held Thursday night at the Elk's temple, on West Berry street. George E. Colby, cartoonist, will feature the program, which will be followed by a chicken pie dinner at which Byron H. Hayes will act as toastmaster. The Elks will hold a Halloween dance, which promises to be one of the best dances of the season, Wednesday, October 31.

Other programs to be held later show many interesting features. November 22, Donald E. McGibney, of the French ambulance service, will give a talk on the present war. December 2, Fred VanNuy, state senator, of Anderson, will deliver the memorial address. January 24, Ralph Bincham will be here, and on March 28, Strickland Gillilan will appear. Both of these men are noted humorists. Many other programs have been arranged which will be announced later.

TREAT FOR ELKS AT SOCIAL SESSION

Many Noted Speakers Are on Programs Which Open Thursday.

The first of a series of social sessions arranged for this winter will be held Thursday night at the Elk's temple, on West Berry street. George E. Colby, cartoonist, will feature the program, which will be followed by a chicken pie dinner at which Byron H. Hayes will act as toastmaster. The Elks will hold a Halloween dance, which promises to be one of the best dances of the season, Wednesday, October 31.

Other programs to be held later show many interesting features. November 22, Donald E. McGibney, of the French ambulance service, will give a talk on the present war. December 2, Fred VanNuy, state senator, of Anderson, will deliver the memorial address. January 24, Ralph Bincham will be here, and on March 28, Strickland Gillilan will appear. Both of these men are noted humorists. Many other programs have been arranged which will be announced later.

DESTROY THE RATHOLES AND STARVE THE RATS

of Bombing Planes Can
Choke U-Boats.

By BASIL M. MANLY.
Washington, D. C., Oct. 23.—Big, bomb-dropping airplanes, organized in large squadrons for the daily bombardment of submarine bases and repair stations, are the best U-boat exterminators, Captain Lamberto Vannutelli, naval attaché of the Italian embassy, said today in an exclusive interview for the Daily Sentinel.

"Destroy the rat-holes, and starve the rats," is a graphic summary of Captain Vannutelli's proposal.

Captain Vannutelli spent two years in command of the Italian navy anti-submarine forces, and knows the problem from A to Z.

"If we would bombard each submarine base every day with only 20 planes of the size and explosive-carrying capacity of the Caproni machines, which recently made flights over Washington," said Captain Vannutelli, "we would soon wreck all the docks, repair shops and submarine factories. Without supplies, without repairs, the submarines would be rendered helpless in a few weeks."

"Conceive for yourself the damage that would be done if 20 planes, each carrying at least a ton of high explosive, should drop this day after day on the factories and docks of a single submarine station. And aside from all physical destruction, think of the effect on the workers."

"Could not the submarine bases be protected by anti-aircraft guns?" you ask. To some extent. But the larger the airplanes, the greater its immunity from shell-fire. Our giant Capronis have repeatedly returned safely after being riddled with shrapnel. They have three motors; you may shoot away one, or even two, and she will still be able to fly home. Their wings span more than a hundred feet, and whole sections may be shot away before they are forced to descend.

"How many planes would be necessary? I can speak only of the Italian problem. On the Austro-Hungarian coast are five submarine bases—Trieste, Pola, Sebenico, Fiume, and Cattaro—all within easy flying distance from Italy. With a squadron of 20 for each, there would be 100 planes in each sector. But for daily attacks, essential to success, there must be at least four times the number to provide for repairs and recuperation of pilots. An aerial navy of 400 giant planes for Italy would soon render the submarine bases on the Adriatic practically worthless."

From another source I learn that the German submarines in the Atlantic are operating from not more than half a dozen bases, which at the same rate of consumption would require an aerial navy of only 500 great bombing planes. Suppose we triple this number to allow for the admittedly greater extent and difficulty of such bases as Wilhelmshaven and Kiel, we still find that only 1,500 planes would be required to pull the teeth of the submarines.

The development of an allied aerial fleet of 2,000 great airplanes during the next few months would require, in the opinion of experts, nothing more than co-operation and careful planning.

WORKMAN HURT WHEN A DITCH CAVES IN

Sam Shoup Meets With Serious Accident at Garrett.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Garrett, Ind., Oct. 22.—Sam Shoup, who was employed by the city in piping steam heat into a building in this city, was injured when the ditch in which he was working caved in, injuring his shoulder very badly. He was rushed to the hospital and later and X-ray picture was taken to determine the extent of his injuries.

Suffered Terribly From a Burning Sensation in His Stomach.

"Last summer I had a bad spell of indigestion that lasted about ten days. There was a terrible burning sensation and a good deal of gas in my stomach. I suffered terribly at times, being unable to get relief until I took a friend's advice and began using Chamberlain's Tablets. The relief from the first was very apparent, and by taking only half a bottle of them I was cured." writes G. F. Parkhurst, Cicero, N. Y.—Advertisement.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Columbia City, Ind., Oct. 22.—In a letter to his father, Henry A. Phend, of this city, Victor Phend, now at Camp Zachary Taylor, Ky., states he has been transferred to the engineer's division, and may soon be offered the boss carpenter's position at a salary of $81 per month. Last Monday fourteen men from the Seventy-third company, which formerly held the greatest part of the Whitley county contingent, were sent to Hattiesburg, Miss., and three of the men, Walter Wotzel, Walter Miller and Floyd Hiler, went also to Hattiesburg this week, and the other day Lee Nichols, of South Whitley, with twenty-five others from the Seventy-third company were sent there. The supply sergeants are all being retained at Camp Zachary Taylor, and Fred Tontz and Keller Sheeler, of this city, are among the latter.

Hopes Women Will Adopt This Habit As Well As Men

Glass of hot water each morning helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Happy, bright, alert—vigorous and vivacious—a good clear skin, a natural, rosy complexion and freedom from illness are assured only by clean, healthy blood. If only every woman and likewise every man could realize the wonders of the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place.

Instead of the thousands of sickly, anemic-looking men, women and girls with pasty, or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nervous wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking, each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten years of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.—Advertisement.

"MOVIE" EXHIBITORS DISPLAY PATRIOTISM

Advertise Free Uncle Sam's Need of Thousands of Stenographers.

Washington, Oct. 22.—The United States civil service commission has received an expression of the patriotism of practically all the exhibitors of motion pictures in the United States. The government is in need of thousands of typewriter operators and stenographers of both sexes for war work in Washington, and through its 3,000 local boards of examiners in that many cities, the commission requested the owners and managers of motion picture theaters to allow free of charge an announcement on their screens of this need of the government. The refusals were so few as to be negligible. Not more than a hundred of the 20,000 odd exhibitors who were approached declined to render to the people the service asked. Even these can not be charged with disloyalty; most of them held decided views as to their duty to their patrons who pay for entertainment only. The only criticism of the government came from three exhibitors who declined on the ground that it was proposed to place a tax on motion picture tickets. One owner asked remuneration in the sum of 25 cents a week, and another stipulated that he was to be relieved of any responsibility for damage to the slides furnished by the government. The slides cost less than 10 cents apiece. Almost without exception the "movie" men were not only willing, but were even eager to serve the government in the manner requested. This hearty response from 20,000 business men representative of every part of the country has a striking significance. It is interesting to note in this connection that the estimated daily attendance at motion picture shows in the United States is ten million. This allows an average of 500 for each house.

LIBERTY LOAN BONDS SAFER THAN STOCKING

Secretary Daniels Appeals to Iroquois Club in Chicago.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 22.—Declaring that the Liberty Loan affords a splendid opportunity for the removal of the family savings from the stock to a safer place, Secretary Daniels in an address before the Iroquois club here today made a stirring appeal for the success of the second offering.

"Money is plentiful in America," declared the secretary. "The banks are overflowing with it; the stock exchanges are bulging out with it. That depository is not the safest. I would advise all who use that ancient depository to take every dollar out and put it in Liberty Bonds."

"I wish every dollar in America was on legs, so that it had to march up the street and ride on the street cars to get home. Then we could see the dollars and enlist them in the selective draft. Under the law we have the right to do so, but the first Liberty Loan was responded to so cheerfully and so fully that there was no necessity and there will be no necessity now."

"Just as truly as a republic can lay its hand on a young man and send him to France in the trenches, so it can and will, if necessary, lay its hand on every dollar in America."

ILL FATED CAR IN SECOND ACCIDENT

The delivery auto which struck and fatally injured John Irwin, St. Mary's avenue, former city street sweeper, several weeks ago, figured in a second accident Monday afternoon when its new driver was hurled from his seat and seriously hurt.

As on the former tragic occasion the driver of the machine reported that the brakes on the car locked, causing the auto to run wild.

Fred Ream, 636 Huffman street, was in charge of the machine Monday. At the intersection of St. Joe boulevard and Forrest avenue Ream lost control of his car. The machine bounded over the curb and struck a fence. Ream was thrown from the auto and is critically hurt. He was removed to a hospital.

MAKING LONG FLIGHT.

Newport News, Va., Oct. 22.—Lieut. Resnati, in his big Caproni airplane, left Langley field, near Hampton, at 10:35 a. m. on a flight to Mineola, N. Y. Resnati used a Caproni biplane and took eight passengers. Two other Italian airplanes, each carrying one passenger, started ahead of the big Caproni, the first a Fiat machine, piloted by Lieut. Ballerini, leaving at 10 a. m., and the other a Pomilio machine, driven by Lieut. Ballodi, starting at 10:10 a. m.

MILLIONS USE IT TO STOP A COLD

"Pape's Cold Compound" Ends Severe Colds or Grippe in Few Hours.

Relief comes instantly. A dose taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end grippe misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs. It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages in the head, stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness. Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffing! Ease your throbbing head! Nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only a few cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, causes no inconvenience. Be sure you get the genuine—Advertisement.

LIBERTY LOAN BONDS SAFER THAN STOCKING

Secretary Daniels Appeals to Iroquois Club in Chicago.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 22.—Declaring that the Liberty Loan affords a splendid opportunity for the removal of the family savings from the stock to a safer place, Secretary Daniels in an address before the Iroquois club here today made a stirring appeal for the success of the second offering.

"Money is plentiful in America," declared the secretary. "The banks are overflowing with it; the stock exchanges are bulging out with it. That depository is not the safest. I would advise all who use that ancient depository to take every dollar out and put it in Liberty Bonds."

"I wish every dollar in America was on legs, so that it had to march up the street and ride on the street cars to get home. Then we could see the dollars and enlist them in the selective draft. Under the law we have the right to do so, but the first Liberty Loan was responded to so cheerfully and so fully that there was no necessity and there will be no necessity now."

"Just as truly as a republic can lay its hand on a young man and send him to France in the trenches, so it can and will, if necessary, lay its hand on every dollar in America."

POLITICAL TINGE IN SCHOOL STRIKE

New Phases, One of Them, Economic, Develop in New York.

New York, Oct. 22.—Between 10,000 and 15,000 boys and girls from the public schools in Brownsville, a Jewish section in Brooklyn, refused to enter their class rooms this morning and paraded through the streets with banners bearing inscriptions reading: "We want socialism," "We want sugar," "Down with the high cost of living," and "Down with the Gary system."

All police reserves in the district were summoned to the school houses. While the demonstration was looked upon as a continuation of the disorders which attended the children's protests against the Gary system of instruction in various parts of the city last week, the school authorities and politicians were interested today in the economic developments in the KING GEORGE DROPS A HINT.

London, Oct. 22.—The king and queen paid a surprise visit yesterday afternoon to one of the bombed districts of London and talked for two hours with victims. Speaking to a local clergyman, the king said: "I wish people who are against retaliation could see this wreckage."

MEN IN ARMS

38,000,000

Panama also have small forces under arms.

Military experts do not regard these figures as entirely accurate, but believe they represent in round numbers the comparative strength of the contending armies as published recently. The war department has many confidential reports on the forces of the allies and considerable data concerning enemy armies, but this information is not made public for military reasons.

Germany and Austria have made every effort to conceal the precise number of their armies, but careful estimates of allied military intelligence departments have placed the total at about ten millions with Germany's force more than double Austria's.

GREAT ARMY OF TWO MILLIONS IN MIGHTY CHARGE

made by President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor.

"The world is engaged in a life and death struggle to determine whether imperialism and autocracy or freedom and democracy shall prevail," said Mr. Gompers. "The United States and her allies are contending for the latter. The man power and the wealth of our country are pledged to make that contention good."

"Many of our men are in France. Others are being prepared to go over there, offering the supreme sacrifice, if necessary, in defense of the great principles for which the democracies of the old world are fighting."

All must render aid.

"It behooves every man and every woman to furnish the means by which all the needs of our fighting forces shall be supplied and the only way these needs of our fighting forces shall be supplied and the only way these needs can be met is by money."

The government of the United States has issued a new liberty loan bond. It is by all means the safest investment which can be made. The wealth and the honor of the government of the people of the United States are behind it. In addition there is four per cent interest on the investment. To buy a bond is not sacrificing or giving anything to the government. It is simply loaning the money.

"I appeal to all my countrymen, particularly to the men of labor of America, to do all in their power to buy a liberty bond and suggest that the purchase of the bond be made on Wednesday, Oct. 24."

Apathy in Large Sections.

The closing week of the campaign is being hampered by apathy on the part of certain rural communities in the middle west and south and by reports of deliberate efforts on the part of the treasury department to make the returns appear less than the figures actually show. The department has called attention to these reports and issued an emphatic denial, adding that only the actual figures had been given out.

The campaign will probably reach its climax on Wednesday, proclaimed Liberty Day by President Wilson, when a nation-wide celebration will be held with speakers, including many of the country's most prominent public men. It is expected to prove a banner day in subscriptions to the loan.

NEW YORK KEYED UP.

New York, Oct. 22.—With financial machinery geared into high speed the New York federal reserve district today set out to sell $350,000,000 worth of Liberty Bonds before subscriptions close on Saturday in order to complete the district's quota of $1,500,000,000. Despite the discouraging progress of the first three weeks of the drive, which produced only $850,000,000, predictions were made today that New York would meet the test. In the last few banking hours of the campaign Guy Emerson, director of publicity, says he expects subscriptions to pour in at the rate of one million dollars a minute.

a ten days' supply, this order being intended to prevent hoarding and speculation, the last factor being practically eliminated by the fixed price.

The cause of the shortage primarily is the war. The Cuban growers have been called on to supply most of Europe, which has almost depleted the island's supply. Its new crop will be in the market in December, which means the American grown beet sugar must relieve the shortage in the United States.

BRITISH PREMIER IS UNABLE TO SEE AN END OF GREAT WAR

airmen, says a statement from the admiralty today.

Petrograd, Sunday, Oct. 21.—All Russian naval units except observation elements have succeeded in getting out of Moon sound without losses and are protecting the northern entrance to the sound, the marine department announced in an official statement. In the operations in the Gulf of Riga, a Russian submarine sank one German transport and is believed to have damaged, if not sunk, a German dreadnought, at which two torpedoes were fired. The communication reads in part: "Despite the difficult conditions and the enemy's measures to prevent our sorties from Moon sound we succeeded without loss and in perfect order in evacuating not only the bulk of our military forces, but also the whole of the naval installation in Moon sound, notably the transports and smaller craft."

Both groups of attacking troops scored early successes. Paris announced that all their objectives were attained by the French troops, while Field Marshal Haig reported satisfactory progress for the British.

The operation apparently is aimed at bringing the left flank of the allied advance somewhat further forward as a support to the center where the wedge has been driven farthest into the German front.

British naval airmen who raided German bases in Belgium and conducted scouting operations over the enemy's territory yesterday brought off forced down six German airplanes.

Russian naval units in the northern part of the Gulf of Riga have outwitted the superior German forces and have escaped from Moon sound, where they apparently had been bottled up after the engagement in and about the sound last week.
